The Sunset Trail

As sunset brings its peace each day—the time men love the best—
So Life gives to us Twilight's Hour to dream, to pray, to rest;
In youthful years we hold in dread the thought of growing old,
We hate to think of faces worn, and silver hair, once gold;
But when the years the shadows bring before the journey ends,
We find that God makes Old Age sweet and beauty to it lends;
For memories do not grow old, but sweeten with the years,
And as we turn our faces Home, they light the way and cheer;

We see through different eyes the works of God and nature then,
Passed by unseen in busy years which youth exacts of men;
The birds and flowers, trees and sky, the gifts of Mother Earth,
The kindly deeds, the love of friends, we come to know their worth;
We live again years which our babes made happy with their charms,
When our dear boy and girl, now grown, place their babes in our arms;
Less quick to judge, swift to forgive, more time for God alone,
To better know and love Him as we walk the road toward Home;

To see reflected in our own of us some little part,
To know our work will still go on by those dear to our heart;
To know when Twilight's Hour comes, our best we tried to give,
To make the world for all we met a sweeter place to live;
And after Sunset—then comes Home! where God and loved ones rest,
The ones who were our very own, the ones we loved the best;
When all life's little tasks are done, our coming they will hail,
And make us know how sweet is Home beyond the Sunset Trail.

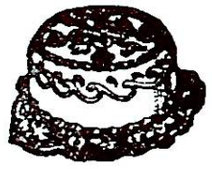

WILLIAM F. SHERIDAN.

To Our Parishioners:

We cannot urge too strongly the necessity of patronizing the advertisers in the Gesu Parish Monthly Calendar, and of returning the same generous support they are giving to us. In other words, buy your goods from the firms that are using our pages to address you, and thus helping us.

These advertisers with us are live, energetic business men, thoroughly responsible, and know what it means to have their names placed prominently before this parish.

REV. THOMAS J. HIGGINS, S. J., Rector.

The Gesu Notre Dame Alumnae

The Gesu Notre Dame Alumnae is preparing its basketball teams for the first games of the season, although the opponments have not yet been announced. Under the direction of the two coaches, the senior and junior teams have been practicing each week.

The Junior division of the Alumnae held a social during the last month in the club rooms. The party was conducted by Jeanne Anderson, president of the senior group, assisted by several juniors. The social was highly successful and several others are being planned for the future. The Christmas Party was held on December 23, to the enjoyment of all. Quite a number of articles of food, etc., were brought by the members to furnish baskets for the poor.

The Gesu Young Men's Sodality

To the Catholic Youth of eighteen years and upwards, the Gesu Young Men's Sodality offers many advantages both spiritual and temporal. As Members of the Sodality, they will fortify their knowledge of the Doctrines of Holy Mother Church under the proper guidance of the Reverend Moderator.

In order to renew, or refreshen the Catholic Doctrines which they the Sodalists learned while at elementary school, a Question and Answer Box has been instituted by the Spiritual Director and has proved absorbingly instructive as well as interesting.

While the Sodality is first, or primarily a religious organization devoted to the Mother of God to the Glory of Her Son, yet the Sodality cultivates a pleasant social life.

Since it has been customary to conduct a social at least once a year in aid of the Sodality, a social in the form of a dance will be held on Friday evening the 29th of January.

New Year's Greetings

"The grace of Our Lord Jesus Christ and the charity of God and the communion of the Holy Ghost be with you all." This is the wish which St. Paul addressed to the Christians of Corinth (II Cor. xii, 13); it is the wish which the Fathers of the Church of the Gesu extend to all the members of the congregation as their solemn New Year's felicitations.

May God be with you with the abundance of His grace and the fulness of His love and may He infuse into your souls the richest gifts of His Holy Spirit!

May He bless you and bless your children and your homes!

May He bless your labors and all your undertakings and bring them to a successful issue in accordance with His Holy and Adorable Will!

May He be with you in prosperity and abundance, that you may not abuse the gifts of His bounty!

May He be with you in sorrow, in sickness and poverty, giving you strength and patience to bear them with resignation.

May sin never find entrance into your hearts and may the grace of God be the brightest ornament of your souls!

A HAPPY NEW YEAR TO ALL!

Gesu Parish Improvement Association

THE GESU PARISH IMPROVEMENT ASSOCIATION extends to all its members and the members of the Parish sincere greetings for a Happy and Blessed Christmas and a New Year filled with spiritual and temporal blessings. As we look around at the results of the first six months' work, we find many things to be grateful for, many homes improved within and without, many undesirable conditions improved or overcome by our concerted effort, a spirit of confidence in our aim which invites new recruits to the lines of duty.

If you have observed the lines of machines and the crowds of keen-looking men and women crowding into our halls on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, from all sections of the city, to attend the courses offered by our Fathers in the evening classes of St. Joseph's School for Social Sciences, you have probably realized with greater clearness than ever before, just how important a part in this city's life our beloved parish plays and it makes one feel proud to know that one is a part of its very life. More than a thousand men and women from all walks of life and of all ages, are coming here weekly, under great difficulties in many cases, to partake of the instruction which none can give quite so well as our beloved Jesuit Fathers.

We who are blessed with membership in the parish and have the opportunity of hearing those instructions several times a week from the pulpit, with little inconvenience to ourselves, fail to fully appreciate our gift. Likewise, we fail to appreciate the efforts which our Spiritual Director, Father Maguire, and our President, Dr. Stokes, have made in our behalf. We fail to appreciate them when we fail to give our whole-hearted support to the cause for which they are laboring so constantly. The results which are visible to the eye, such as improvements, are probably exceeded by those results which are not discernible, but which nevertheless are the direct result of their work. These invisible results are the prevention of various undesirable conditions — an undesirable taproom here — an objectionable enterprise elsewhere — such things as would have been brought very strongly to our notice, had they been permitted to take place, but which by their absence are inconspicuous. These are the accomplishments, however, which require the greatest and most difficult work, and this work has been done almost entirely by these officers.

Therefore, we urge our members to put forth their continued efforts towards the little difficulties to be overcome in each particular neighborhood. You know better than anyone else what is to be desired by way of improvement in YOUR OWN BLOCK. Do your part towards making that improvement possible, by attending the weekly meetings as often as possible, reporting to the committee just what you have to suggest, and rest assured there is a way and a means to bring about that improvement, provided YOU do YOUR PART. Remember the slogan of 1917-18, "DO YOUR BIT," "HELP NOW." Make that our slogan for the Parish Improvement Association. Help now, that you may enjoy the results sooner. United effort means great accomplishment—immediate effort means earlier accomplishment. Have YOU DONE YOUR BIT? If not, why not? Make your New Year's Resolution for 1937—"I shall do my part."

A Bright and Happy New Year is bound to be yours if you keep that resolution.

St. Joseph's College

Address of the Rev. Joseph F. X. Harrison, S.J., Station WIP, Saturday, December 12, 1936.

It is a far cry indeed from the present handsome pile of modern Gothic buildings at Fifty-fourth Street and City Line Avenue to the humble quarters on Willings Alley, not far from Fourth and Walnut, where on September 15, 1851, some thirty or forty boys, the first students of St. Joseph's College, began their higher studies. That their minds might be raised to their Lord and Creator from the very first hour of their collegiate life they were led over to the church for High Mass and the singing of a hymn to the Holy Ghost, the Spirit of Wisdom. That same afternoon they attended classes from two to five o'clock. It was all done simply and unostentatiously, but it was an historic day, not only for St. Joseph's College but for the Catholic Church in Philadelphia. It marked the consummation of the ambitions of a century and a quarter and it was the inception of a work that is still expanding and flourishing after eighty-five years.

The first courses of studies included the traditional classical course, but even in those early days the Jesuits were sufficiently abreast of the times to sense the demand for a mercantile, or as it has come to be known, a commercial course and provision for such a course was made from the start.

The school day began at 8 o'clock with Mass. Classes began at 8.30 and were dismissed at 5 in the evening. However, that poor human nature might not be burdened beyond its strength there was a break of two and a half hours in the middle of the day. Tuesday and Thursday afternoons were holidays. The hours for home study as stated in the regulations were from six to eight in the evening and from six to seven in the morning.

During the course of the first year, 97 boys were received into the college. The tuition was twelve dollars and a half per quarter of eleven weeks. Since this was no inconsiderable sum in those ante-bellum days, only families in comfortable circumstances could afford to send their children to St. Joseph's and the early records contain the names of the families then most prominent in Philadelphia Society.

From the beginning the spiritual welfare of the students was admirably well cared for. The first organization formed in the college was the Sodality of the Blessed Virgin into which the members were received on the feast of Our Lady's Immaculate Conception, December 8, 1851. Mass was of daily obligation, confession and communion were prescribed regularly. Prayers in the chapel were said on specified days in the week, general communion of all the students was held on the greater feasts of the year and the first retreat for the students was held in the autumn of 1851.

The historical drama, "Regulus," was presented as part of the Commencement Exercises in 1854, and marked the beginning of the excellent tradition in dramatics which St. Joseph's has maintained to the present day.

The Commencement in 1855, was the occasion of the first of those public debates which are a part of Jesuit collegiate tradition.

Being a small college, St. Joseph's in those first days gave opportunity for a homely, friendly spirit between faculty and student body, a spirit which has persisted, partly at least because St. Joseph's is still a relatively small and select institution and intends to remain so.

So brief a talk cannot detail the subsequent history of St. Joseph's—its expansion demanding a larger and more commodious plant—its new quarters opened in 1856 at Filbert and Juniper Streets, on the present site of the Evening Bulletin Building—its still later prosperous establishment at Seventeenth and Stiles Streets, where today St. Joseph's College High School stretches its arms to gather in boys from every corner of Philadelphia and its environs, boys whose love for their school is its most impressive advertisement, and wherein the evenings the S. J. C. School of Social Sciences, with its eleven hundred adult students and its faculty of more than forty is marshalled against Communism and other forces which threaten the life of our Country and our Church.

It is on the present St. Joseph's College, my dear friends that I would dwell this evening, for it is this modern St. Joseph's which I know, most intimately and which is most dear to my heart—this twentieth century Catholic college, which combines in sweet and gracious harmony the best traditions of the age old "Ratio Studiorum" with the modifications demanded by the tremendous advances in the arts and sciences which have marked these latter days. This product of the indefatigable labors and sacrifices of the Jesuits of an earlier era, of Fr. Joseph Greaton, Fr. Barbelin, Fr. Villiger, Fr. Patrick Dooley, Fr. William Clark, Fr. Charles Lyons, Fr. Albert Brown, who saw the fruition of the dreams of the others in his regime, of all these and the host of others who labored with them and under their direction, this magnificant monument to the burning zeal of the late Fr. Matthew Fortier, who in 1923 conducted the drive for funds which made its erection possible, provides a fitting home for the Jesuit plan of education, which aims more at formation than the mere imparting of information, at the full and harmonious development of the intellectual and physical and moral powers of man.

For the Jesuit Fathers who conduct St. Joseph's College believe that learning is an instrument of education, not its end and that the end is culture and the attaining of intellectual maturity combined with the loftiest ideals of conduct.

Therefore it is that such studies, sciences and languages, are chosen as will effectively further the end proposed. Four complete courses of study are open to the student—though a conviction that the wisdom that comes from experience should be at the disposal of the immature high school graduate in making an intelligent choice inspires the dean, Fr. Richard McKeon and his staff to advise the tender fledglings who present their curricular problems, as to which course gives greatest promise for this particular boy.

This experience has shown that the classical, or Bachelor of Arts course with its insistence on general culture, is for most boys the best preparation for life. This conclusion is amply supported by the increasing number of professional schools which are showing a preference for admission to those presenting an A. B. degree.

For some boys however, the straight science course is recommended and the excellently equipped laboratories in Biology, Chemistry and Physics, presided over by Fr. Shaffrey, Fr. Brown and Dr. Weber provide every opportunity for the most complete and scholarly scientific training.

For others the Business Administration course, or the one in Journalism is suggested. And each of these departments has produced men of outstanding accomplishment in their respective fields.

The students in all courses are gathered in their Junior and Senior years for a thorough course in the principles of Scholastic Philosophy, where they are trained to think closely and accurately and critically. Indeed the faculty of St. Joseph's College regard this course as perhaps the most important contribution which it makes to the students' preparation for life.

Religious training, needless to say, permeates every department of the college. St. Joseph's is predominantly a Catholic college for Catholic boys, though the success achieved by its graduates in professional schools has led vast numbers of those of other faiths to apply for admission to its classes and a limited number of such boys with good records has been received.

The Sodality of the Blessed Virgin, as it was the first organization of the original St. Joseph's College, so it remains the most revered of the extra-curricular activities today—and the fact that half the students have voluntarily assumed the extra obligations it implies is a testimony of their reverence for it. Among its most praiseworthy enterprises is the sending forth of its sons to teach the first truths of the Faith to Italian children and to Negro children in various missions about the city.

The Villiger and Greatonian Societies offer splendid opportunities for the embryo orator to expand his talents. Budding literateurs are encouraged by the Crimson and Gray, literary quarterly, while The Hawk, student newspaper, a valuable adjunct to the Journalism course, gives impetus and direction to those who prefer to write so "that he who runs may read." The Hawk is fortunate in having as advisor Mr. Leo Riordan, well-known sports writer of The Evening Ledger and an Alumnus of St. Joseph's.

The Cap and Bells Dramatic Club, founded almost a decade ago by Fr. Timothy Coughlin has piled success upon success and last year presented its major production, "The First Legion," before twelve thousand people, in eleven performances in three states. It has five time won the Jesuit Inter-collegiate One-Act-Play-Contest in the past six years and has received awards in several other competitions.

More recent organizations are the Hilaire Belloc Historical Society, the Chemists' Club and the Philosophy Academy providing a more rounded treatment of the subjects indicated than the ordinary routine of the class-room will permit.

The recent athletic prowess of the college needs no words from me, as the local sports writers do its justice daily in the pages of the press. Suffice it so say that the football team which has just closed its season, was the best since 1928, and made its followers dance for joy by piling up one hundred and nineteen points in five and a half games without being scored on.

Victory is sweetest to one who has suffered in its attainment. St. Joseph's has suffered much in its eight-five years of gradual advance; she has suffered from competition with those whose endowments were abundant and from the coldness of those who from ignorance or malice, condemn all Catholic education as inferior—but her day of victory has come, and while it would be untrue to say that for her life begins at eighty-five, the full truth is that she is more vigorious today than ever before and is proud to be able to offer to the Catholic boys of Philadelphia unsurpassed advantages in the securing of higher education—in the moulding of men for the battle of life.

Mothers

In Heaven I will surely see
Our Lady face to face,
And talk with her and walk with her
In God's revealing grace.

I shall not speak of Bethlehem,
Cana or Calvary;
Nor ask about the lonely years
She waited to be free.

We'll talk as happy mothers talk,
For I've had children, too.
I'll get authentic, first-hand news
Of how the Christ-child grew!

Feasts of the Month

NEW YEAR'S DAY—JANUARY 1

Not because it is New Year's Day, but because it is the Feast of Our Lord's Circumcision, the octave of His Nativity, the day on which the Holy Name was given to Him, is this first day of the year a holyday of obligation. Because He humbles Himself in the Circumcision God gave Him a Name that is above every name. It was by His precious Blood that He was to save His people, and this is His first-blood-shedding. Hence it is that He receives today the name of Jesus, that is Saviour.

But there is another object that shares the love and devotion of the faithful on this great solemnity. This object is Mary, the Mother of God. The holy Church of Rome used formerly to say two Masses on the first of January; one was for the octave of the birth of Jesus Christ, the other was in honor of Mary. She now unites the two intentions in one sacrifice, in the same manner as in the rest of this day's office, she unites together acts of adoration of the Son, and the expressions of admiration for, and confidence in the Mother. We then, as dutiful children of the Church, must today pour forth all the love of our hearts for the Virgin Mother, and rejoice with her in the exceeding happiness she feels at having given birth to Him who is at once her Lord and ours. We should ask her to obtain for us a greater knowledge of her Son, and a greater zeal to extend His kingdom, first in our own hearts, and then in the hearts of other men.

FEAST OF THE HOLY NAME OF JESUS—JANUARY 3

While the Church at large will be celebrating the feast of the Holy Name as one of the great festivals of the new year, the members of this parish should look upon this day in the light of a family celebration, and as one belonging to them in a special manner, for the Feast of the Holy Name is the patronal Feast of our church and parish. For Gesu is the Italian for JESUS, and many of us can remember the painting, that used to hang over our main altar, representing the occasion when that name was conferred on the Infant God according to the Jewish rite.

The name, conceived in Heaven, was brought to earth by one of Heaven's angels, but it was only at the Circumcision, at a time when Christ shed His blood for the first time, that the name was actually given. Holy in its origin, holy indeed in its reception, we feel the truth of the words read by the priest in the Mass of the Holy Name. The keynote of this touching commemoration is sounded in the prayerful tribute of St. Paul which the Church has incorporated in the Introit of the Mass of the day: "In the Name of Jesus," enjoined the great Apostle of the Gentiles, "let every knee bow, of those that are in heaven, on earth, and under the earth: and let every tongue confess that the Lord Jesus Christ is the glory of God the Father." Through the entire Mass the single theme is the Holy Name, what It signifies, Its power, and how men have loved It.

Through the love of God the Father for His only Begotten Son, Whom the Angel named Jesus, the Church pleads in the Collect of the Mass for all who trust for their salvation in the matchless efficacy of the Holy Name. "O God, Who didst constitute Thine only Begotten Son the Saviour of mankind, and didst bid that He be called Jesus; mercifully grant that we who venerate His Holy Name on earth may also be filled with the enjoyment of Him in Heaven."

The Babe of Bethlehem received a Name borne from Heaven to earth by an angel . His name must be something more than a mere title of address: His Name must signify the Messianic mission to fulfill which He had been born. It signifies all that Our Lord Himself signified: The Name Jesus means Our Lord's Divinity and Sacred Humanity, It means His teaching and example, His ideals and His purposes; by the Holy Name the Church understands Our Divine Lord's Precepts and Commandments, and the Sacraments which restore and confirm supernatural life. When the Prophet Isaias was announcing Him Who was to be born, he called Him "The wonderful, the counsellor, the God of strength, the Father of the world to come, the Prince of Peace." Thus expressing beforehand all the greatness implied in the name Jesus. He is called "wonderful" because in one person He joined the Divine and human natures. He is called "Counsellor of the Almighty" because in His quality of Jesus, He is admitted in the council of the Holy Trinity, there to plead the cause of the elect. He is called "the God of strength" because to save us He conquered death, crushed the power of Satan, and destroyed sin. Jesus is "the father of the world to come" because, by His death, He became the father of all the elect. He is "the Prince of Peace" because, by His Blood, He reconciled heaven and earth. All these glorious titles given Him by the Scriptures are so many rays springing from the same glorious name of Jesus.

Wonderful Power of the Name of Jesus

Of the power of that name, who may fitly speak? Listen to what St. Bernard wrote on this very point: "The Name of Jesus" he says, "is light, is food, is remedy" . . . light to him who announces It, food to him who meditates upon It, a sweet and all healing balm to him who invokes It. How was the light of faith spread so rapidly over the world? By the preaching of that Holy Name, with the Holy Name as a beacon light, the world emerged from the darkness of infidelity to embrace the light of faith. It is not only light, it is food also. Do you not feel stronger whenever you reflect on all that is implied in that Name? Is there in the world a better food for the heart and mind? Is there anything like it to restore power to our senses, to give nerve to virtue and true vigor to pious and chaste affection? The name of Jesus is honey to the mouth, music to the ear, and joy to the heart . . . That Holy Name is the great remedy against dejection and the other evils that affect the soul. Are you disheartened? Let the Name of Jesus be in your heart, let it be on your lips; scarcely have you breathed It, when the cloud vanishes and peace is restored. Have you been guilty of grievous offence? Are you on the verge of despair? Call on the Name of Jesus and hope revives . . . By it all temptation is overcome, every passion is subdued. O my soul, thou hast an universal remedy in that Holy Name of Jesus, that name so sweet and so powerful."

To assure ourselves of the power of that Name, under the guidance of St. Luke, let us betake ourselves to that portico of the Temple called beautiful and watch the line of worshippers entering therein, noting how two Galilean fisherman are halted by the petition of the poor cripple, resting his maimed limb on the hard unyielding stone. All attentive let us hear the reply, "Silver and gold have I none; but what I have I give thee; in the Name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth arise and walk." Well does the great St. Leo exclaim, "What is more sublime than this humility, what more wealthy than this poverty? He cannot help him with money, but in the strength of the Holy Name of Jesus he can supply the defects of nature. He who was brought forth from his mother's womb a cripple, by a word from the Apostle, that word the Holy Name of Jesus, was made sound. He gave him not the coin stamped with the image of Caesar, but he restored in him the image of Christ.

Oh the power of that saving Name! Out of the fulness of this power not only was he relieved, to whom the power of walking was given, but those five thousand also, who by reason of this miraculous cure and the exhortation of the Apostle that day received the gift of faith.

What Shall We Do To Honor That Holy Name?

Realize the meaning of that Holy Name, and then give vent to the feelings of your heart. Gratitude first . . . it was for your salvation that the Son of God took the name of Jesus . . . that name recalls to our mind the labors, the humiliations and the sufferings He endured for you. It recalls to our minds all the mysteries of His life and death, and the Divine graces that came to us through His mediation. Confidence next . . . in Jesus we find the most tender of parents, the most faithful of friends, and the most powerful protector. His Name is a terror to the demon himself for when it is pronounced he must take to flight. At last, love: it would be very little to pronounce that Name with our lips, if our heart, the mind and the soul did not join to do homage to the Holy Name. St. Paul always had that Holy Name on his lips and under his pen, and the way in which he has spoken and written of It shows plainly what a love he bore the sweet Name of Jesus.

Finally, the great Apostle suggests another most excellent way to honor the Holy Name of Jesus: "Whatsoever you do in word or work, do all in the Name of our Lord Jesus Christ, giving thanks to God and the Father by Him." (Col. 3: 17). Let us do all for the glory of the Redeemer as long as He did all for our salvation. Let us thank the Father through His Son, since He gave us all through Him. After the example of holy Church, let us show reverence to that Holy Name whenever we pronounce it or hear it pronounced, and let us make our own the words which are read at the end of the Mass of today: "Almighty, eternal God, Who hast created and redeemed us, favorably regard our petitions and vouchsafe to accept with a clement and benign countenance the sacrifice of the saving Victim, which we have offered to Thy majesty in honor of the name of Thy Son, our Lord Jesus Christ, that Thy grace being infused into us, under the glorious name of Jesus, by the title of eternal predestination, we may rejoice that our names are written in heaven, through the same Christ, our Lord. Amen."

Reading the above beautiful prayer in the Mass of the Feast of the Holy Name of Jesus. How is it possible, we are forced to ask, that men and women can so forget the sanctity of that name, as to use it with irreverence; that even children, whose tongues should lisp that name only in prayer, are heard to use it with thoughtlessness or in anger. There is a praiseworthy society in the Church, whose main object is to suppress, as far as it can, the irreverent use of that Holy Name. All praise to its members, who openly make this profession in the face of the world where so little respect is shown to the most sacred things; whose Holy Communions are offered to repair the insults offered our Blessed Lord by the profanation of His Name

If we but knew how pleasing to the heart of Christ are little acts of reparation, we should, when the Holy Name is uttered irreverently within our hearing, keep that good old Catholic custom of bowing our heads, and to ourselves repeat that same name with respect. A moment will come when to utter that Holy Name of Jesus with the greatest love will be our best hope of a happy eternity.

THE EPIPHANY OF OUR LORD—JANUARY 6

"There came Wise Men from the East to Jesusalem, saying. . . We have seen His star in the East and are come to adore Him. (St. Matt. II, 2).

The Epiphany, though it has ceased to be a holday of obligation, is surely one of the sweetest of all our solemnities, and singularly beautiful in the mysteries which it commemorates. There is romance of the most thrilling kind in the story of the sudden appearance of the Wise Men in Jerusalem, the commotion they excited in the court of Herod and throughout the city, the reappearance of the wondrous star, and the humble and enlightened homage which these eastern Princes paid to the Divine Infant, when at length they found Him in His Mother's arms in the little town of Bethlehem.

Is it not a story to inspire us, to revivify our faith and charity, this story of the journey of the three kings to the manger of the Divine Babe? They followed the star, though it led them away from their own country, through desert places into stranger lands. They followed on, not faltering, not complaining, unwearied by the toilsome way, steadily, fearlessly, tirelessly onward, nor turned aside from their quest to follow wandering fires.

And their faith, indeed, was doubly tried for not only was the journey long and weary, but when the goal should be nigh at hand, their one trust, the beacon that had shone low and bright in the western heavens by day and by night their star of hope, failed them and lo! vainly they scanned the heavens. Mysterious and silent, even as it came, it had gone. Did they falter now? Did they turn back to their home and friends? No. If the divine guidance was withdrawn—so their faith worked out the problem—they were to find through human means the King they sought. And scarce had they done so, when their fidelity received it recompense. As they leave the audience of Herod and the High Priests, and turn their faces towards Bethlehem, their heavenly light again beams upon them, beckoning them on, on to the feet of Jesus.

It is no hard thing to hear what these holy kings would teach us in this glad Christmastide. "Follow the star," they say. "Turn not aside after the will-o-the-wisp that would lure you from your path." Our star is our ideal of right and duty—incarnate in the Babe Divine, Who stretches forth from the Tabernacle His tiny arms to us, who whispers in the silence of our hearts what He will that we do, that we too may come to His feet and, offering our gifts and receiving His blessing, may, as did the wise men, return to our daily toil " by another way," and a higher one and a holier one than that which we traveled before we followed the star to the feet of Jesus.

THE FEAST OF THE HOLY FAMILY—JANUARY 10

If we may believe at least some of the family scandals described in the morning and evening papers, the divorce suits, the jealousies and envy and meanness in the sacred family circle, if we may believe a little of the gossip about the neighbor's quarrels and disagreements in the home, if we may believe the serious utterances of Pontiffs and Bishops and earnest preachers in our pulpits, then it seems the modern family stands in sad contrast with the example of the Holy Family of Nazareth.

We may, perhaps, blame the modern conditions of life, the modern age of progress, the auto, the movie, the World War, the fashion and youth of today—but in such a condemnation we should only say that the principle of purity and justice and charity of Christ, eternal principles of the divine law, are for some strange oversight on the part of God not made for this present age. Or, we may blame the poverty of this world, the poverty of our own family, if so, we say that the Christ Child in our Christmas has no right to life; for the Holy Family was poor, they were of mediocre means and could not associate with the rich, so tradition has told us almost two thousand years. Christ, then, really has no right to live in this world. The work of redemption should have been postponed for some time, because the Holy Family was too poor. Strange, Christ did not think so, even if worldlings do.

WAREHOUSE - - - - 1608-10 N. 21st STREET

Be the above as it may. The happiness of the family does not depend on its position in society, not upon the wealth and means of this world, not upon the number of guests at the bridge party in the drawing room, but upon the principles enunciated by St. Paul in the Epistle of this feast. "Put ye on as the elect of God, mercy and benignity, kindness and modesty and patience; bearing with one another, forgiving one another. Even as the Lord has forgiven you. . . Let the word of Christ dwell in you abundantly. All that you do, do in the name of Lord Jesus Christ." Therefore, kindness at home, not continually nagging one another, in modesty and purity and self-control; bearing with one another, that is, patience with the indisposition of another, with the feelings of one another, with the shortcomings of one another, even as you should want others to treat you. Do all in the name of the Lord Jesus Christ. This can be interpreted in various ways, but obviously we should do all in the name of our Lord if we began the day with prayer, with Mass and Holy Communion, with a prayer during the day and if we closed the day with a brief examination of conscience and an act of contrition—examining carefully how we have labored to bring about greater unity and happiness in our own family circle.

The New Year

We are standing upon the threshold of a new year, and naturally we pause to take a backward glance over the year that has just passed away. We must linger one moment in mournful meditation to gaze upon it before we bid it forever Good-Bye. But before the ebbing tide of this old year has mingled its faint and falling waters with the ocean of the past, while the beloved memories that were sweet, and the sad memories that were sacred, crowd around us in tender appeal, our hearts must ask if all that was nobly dear to us in the past is, indeed, and forever lost, or if there cannot be a hope that the sorrows and trials and joys that are gone shall yet come back to us in the hallowed harvest of a divine resurrection. For all, it is safe to say, the history of the past year, like that of many that have gone before, has been a record of mingled joy and sorrow. Trials we have undoubtedly had, deep sorrows, perhaps, that have for a while darkened our lives and plunged our souls in grief. But time and God's love have softened these and joy and happiness have come to us again. And we can find in that same record many proofs of God's love and goodness towards us, many blessings and favors for which we must offer Him our heartfelt thanks. Faults, too, we shall see, failures in the way of God's service, graces abused or neglected. With sorrow and contrition for these and with gratitude for God's many favors, we turn from the past to gaze into the future.

We cannot tell what is in store for us, during the coming year. A merciful providence has drawn down an impenetrable veil over our future and lifts the curtain of our destiny, only fold by fold, and day by day. What would it mean for us, if the map of our lives was unrolled before us and we saw all the terrors of the years to come, nay, even of this single year? We would glide over the pleasures with indifference and fix the eyes of our imagination on the dangers and the pitfalls, on the sorrows and the trials, marked so clearly on the diagram of our existence. We would extenuate and make little of life's pleasures, to exaggerate its pains. With terrible forboding we would approach crisis after crisis in our lives, forgetting the chance of victory in the dread of defeat.

God in His mercy has spared us this knowledge and we go forward with courage and with confidence to meet whatever may fall to our lot. We have a deep trust in divine providence, we know that "all things work together unto good to them that love God." The past has taught us our weakness, we face the future with hope and trust in the power of His helping hand, with holy resolution in our hearts to labor more faithfully in His service. God bless the new year and all the years that are to come for each of us.

The Forty Hours

It is hardly necessary to say anything by way of explanation or recommendation of this beautiful devotion. It has come to be one of the best known and popular of all our devotions, and once its object is understood, it is sure to rouse the piety of good Catholics everwhere to a generous effort to make plain to the whole world their sentiments of deepest reverence and most heartfelt affection towards our Blessed Lord in the Holy Eucharist.

For three days the adorable Sacrament is exposed for the veneration of the faithful, and they are thus eloquently, though silently, invited to come and pay their homage to the King of kings, and by public and solemn protestation of their devotedness to His Sacred Person, to atone for the contempt with which He is so generally treated, and for the sacrileges by which He is dishonored even in this institution of His love.

This devotion was introduced from Bologna into Milan, in the time of St. Charles Borromeo, almost four centuries ago, and spread from there to other cities in Italy, and soon to Rome itself. The Forty Hours were at first consecutive, and were intended to commemorate the forty hours during which the Sacred Body of Our Lord lay in the tomb. It was also meant to imitate by this continuous prayer, uninterrupted night or day, the prolonged prayer and fast of our Divine Saviour for forty days and forty nights in the wilderness.

This beautiful and impressive devotion will begin at the GESU on Sunday the 10th of January, the Feast of the Holy Family. There is no doubt that Our Lord in the Blessed Sacrament, especially when publicly exposed to the veneration of the faithful, possesses a marvelous power of attracting to Himself the hearts of His children. It is He Who fashioned them, and it need not surprise us if He knows to what devices of His love they will prove most responsive.

It is hoped that our people will not disappoint the earnest longing of the Sacred Heart to draw them to Him, and that in addition to an abundant harvest of souls reclaimed from the habit of sin, there will be visible in every family and in all of us a great increase of fervor. Besides a large number of confessions and Holy Communions there should be a constant stream of visitors to the church, coming to spend before the Blessed Sacrament each day of the exposition, as much time as they can afford to take from their daily occupations. Those who are in the position of not being able to come to the church in the course of the day should at least be present at Mass and at the Sermon and Benediction in the evening.

The Lesson of the Sanctuary Lamp

If, when kneeling in adoration of the Prisoner of Love, the eye chances to glance at the waxen taper glowing within its crimson receptacle, a lesson of all the most important will, after a little reflection, be carried into the soul. Once lighted—its tiny, steady flame undisturbed by the bustle of the busy hours of the day, undismayed by the mysterious hours of the night—It consumes itself and is consumed in honor of the hidden God whose presence it indicates.

May we not learn from the consideration of this waxen taper aglow in the lamp, that it is in like manner our duty, as it should be considered our privilege, to spend ourselves and be spent in honor of this same God Who is our Creator also?

Closer consideration as to the substance of this taper will suggest another lesson, as we recall how its material was drawn from the hearts of the flowers by the active bees in the warmth of the summer days, so that, as now its being is burnt away, it gives back in the burning at one and the same time the heart of the flowers of the field, and the labor of the tiny honey makers to the God that created them both.

"Spirit of the Times"

One of the more solemn warnings of Our Lord was that His followers should "Beware of the False prophets." Attention is at once focused upon the phrase, for it is difficult indeed to picture a "false prophet. The true prophets were men of God, fearlessly denouncing wrong and wrong-doers, and very staunchly upholding what was right. From this we would picture "false prophets" as men, but when the Master gave His warning, it is quite likely that He did not refer exclusively to human prophets—false though they be.

The most pernicious of false prophets are certain popular ideas—ideas which have the appeal and attraction of mental sirens that take firm hold on the popular mind, and wreak havoc and destruction for numerous souls. Such, for example, is the spirit of religious indifference, which parades under the benign masquerade of a most laudable toleration of one's neighbors' convictions. It says briefly that one religion is as good as another, and sinisterly hints that none of them is of any special benefit.

Such, too, is the much abused "Spirit of the Times." God alone knows the extent of the petty vices and serious crimes that have appealed to this insipid phrase for their excuse. To it is attributed the so-called "revolt" of youth. It is blamed for the divorce evil, for the modern crime wave, for the public morality, or the lack of it; in fine, for every popular vice too pleasant to be foregone, too flagrant to escape notice and sufficiently malicious to require palliation. "Everybody does it. It's the spirit of the times" is the anesthetic with which pleasure fiends seek to quiet a jangled conscience.

Pernicious theories, harmful opinions, depraved ideas are the false prophets of today. They "come in the clothing of sheep." Birth-control literature stresses economic necessity; everything else can be excused by citing the power of "suppressed inhibitions." For all who accept them they wreak destruction, through their insidious power to poison the mind so that truth seems error and error truth. "Inwardly they are as the ravening wolves." For any one to flatter himself that he is proof against them is a fatal delusion.

The earnest Catholic should concern himself about what he reads, for the press is the handmaid of false prophets. Through it their propaganda is scattered, infamous seed sown. Heads of families must be on their guard lest those committed to their care by God become followers of the false prophets. Young and undeveloped minds are peculiarly susceptible to novel ideas, since they fail to discern their injurious nature. Care should be taken that reading matter admitted to the home should not be of such a nature as to be an influence for evil. This does not means that the reading matter of the Catholic family must be confined exclusively to Catholic books and magazines. There should, of course, be a leaven of Catholic periodicals and books, and prudent care should be taken that whatever secular literature is read will not cause any harm. It is far easier to prevent the evil than to cure it.

Children's Month

Again we call attention to some reasons why January might be called the Children's month. In the Church's liturgy during this month we see the Child Jesus growing from the "Dear Little One" of Bethlehem to the twelve-year-old Boy in the Temple.

The Christmas holidays passed all too quickly and were too full of worldly enjoyment to allow sufficient time for devotion to the Holy Infant Jesus. All too soon the Crib was taken away. Did that make you forget the Holy Infant? You will not meet Him again in the Gospels and hear His voice until He is twelve years old. Then you will find Him in the Sunday School of the Temple. During the intervening time we are told that "He advanced in wisdom, age and grace." This is the month for thinking of Him growing up. What have you to say to Him? What have you to offer?

Have you ever read the life of "The Little Flower of Jesus?" If not, read these lines in which she tells us how, as a little girl, she used to play with the Child Jesus in her prayers.

"I had offered myself to the Child Jesus as His plaything, I begged Him not to treat me as a costly toy—to be looked at but not handled—but as a little worthless ball, that He might fling down, kick aside, pierece through and through, leave in a corner or lay to His heart, just as He pleased; in short, I wanted to gratify every childish fancy He might have."

"I Thirst"

The light has gone from out the sun; more labored is Christ's Breath,
The earth He made doth rock and quake, as Jesus waits for death;
His Body has been racked and scourged, His Heart with sorrow torn,
The Face that gave men Hope and Love is now so sad and worn;
He gazes out upon the crowd who nail their God and curse,
Who love Him not, and from His Lips there comes the Cry: "I THIRST!"
O, dying Christ, they little know what means Thy anguished Cry,
They think that torture, pain and death have made Thee parched and dry;

Thy Soul in grief doth spurn their drink of vinegar and gall;
Can this be all men offer Thee in answer to Thy Call?
'Tis thirst for souls—the souls of men—souls for whom Thou doth die,
That saddens Thee, O, dying Christ, and brings Thy pleading Cry:
"I Thirst for love; I Thirst for friends; I Thirst, Child, for thy heart,
I Thirst for souls so God and man may never dwell apart;
I Thirst for lips to kiss with love My bleeding thorn-crowned Brow,
And breath a message sweet of love and comfort to Me now;

"My lonely Heart Thirsts now for hearts; for men to come and rest
Their weary hearts and tired souls in peace upon My Breast;
I Thirst for hands to hold aloft the Cross on which I died,
And tell the story to the world of Christ, the Crucified;
I Thirst for feet to tread the Way made sacred by My Own,
That Road so rough but which shall lead at last to God and Home;
I Thirst for tongues to plead My Cause, and tell men of My Love,
And have them know there is no joy save Life with God above;

"These Arms of Mine are now outstretched, My Children to embrace,
And Calvary's pains shall be My Joy if men's hearts give me place;
The nails, the cross, yea, even death, I gladly bear them all,
If souls shall triumph over sin and hear My pleading Call;"
O, Man of Sorrows, dying Christ, give me Thy Sacred Thirst,
To make Thy Name my life's last word and breathe in heaven first;
Give me a thirst to do Thy Will, to love Thee to the end,
So that when dying, Thou, dear Christ, shall greet me as Thy Friend.

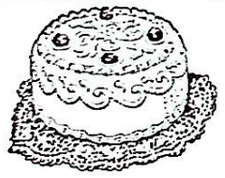

WILLIAM F. SHERIDAN.

To Our Parishioners:

We cannot urge too strongly the necessity of patronizing the advertisers in the Gesu Parish Monthly Calendar, and of returning the same generous support they are giving to us. In other words, buy your goods from the firms that are using our pages to address you, and thus helping us.

These advertisers with us are live, energetic business men, thoroughly responsible, and know what it means to have their names placed prominently before this parish.

REV. THOMAS J. HIGGINS, S. J., Rector.

Friday evening—February 19—Bona Mors Devotions—Fr. Dawson.

Grateful acknowledgment is made to the Wilson Family for its gift of the Statue of Our Lady of the Miraculous Medal. This Statue will form the chief part of the Shrine to be used on Sunday nights during our devotion to our Lady of the Miraculous Medal.

The Girl Scouts of the Gesu

During the past few weeks the Girl Scout Troops, Nos. 25 and 39, have received many new members. Catherine Myers and Kathleen Ford were appointed patrol leaders.

The Girl Scouts may well be proud of their beautiful rooms. They enjoy many conveniences and advantages in the use of the new rooms.

On Tuesday, December 29, 1936, the Girl Scouts had their annual Christmas Party. A play, entitled "A Merry Christmas," was presented under the care of Captain Sweeney and directed by her assistant, Rita M. Oates. The mothers of several of the girls honored us with their presence at this entertainment. Refreshments were served in our "kitchen." A large, elaborate cake made a beautiful centerpiece for the party table.

The Boy Scouts of the Gesu

The Scout Troop registered officially with an increased number of members for the coming year. James Ford has been promoted to Junior Assistant to the Scout Master, Frank Maule, and Robert Frizell have become Senior Patrol Leader.

The Scouts have painted their Troop room and they will be ready for the Scout Exhibit. The District will hold a meet soon and Number 299 Troop will be well prepared to give the others a good fight. The enjoyable hikes to Fairmount Park have recently become more frequent.

The Gesu Young Men's Sodality

The membership of the Sodality has increased considerably since last September. Our Gesu Young Men's Sodality, which is one of the leading organizations of Catholic young men in this city, has had a very notable origin.

The Sodality of the Blessed Virgin Mary was founded in 1563, in the Roman College of the Society of Jesus. And after fully 300 years, this Sodality of the Blessed Virgin Mary still continues to prosper and flourish.

In his talks, the Moderator of the Sodality discusses many things of vital importance to the Catholic youth of today. Love of devotion and practical Catholicity is inspired by these enlightening talks.

The Sodality now boasts of a very clever and high-scoring basketball team that is enjoying extremely good success thus far. However, last week, in the game with Villanova, the Sodality was a loser by the score of twenty-nine to twenty-eight in a very closely contested game.

The Sodality is very grateful to those members, patrons and friends who helped to make their Annual Dance such a huge success.

The Gesu Notre Dame Alumnae

A general meeting of the Gesu Notre Dame Alumnae was held in the school on January 3, at which new activities were decided upon. Basketball practice will be continued every Thursday.

The freshman members of the Alumnae entertained at the meeting with a play, entitled "Young Dr. Divine," and refreshments were served.

The Babette Sorority held a social for the benefit of the Alumnae in the latter's club rooms, on Wednesday, December 30. It was a huge success.

The senior division is making a drive to enlarge their treasury by selling chances on cash prizes.

Gesu Holy Name News

The Gesu Holy Name Society held their regular meeting on Tuesday evening, January 5, in the school hall, 17th and Stiles Streets.

An evening of entertainment in the form of a smoker and instructive moving pictures was on hand to greet more than 100 men of the parish. Mr. John Oebbecke lectured on the athletic features of the pictures.

Cigars, pipes, tobacco and cigarettes were distributed to the members, to smoke away their cares and to join in the festivities with their brother members. This meeting really showed the spirit of the men of the Gesu Parish and I hope with the future program of the Holy Name Society to see the hall packed to the doors, as our Spiritual Director, Rev. Father Maguire, has activities planned which will appeal to all.

Many thanks are tendered to Mr. Oebbecke for the donation of the pictures and the machine. Tony Cherricola carried out his part in providing the tobacco, pipes, etc., as his associate, Mr. Mullen, assisted him.

Many thanks to Mr. Jerome Curtin for the box of cigars he donated.

Our President, Mr. Ramp, appealed to the men present to bring in to the Holy Name Society the men of the parish, so we can have a representative organization, to carry on the work of our church, which many of us have sadly neglected in the past years. The Gesu Church and the Jesuit Fathers are our inspirations, and we ask them to pray for us so that we may do our duty and help band together all the Catholic men, so we may proudly boast that, even though there are over 1000 men in the parish, we will have a large number of men to carry on God's work.

Our Spiritual Director, Rev. Father Maguire, has worked faithfully to promote the Holy Name Society and thanked all those present for their attendance and asked all to continue to come to the meetings regularly.

The Holy Name meetings start at 8.15 o'clock and should be over by 9.30. Come early and leave early. For the next meeting you will receive a postal card (if we have your name and address), which will tell you of the election of your officers for the year 1937. Elect men who you feel will serve the Society faithfully. This should prove a very interesting meeting, as there will be a contest for nearly all the offices. The following are the names that have been placed in nomination:

For President—Thos. P. McPhillips, James D. Ramp, John A. Oebbecke, John McLaughlin.

For Vice-President—Edw. Coogan.

For Treasurer—Rev. Father Maguire.

Gesu Parish Improvement Association

Weekly reports of the GESU PARISH IMPROVEMENT ASSOCIATION become more encouraging each week and the work of the Association broadens. Among the outstanding results which we can claim for our work thus far are the renewal of the lease by the State Liquor Department for the bank building at Eighteenth and Girard Avenue. The discontinuance of this occupancy would have left the property open for some other enterprise perhaps undesirable and would have hindered the liquidation of assets by the closed bank. This one accomplishment will be beneficial to our NEIGHBORHOOD and the former patrons of that bank.

Pressure brought to bear by the organization was also successful in preventing the opening of an undesirable taproom at Eighteenth and Ridge Avenue. This property is still unoccupied and we are hopeful of inducing some good business enterprise to take over the building.

During the past week Father Maguire visited Washington and Baltimore with a view of learning their methods of combating the devaluation of properties through the influx of the negro into white residential sections. He found the effective method which had been followed there was to have all owners of properties in given blocks pledge mutually to each other under a pledge binding on themselves and their heirs for a period of twenty-one years—to not sell, rent, or permit the occupancy of their properties by persons of the colored race. These pledges properly executed were sanctioned and upheld by both the lower court and the Supreme Court. This information is encouraging to those who feel nothing can be done about it.

While in no way detrimental to the colored race this has been effective in preventing a mixture of the races in neighborhoods and has been found to work to the mutual benefit of all concerned. Surely our colored brethren are happier and more content in their own little neighborhoods. More often it is the work of agents looking to their own financial gain and exploiting the negro which is responsible for bringing them into neighborhoods which are advantageous to the agents as renting possibilities—The result is the former owners or tenants find their properties depreciated in value through the invasion; their first impulse is to move to a different locality; the upkeep and repair of the vacated property immediately ceases; the agent finds another opportunity to obtain higher rental from a colored tenant; he is installed at a higher rent than the former tenant would have had to pay and what is the ultimate result? The original tenant has the expense and inconvenience of moving—the owner finds his property devaluated—the negro tenant is paying an exorbitant rental—and who benefits? The agent who is working for his interests at the expense of all others concerned. What shall we do under the circumstances? WE SHALL STAND OUR GROUND!

We have advantages in the Gesu Parish which those outside the Parish come many miles to enjoy. We have the most convenient location in the city for all kinds of service; transportation facilities are unequalled elsewhere; hospital services are available at a stone's throw from home; educational institutions are beyond compare; public libraries, museums, ets., are within walking distance—opportunities for spiritual and mental development are exceptional.

So—with appreciation to all those who have helped in our work thus far—to those who have co-operated by making property improvements or who have been influential in bringing GOOD NEIGHBORS into our GOOD NEIGHBORHOOD—we pledge ourselves to continue our efforts—to leave no stone unturned which will help us accomplish our ultimate purpose—THE RESTORATION OF OUR BELOVED PARISH TO ITS FORMER ENVIABLE STANDING.

If YOU are a MECHANIC in any line of household or business improvement—we shall be glad to have YOU attend our meetings and give us your suggestions on general improvements—if YOU are an OWNER—we shall be interested in learning YOUR particular problem and helping YOU solve it—IF YOU are a TENANT, we shall be grateful if you will come to the meetings and present YOUR side of the story so we can approach the OWNERS or AGENTS with a complete knowledge of your difficulties.

Is your HOME IN NEED OF REPAIRS? Would it be more comfortable by modernizing the HEATING SYSTEM? Has your AGENT hesitated to make necessary repairs because he fears the deterioration of the NEIGHBORHOOD. If any of these problems is YOUR problem, you need the GESU PARISH IMPROVEMENT ASSOCIATION to help you eliminate it. REMEMBER—IN UNITY THERE IS STRENGTH! Our Unity has been an aid in securing an accumulation of information which is here for your benefit—YOURS for the asking.

MEETINGS ARE HELD EVERY THURSDAY EVENING at 8 P. M. in the old Sodality Chapel. An interesting exchange of ideas and suggestions is helpful to all—WATCH THE BULLETIN BOARD FOR REPORT OF ACTIVITIES AND DO COME TO THE MEETINGS—We need YOU—YOU need US—for the general improvement of the entire GOOD NEIGHBORHOOD—Induce your NEIGHBOR to attend the next meeting with YOU. JOIN THE GESU PARISH IMPROVEMENT ASSOCIATION.

an occasion which even those who may be exempt from fasting should endeavor at least to enter upon in a penitential spirit. With the first Sunday of Lent starts the period for the fulfillment of the Easter Duty, and they who need no urging to attend this obligation should pray most earnestly for the more careless, and by their supplications to God lead them to comply with their obligation also. Let as many as can attend the evening Lenten Devotions, make frequent visits to Our Lord in the Tabernacle, and assist at the Holy Sacrifice of Calvary, if possible, every day.

OUR LADY OF LOURDES—FEBRUARY 11

It was on February 11, 1858, that the first of the great series of apparitions took place which have made Lourdes famous throughout the entire world. It was on that day that the Blessed Mother of God deigned first to show herself, all radiant with heavenly beauty, to the little peasant child, Bernadette Soubirous, then fourteen years of age. Shortly after followed the miraculous fortnight, in which the child was privileged to behold the wonderful Lady almost daily, and during which the spring gushed forth which has wrought so many marvelous cures, and is to this very day an inexplicable problem to the irreligious scientist, as it is a source of supreme glory to Mary Immaculate, and of deepest consolation to thousands of her clients, to whom, day after day, she so lovingly manifests her power by the healing of innumerable ills.

There were, in all, eighteen apparitions, the last occurring as late as the Feast of Our Lady of Mount Carmel, in July, but as many as twelve took place in the month of February. The present month is thus in a special manner associated with the mercies of the Blessed Virgin at Lourdes, and her grateful children can ill afford to let such joyful anniversaries go by without at least recalling them to mind, and offering to Mary their most fervent thanks. A visit to her statue—not honored now as once it used to be—the beads recited as Bernadette herself recited them when waiting for the heavenly vision, a devout Communion on the morning of February 11, or at least another day this month, for the same intention —these are acts which naturally suggest themselves as appropriate ways in which to commemorate the apparitions of Our Lady at Lourdes.

BLESSED CLAUDE DE LA COLOMBIERE, S.J.—FEBRUARY 15

On June 16 of the year 1929 a band of pilgrims, representing the League of the Sacred Heart in the United States, joined with Associates of the League from all parts of the world, to attend the ceremonies in St. Peter's; at Rome, during which the "Apostle of the Sacred Heart," Claude de la Colombiere, S.J., was raised to the honors of the altar.

Our readers, who have read the life of St. Margaret Mary Alacoque, the Visitation nun whom our Lord chose as His instrument to make known to the world the devotion to the Sacred Heart, will remember that he was the Jesuit Superior of the Residence at Paray-le-Monial, who guided her at the time of the great apparition of 1675 about the Feast of the Sacred Heart.

Blessed Claude was born in 1641 and died on February 15, 1682. The Jesuit Fathers will celebrate his feast each year on that date. After his death his notes of retreats were published and through them the world learned of the devotion to the Sacred Heart and of our Lord's desire to have it spread throughout the world.

Associates of the League will continue to pray to the Sacred Heart that many miracles may be granted through the intercession of Blessed Claude and that he may obtain for us the grace to be fervent lovers of the Sacred Heart and earnest in our reparation for the neglect and indifference with which our Lord meets, especially in the Sacrament of the Holy Eucharist.

BLESSED DIEGO CARVALHO—FEBRUARY 26

The martyrdom of Blessed Diego Carvalho is honored on the 26th of February. He was a priest of the Society of Jesus and was put to death in the Kingdom of Oxu in Japan in a most inhuman manner. He was plunged into freezing water and allowed to stay there for several hours. Then he was released for a time to test his constancy. Then he was immersed again in the icy waters and continued to endure his sufferings for twelve hours. He died at last with unshaken constancy in the confession of the Faith.

Spirit and Practice of Lent

Lent is but a name to the world at large. It is like "a relic of the dark ages." In its primitive sense and form, it is observed and practiced by but a small group of religious zealots. Of course, there are Lenten dances, card parties, teas, etc., but these have borrowed the name. They are quite the proper thing, because times have changed. Lent is truly but a faint memory to a certain type of Christian; their number is too great. It is a time that really stood for something definite formerly, but now it is only that annual dull season between winter and spring. There are some good "church-goers," who practice a passive Lent; they observe the penitential season by sitting through some extra devotions, and by eating more fish than usual. By Easter Sunday they feel like modern martyrs, and are relieved that "Lent" is over. Has the "old Lent" really passed? Is there a "modern Lent" for this sophisticated age and race?

The express command of God to all His human creatures is to "Do Penance." And, too, the way of penance was definitely prescribed by the same God: prayer, fasting, almsdeeds. This universal law had indeed been mitigated, but it has never been abrogated. To ratify and to exemplify this divine command of penance, Jesus Christ preached it and practiced it. In the modern mitigation of penitential discipline, the Church by no means changes the spirit of God's own law. The "contrite heart" and "humble spirit" is still demanded by God and preached by His Church. And Lenten practice still means activity, i. e., doing some salutary works of penance habitually and repeatedly. Lent is well termed a Christian warfare, an active campaign of forty days against the enemies of salvation, the destroyers of souls. During Lent, Christians are exhorted to regard themselves as fellow-combatants with Jesus Christ, Who withstood and repelled the triple assault of Satan during His forty days of prayer and fasting. It would seem, then, that the "old Lent" still holds for those who really follow Christ. A new and modern Lent exists only in the minds and hearts of those who lack the spirit and shun the practice of real penance, as enjoined by God and exemplified by Christ.

The sincere Christian will keep in mind that his Saviour goes before him on his holy path of Lent. Jesus bore all his fatigues and hardships so that the earnest pilgrim might tread the narrow way of Lenten penance resolutely, scorning the excuses, the sophisms and repugnances of self-love and pride. He will honestly accept the teaching of Christ on penance and practice it. The lukewarm and half-hearted Christian will hearken to the dictum of false teachers and "practice penance in spirit," a thing of sentiment or passing emotion that does not even resemble real penance. Christian penance consists in contrition of the soul and in mortification of the body; these two are essential. The soul has willed the sin; the body has co-operated in its commission. Both soul and body should pay tribute to their Creator, as both soul and body will participate in the delights of heaven or suffer eternally the torments of hell. There can be no thorough Christian life, there can be no true penance, there can be no salutary and efficacious Lent where the body does not suffer mortification and denial while the soul sorrows within. The children of the Church will face the truth undaunted; they will observe courageously the Lenten practices of penance. "They that are Christ's have crucified their flesh." With St. Paul the followers of Christ will strive during Lent to chastise the body and bring it into subjection.

The Holy Season of Lent

This holy season may well be considered as the great retreat of the Christian world in the preparation for the Easter festivals. As Jesus fasted for forty days (Gospel of the first Sunday of Lent) and later in His public life, taught us how to die to self and to conquer sin in our souls, so now in Lent the Church teaches us how to die to sin and evil. Lent, then, is principally a time for meditation on the sufferings of our Blessed Lord. We meditate on the sufferings of Christ in order to be strengthened in our struggle against the world, the flesh and the devil. Lent is a great retreat, as we have said above. By penance and mortification, by prayer and almsgiving, by denying ourselves pleasures that are legitimate, we root out what is wrong and sinful in us, and we adjust our lives in accordance with the divine command and example. At the end of Lent, then, we should aim to be better in soul, purer in heart, and more faithful in our service to the Divine Master. This work of self-reformation and of purifying the evil that is in us should be finished on the night before Holy Thursday. The fast of Lent continues till noon Holy Saturday, but the Lenten season as a time of retreat is over the night before Holy Thursday.

Lent is not a time of sadness and depression. Quite the contrary, since we are closer to God during the season, the Divine Presence will bring happiness, true happiness, a foretaste of heaven to our souls.

How, then, can we keep Lent in the spirit of the Church? What practices will most conduce to make this Lent of 1937 a thorough reformation of soul?

Daily Attendance at Mass, and keep in mind that the Sacrifice of the Mass is the greatest act of worship that we can offer to God. The Mass is not only for the priest in the sanctuary, it is for the faithful as well. Therefore, read about the Mass and ask the priest about it. Any priest will be glad to instruct you. Obtain a pamphlet on the Mass from the stand in the rear of the church. Read it. If we know the Mass, we will love it, and to attend Mass, then, will be a very interesting and delightful treat for us.

Holy Communion Every Day During Lent. Even at a great inconvenience to yourself, try to receive Holy Communion every day, if possible.

The Law of Fast and Abstinence. Could you, perhaps, do a little fasting? In the early days of the Church, up to the eleventh century, Mass was celebrated at 3 o'clock in the afternoon and the faithful received Holy Communion at this Mass. Only after this time did they break their fast. We do not live in those days, but could we be inspired from this example to do also a little to carry out the law of the Church in this matter? Consult your confessor about the penance you intend to take up during Lent.

The Way of the Cross will obtain for us courage and generosity to serve God as He wishes it and to purify our souls from sin and from habits of sin.

Daily Recitation of the Beads, the Sorrowful Mysteries will do us much good.

Induce the family at home to have some Spiritual Reading during the Evening Meal. Five minutes' reading from the Little Lives of the Saints will soon create a thoroughly Catholic atmosphere in your home.

During Lent, whatever practice you adopt, do not fail in this one: Make a Brief Examination of Your Conscience every night and try to make a fervent act of contrition. Examine your home, too. Is your home an ideal Catholic home?

Candlemas

Simeon praised the Divine Child as "the Light to the revelation of the Gentiles," and Holy Church joins this praise by blessing on this second day of February the candles which she and her children are to use in the service of God. These candles are never used merely to dispel darkness, nor as a mere reminiscence of the time when Mass was celebrated in the catacombs. Their use is determined by their symbolical significance and tradition. We distinguish the following candles:

1. "The Baptismal Candle." It reminds us of the splendor of innocence and the glory of heaven. "Receive the burning light and by being irreprehensible, guard thy Baptism." Roman Ritual. Then we shall behold the light of glory. "Thou hast upheld me by reason of my innocence; and hast established me in thy sight forever" (Ps. x, 1-13).

2. "The Candles Used at Divine Service." They symbolize Jesus, Himself, who, according to His own words, is "the Light of the World." The candlestick bearing the candle represents His glorious divine nature. This is strikingly expressed in the beautifully decorated Paschal Candle.

3. "The Candle of the Dying." Only in the light of Baptismal innocence, faith, grace and virtue can man ever enter the light of glory, unless he does penance for his sins, is the impressive exhortation of the flickering candle to the conscious dying one and the bystanders.

4. "The Candles at the Bier or Tumba." The eternal Light will shine

The Blessing of St. Blase

February third, the Feast of St. Blase, Bishop of Sebaste in Armenia and martyr in one of the Diocletian persecutions, has gained wide celebrity at the occasion of what may be termed one of the efflorescences of Catholic devotion—the blessing of throats, in which through the Saint's intercession heaven's aid is invoked as protection against diseases and accidents to affect that portion of the human frame.

The pious custom, which has in it nothing whatever of superstition, since it is simply an appeal made by the Church through the merits of one of God's servants, for the protection of God's children on earth against possible ills, has its origin in the fact that among the wonders wrought by by St. Blase was the miraculous relief afforded by him to a lad, in whose throat a thorn had lodged, and whose death, in spite of every effort to save him, was imminent. The blessing is imparted by the placing against the throat of the person seeking it two candles superposed in the fashion of St. Andrew's Cross, while the priest repeats this formula: "Through the intercession of St. Blase, Bishop and Martyr, may God deliver thee from disease of the throat and from every other evil. In the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost."

Lenten Fast and Abstinence

According to the laws of the Church all those who have attained the age of twenty-one and have not yet reached their sixtieth year are obliged to fast every day during Lent, with the exception of Sundays. Manual laborers, the sick, the convalescent, and those to whom fasting would be injurious are exempt. Dispensation may be procured from confessor or pastor. In case of dispensation meat may be eaten on all days except days of abstinence, as often as desired. If there is no dispensation, meat may be taken only at the principal meal of the day.

The law of abstinence is binding on all those over seven years of age. By this law we are forbidden the use of meat on all Wednesdays and Fridays of Lent, on Ember Saturday, and on the forenoon of Holy Saturday. Those who are sick or physically unable to abstain are alone exempt.

Beside the Empty Grave

Beside the empty grave I stand, where once My Body laid,
And search the hearts of men for whom the Price Supreme I paid;
And standing there My Memory goes back through sin-swept years,
To Calvary's Hill whereon I died amid men's scoffs and jeers;
I died to bring to souls of men Life in eternal bliss,
Today, as men cast Me aside, I think: "Was it for this?"

Was it for this I lived and died? Is all My work in vain?
Will men ne'er cease to crucify and crush My Heart with pain?
Beside the empty grave I see the world with wars now torn,
Men steal and hate and kill the ones for whom My Cross was born;
As Peter did, I hear the world deny My very Name,
And lands I gave the Gift of Faith are red with Judas' shame;
I see the blood of martyred priests and nuns who gladly died,
To keep the love so sweet to them of Christ, the Crucified;
From Bethlehem to Calvary's Cross I begged men love each other,
To love their God and each in turn be kind unto his brother;

Beside the empty grave I stand without joy in My Heart,
For in My Resurrection Morn I find men have no part;
I see the world torn with unrest and groping in despair,
See governments decay and fail and distress everywhere;
O Weary World, O Troubled World, so much in need of peace,
Draw near unto My empty grave to have thy troubles cease;
From out its shadow comes a Light that holds within its glow
A peace and comfort for the world it never else shall know.

WILLIAM F. SHERIDAN.

To Our Parishioners:

We cannot urge too strongly the necessity of patronizing the advertisers in the Gesu Parish Monthly Calendar, and of returning the same generous support they are giving to us. In other words, buy your goods from the firms that are using our pages to address you, and thus helping us.

These advertisers with us are live, energetic business men, thoroughly responsible, and know what it means to have their names placed prominently before this parish.

REV. THOMAS J. HIGGINS, S. J., Rector.

Gesu Young Men's Sodality

The Gesu Young Men's Sodality this year marks its forty-fifth anniversary. This Society, whose members are loyal and faithful devotees of Our Lady to the Glory of Her Son, has had a very notable, or remarkable, record during its establishment. Its membership was not entirely from the parish, for many members travel great distances and many miles from other church parishes to attend Tuesday night services.

As in former years, the present Sodality still meets every Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock in the Sodality Chapel. And following the recitation of the Office of the Blessed Virgin Mary, the Spiritual Director gives an instruction, which is followed by Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament.

The Annual Dance of the Sodality, which was held in January at Moose Hall, proved quite a success. And the Sodality wishes to express its thanks to the members and friends who helped to make the Social successful.

In the field of sport, the basketball team of the Sodality still retains its winning ways. The latest victim was a collection of basketball stars known as The Little Flower Quintet.

St. Patrick's Day

Look out for our SPECIAL ENTERTAINMENT on ST. PATRICK'S DAY, in the HIGH SCHOOL AUDITORIUM! Much preparation is being made. YOU will not want to miss this attraction!

Gesu Notre Dame Alumnae

A one-act comedy, entitled "Patsy," was presented by the Dramatures of the Junior members of the Alumnae in the school hall, on Thursday evening, February 4. The cast included Anne O'Donnell, Marie Reichert, Marie Minner, Anne Collins, Betty Bohler, Frances Ritter and Betty O'Connor. The skit was directed by Jeanne Anderson, president of the Senior Alumnae. The venture was their first and was a success.

The Junior basketball team defeated the Nurses' team of St. Joseph's Hospital on the Alumnae floor on January 21, by a score of 32 to 21. Basketball practice continues.

The Juniors held a Social after their regular monthly meeting, on February 19, in their club rooms, which was enjoyed by all.

Every Monday Evening

Excitement runs high at the Monday Evening Entertainment Parties, which are held in the High School Auditorium. Many valuable prizes are given away each time.

Added to all the grand prizes every week, there is a gold certificate for a special prize which will be given on the night of our last game. Anyone who has already received a certificate, we would like to ask that they keep it safely until the last game is announced.

All of the above, added to an inexpensive night's fun, will make you want to come again and again.

The Parties started on November 30, and our attendance since that time has been an average of five hundred people. We would like and should have at least one thousand every Monday night. If you have not been there, stop for a minute and ask yourself just why you haven't.

Come to the aid of your own "Gesu" by attending these evenings of real entertainment and grand surprises in the generous distribution of prizes each week.

We have people coming from all sections of the city and taking home grand prizes. Don't you want to come and have your chance to share in these wonderful offerings?

Gesu Holy Name News

The Holy Name meeting of the society will be held on the 19th of February, and as this bulletin goes to press we are unable to give you a report of this meeting. A full account of the meeting activities will be rendered in next month's issue.

At this writing we are closing the retreat given by Fr. Cosgrove, who appealing asked the men present to continue to receive Holy Communion every second Sunday known to us as "Holy Name Sunday," in such a large group as received the Bread of Christ on February 14.

We appeal to all men interested in the cause of practical Christianity

to join the Holy Name Society. We need not urge upon you the necessity of the monthly Communion, which will always be a source of strength and an anchor of safety in life, and together will enable you to measure the things of this world at their real value.

In these days of selfish greed and worldly ambitions, when the spirit of Communism and its evil associations are marching down this vale of tears and counting their victims by the thousands, we need Christian men to protect and defend the standard of the Cross of Christ, to show our devotion and loyalty to an inheritance which has been handed down to us by the saints and martyrs who suffered and died for our holy faith for nineteen hundred years, and if we appreciate the sacrifice they have made, then you as a candidate should and will join the Holy Name Society and practice and promote the teachings of Jesus Christ.

Gesu Parish Improvement Association

Have you noticed the new TRAFFIC SIGNS at 17th and 18th and Girard Avenue? They have been placed there in recognition of demands by the GESU PARISH IMPROVEMENT ASSOCIATION, whose traffic committee is engaged in checking traffic at hazardous corners—particularly at Ridge Ave., Wiley St. and 17th St., with a view to presenting undeniable data as to the requirements for traffic control there. At the present time, as a result of protests made by your association, this particular crossing, unusually hazardous, is being manned by an officer, which is bound to eliminate a great deal of the dangers there. This is the result of UNITED ACTION. Have you taken part?

It is interesting to note that our association is listed with the Philadelphia Real Estate Board as an outstanding organization for the betterment of conditions in the central part of the city—and the various functions for advancing the work which we are engaged in have been offered for our use in accomplishing our aims.

A preliminary census of the residents and owners living within the boundaries of the parish discloses an eagerness on the part of those consulted to participate in the work and contribute to the financial support of the movement.

Unusually fine reports were brought in by two very active workers, Mrs. Bicking and Mrs. Conlin. Many of those interviewed were not our parishioners, but they are our NEIGHBORS and very willing to co-operate. That is the kind of spirit which will bring us to success. Are you doing YOUR part to help?

Mrs. Boyle still holds the record for having completed her entire block canvass and she is now ready to start out on this new work. A corps of such workers as these would finish the work in no time at all—but, unfortunately, such workers are few and the amount of work is great—CAN YOU NOT DO YOUR BIT? It is well worth while.

However, the general effect of the work done so far has been to hearten those who may have been discouraged previously. Homes are constantly being improved—former tenants are seeking homes within the parish again—a few really enthusiastic parishioners are investing in additional properties in the neighborhood as an assurance against further undesirable tenants coming into these properties.

Now, what is needed is VOLUNTEERS who can give a few hours each week to the work of canvassing their own blocks or others; explaining our purpose and our methods of accomplishing that purpose, and interesting a stronger force of active workers. "Many hands make light work," but, unfortunately, we have been handicapped by the contrary situation—"much work and few hands to do it."

No doubt, many have felt there was "nothing we can do about it!"

But the time to think that is gone. Results have shown that there is MUCH we can do about it. And, what is more—WE ARE GOING TO DO IT. But if YOU will help—we will be finished that much quicker! WILL YOU JOIN YOUR GOOD NEIGHBORS? MEETINGS EVERY WEDNESDAY—8.30 P. M. Don't leave the church after LENTEN DEVOTIONS. Come into the side hall and to the meeting.

Ask your neighbors what they think of the proposed covenant to be signed by combined owners. If they do not understand it, or if you do not understand it—you will find it worthwhile to come to the meeting and learn the details. It has been effective elsewhere—it is going to be effective here. Our AIM—ONE HUNDRED PER CENT SIGNED by Spring. What are YOU going to do to help?

Don't forget the meeting—WEDNESDAY NIGHT 8.30 P. M.

The Philadelphia Record and Spanish Democracy

Do you know that the Philadelphia Record in an editorial called "Thumbs Down on Spain" (Friday, February 19, 1937), once more insulted your intelligence and outraged your sense of religious decency?

We say "once more" because,—do you remember the Record did the same thing last July in its editorial, "Who's Revolting Now?"

Do you remember that at that time Mr. J. David Stern wrote to His Eminence Cardinal Dougherty and said: "At that time we did not know—as I admit we should have known—that the Catholic Church was involved in this uprising?" Well, he knows it now and his paper is still pouring out the same old stuff about "Spanish Democracy." He knows from a Vatican Report that "Half of Spain's priests have been killed in systematic slaughter." That was published in his own paper on February 2, 1937. He knows that "nuns and priests" were executed by "Red murder squads sweeping over Catalonia." That was published in his own paper on August 2, 1936.

Do you know that thousands of priests have been slaughtered?

Do you know that eleven bishops have been slaughtered?

Do you know that nuns have been ravished and slaughtered?

Do you know that nuns' bodies have been dug up from the grave and dishonored?

Do you know that Our Holy Father said to the Spanish refugees on September 14, 1936: "Bishops and priests, consecrated virgins, the laity of every class and condition, venerable gray hairs and the fresh flower of youth, the very silence so sacred and so solemn of the tomb, all have been assaulted, violated, destroyed, and in the most ruthless and barbarous ways?"

Do you know that about fifty Christian Brothers have been slaughtered?

Do you know that seventeen Jesuit priests have been slaughtered and about seventy thrown into prison while many others were arrested and never heard of again?

Do you know that Mr. Stern said, "The Philadelphia Record stands four-square for religious freedom and tolerance and is bitterly opposed to Communism and Fascism?"

See if you can find a single syllable of editorial condemnation of these barbarities from a paper that stands "four-square for religious freedom."

Do you know that in this editorial of February 19th the Record is still calling the regime that perpetrates and allows these slaughters by the name of "Spanish Democracy?"

How would you like such Democracy in the United States?

Do you know that the same editorial never mentions what Red Russia is doing in Spain, but says a lot about Mussolini and Hitler? And tries to give the impression that only a very small number of "real Spaniards" are fighting with General Franco?

Do you know that Caballero the "Spanish Lenin" sent word to Moscow that he and his party would build Spain on the model of Russia? You know what that means; the Record knows too. Yet the Record is calling this "Democracy." Many of you have brothers or sons priests, daughters or sisters nuns,—how would you like them to get some of this "Spanish Democracy" treatment?

Don't be fooled by the Record. Don't you think it time to wake up and show the Record what you think of its defence of this thing parading under the name of "Democracy?" The Record has ignored all your protests. What are you going to do? Are you going to stand for this any longer?

Feasts of the Month

THE NOVENA OF GRACE IN HONOR OF ST. FRANCIS XAVIER (March 4-12)

One of the most characteristic devotions in churches served by Fathers of the Society of Jesus is the Novena of Grace which takes place every year from March 4 to March 12. This Novena is celebrated to commemorate the canonization of St. Ignatius and St. Francis Xavier, the two most brilliant ornaments of the Society of Jesus. For it was on March 12, in the year 1622, during the pontificate of Gregory XV, that those two glorious Saints of the modern world were raised to the honors of the altar. But though St. Ignatius is not altogether forgotten in the Novena, the devotion, as a matter of fact, has come to be identified in a special way with the memory, and still more with the intercessory power, of St. Francis Xavier.

This remarkable Novena, which year after year is becoming more and more popular, not only in Jesuit churches, but in many others, has its origin in a miraculous intervention of the great Apostle of the Indies; and there is no denying that from its first beginning until the present day it has become more and more worthy of its name, and has been the occasion of countless marvelous favors, both spiritual and temporal, to all who make it.

The history of the Novena of Grace is not shrouded in mystery, but can be clearly traced to an apparition which St. Francis Xavier made in 1631 to a fellow Jesuit, Father Marcellus Mastrilli, who lay mortally injured as a result of an accident which occurred in the Church of the Society of Jesus in Naples. The Saint, all resplendent with heavenly glory, assured his devout client of his recovery and instructed him to make a vow that he would go as a missionary to Japan, where martyrdom awaited him. St. Francis declared that all who should make a Novena ending March 12, devoutly approaching the Sacraments during the Novena, would enjoy his protection and obtain from God abundant favors.

Father Mastrilli, who was instantly cured, lost no time in setting out for Japan, proclaiming, as he advanced, the glory and the power of the Saintly Apostle who had long since preceded him on that journey of zeal. Soon after his arrival in Japan he was arrested and condemned to the torments of the pit, an unspeakable horror, which he endured for four days till death came to release him from his agony and reunite him to his heavenly patron.

This brief record of the origin of the Novena of Grace is familiar to all who have been accustomed for many years to make the Novena in the Church of the Gesu at Eighteenth and Stiles Streets. But it is a record which, like many familiar narratives, is held in benediction; for not to one only but to many does it bring back the memory of the richest blessings and graces that any devout soul could wish to win and possess. The testimony of grateful hearts who have received nothing less and nothing other than the very favors asked for, has been most enthusiastic and authentic. Not a day of the Novena passes without the surest warrant that the heavenly power of the great Apostle of the Indies is not in any way lessened, but rather increased for the benefit of those who know and love and trust one who is acknowledged on all sides to be the most wonderful of God's missionaries since the days of the Apostles.

The very name "Novena of Grace" indicates the primary and principal object of the Novena. It is grace. Implied in that very word is everything whether temporal or spiritual, that conduces to our eternal salvation. Sometimes, in God's Providence, it is a temporal favor of some kind that starts us on our way to salvation, or carries us on, or even helps us notably towards the completion of our journey to Heaven. Such favors we may well ask for and obtain. Often these favors are granted to us during the Novena and at no other time, because then we pray with a fervor and intensity of faith which we do not rise to at other times. In the Novenas we make privately during the year we pray alone, while in the Novena of Grace hundreds and literally thousands of others are praying with us and for us. The Novena in honor of St. Francis Xaxier is peculiarly one of concerted power, all pray for all, and no one merely for himself. No wonder, then, that so many graces and blessings are obtained and so many prayers are answered. For then specially are Christ's words verified, "Wheresoever two or three are gathered in My name, there am I in the midst of them."

The Public Novena requires one to be present each day for at least one exercise. Daily Mass and Holy Communion are strongly recommended. The services are short and fervent, and prayers, instruction and Benediction last not more than one-half hour.

Consult the Parish notes in this Bulletin for time of exercises.

INDULGENCES

By a brief of the 16th of June, 1898, Leo XIII granted a Plenary Indulgence to all the faithful, who, in a church of the Society of Jesus (at any time in the year), should make a Novena in honor of St. Francis Xavier, and on one of the nine days, after confession and Communion, should visit the same church and there offer up prayers according to the usual intentions of the Pope. Those who are prevented by sickness or any other lawful reason from receiving Holy Communion during the Novena, may gain the same Indulgence by confessing and Communicating as soon as possible afterwards. The Indulgence is applicable to the souls in Purgatory.

Another Plenary Indulgence may be gained on the 12th of March, the day of the Canonization of St. Ignatius and St. Francis Xavier, on the usual conditions: Confession and Communion, and visiting a church of the Society of Jesus and praying for the intention of our Holy Father.

On the 23rd of March, 1904, our Holy Father, Pius X, granted to all the Faithful, who make this Novena of Grace, publicly or in private, the following Indulgence which may be applied to Souls in Purgatory (the Indulgences cannot, however, be gained more than twice in the same year):

1. An Indulgence of 300 days to all who on any day of the Novena devoutly and with sorrow for their sins, shall say the prayer: "O most lovable and loving Saint Francis Xavier, etc." If this prayer cannot readily be had, its place may be supplied by the "Our Father," "Hail Mary" and "Glory be to the Father" (said five times).

2. A Plenary Indulgence to all, who, besides making the Novena, shall, within eight days of the completion of the Novena, receive the Sacraments of Penance and Holy Eucharist, and pray devoutly for the intentions of our Holy Father.

N. B.—The privileges granted by Pope Leo XIII, and mentioned above are not changed by these recent and generous concessions made by our Holy Father Pius X.

WHAT SHALL WE PRAY FOR DURING THE NOVENA?

Temporal favors—Yes, pray for every temporal need you have. You do that every time you recite the Lord's Prayer. Have you to labor hard every day for a discouragingly small salary? Have you sickness to contend with? Have you a large family to support, children to feed and clothe and educate, so that you hardly know how to get along from one day to the next? Or worse still, is sorrow or fear or disgrace haunting your hearth and threatening the happiness of yourself or those that you love? Then, tell St. Francis Xavier about it all in the Novena of Grace!

There is one other intention that we all should endeavor to keep uppermost in our prayers during this novena, "The Conversion of America." The wonderful growth of the Novena of Grace during the past few years induces us to hope that the great Apostle of the Indies will become the Apostle of America. Think of it, sixty millions of our fellow citizens are affiliated with no Christian church! Let those who make the Novena here join with the hundreds of thousands elsewhere in this general intention, "The Conversion of America, through the merits and prayers of St. Francis Xavier." Great faith wins great graces! What a magnificent manifestation of the power of united prayer, of the greatness of St. Francis Xavier, and of the infinite goodness of God, the conversion of America would be! St. Francis Xavier, Apostle of America, pray for us!

The relic of St. Francis Xavier will be exposed during the Novena of Grace for the veneration of the faithful, and at each service of the Novena the relic will be used to bless those who are present.

A sealed box for petitions will be placed at the altar rail in front of the Shrine." "Ask and you shall receive."

HOLY WEEK

Holy Week, of all the seasons of the year, is the time when sincere Christians should scarcely permit themselves any other occupation than that of attending to the interest of their souls. For these days, at least, they should strictly forbid themselves all frivolous amusements, and by participating as largely as they can in the solemn functions of the Church, endeavor to deserve the greatest possible share in the fruits of Our Lord's passion and death.

A week is but a brief space to devote to the consideration of those mighty mysteries, where the Son of God delivered Himself up for the reconciliation of the world. Nothing could more deeply concern us than what Christ has achieved for us, and our part in the redemption He has wrought will be in proportion to the love with which we bear His sufferings in mind, and the generosity with which we strive to copy in ourselves the splendid example of His virtues. Nowhere are they so strikingly exhibited as in His passion, and in the Crucifixion especially we see them at once summarized and carried to their loftiest perfection.

The impressive ceremonial of the Church helps greatly to a realization of the mysteries commemorated. So dramatic, in fact, is the ritual of Holy Week that we seem to be spectators of those soul-stirring events, and the Passion is, as it were, once more enacted before our eyes. How blind to their own highest interest are they who merely through indifference and without anything to hinder their presence, absent themselves from the ceremonies of these solemn days, foregoing the spiritual advantages they offer, and setting to rest, if need be, the misgivings of conscience with the reflection that attendance is not of obligation.

PALM SUNDAY, MARCH 21

Our Lord's triumphant entrance into Jerusalem is the glorious mystery which ushers in the Great Week, the week of dolors. Holy Church would have us give this momentary consolation to our heart, and hail our Jesus as our King. She has so arranged the service of today that it should express both joy and sorrow; joy, by uniting herself with the loyal Hosannas of the City of David; and sorrow, by commiserating the Passion of her Divine Spouse.

The whole function is divided into three parts—the solemn blessing of the Palms, the Procession, and the offering of the Holy Sacrifice, in the course of which occurs by anticipation the chanting of the Sacred Passion.

Before the Solemn High Mass, a striking ceremony occurs, to which the Church herself has always attached the deepest significance. It is the BLESSING OF THE PALMS. It begins with the antiphon: "Hosanna to the Son of David! Blessed is He that cometh in the name of the Lord. O King of Israel! Hosanna in the highest!" For today we commemorate the triumphal entry of Our Lord into Jerusalem, when multitudes who had come to the holy city from all parts of the world for the celebration of the Pasch, and who had heard of the miracle that Jesus wrought in raising Lazarus from the dead, went forth to meet Him bearing palm branches in their hands, and making the air resound with their joyful acclamations.

After the antiphon, the priest, standing at the corner of the altar, prays God to multiply in the heart of the faithful the gifts of His grace, that as, by the death of His Divine Son, we have faith and hope in the life to come, so, by His resurrection, we may one day have the happiness of attaining to it. A lesson is then read from the book of Exodus, after which the deacon chants the narrative of the triumphal entry into Jerusalem as recorded in the Gospel of St. Matthew. Then the celebrant solemnly blesses the Palms, the beautiful prayers, which he sings meanwhile, setting forth in language full of unction the mysterious meaning of the ceremony, and invoking the divine blessing upon all who receive the symbolical branches, as well as upon their homes.

The Procession which follows, commemorates the journey from Bethania to Jerusalem, when Our Lord was so enthusiatically welcomed by His people. But as the procession, headed by the sub-deacon bearing the cross, is about to re-enter the church, they find it closed against them. It is no longer the earthly, but the heavenly Jerusalem to which they seek admission. The voices that are heard within singing the praises of Christ, are the voices of the Angelic choirs, celebrating the entrance of Our Lord into the heavenly city, while the voices outside the church, which at every verse take up the refrain, are those of the people who have been conducting Our Lord in triumph into the earthly Jerusalem. It is only when the sub-deacon strikes the door with the staff of the cross, that it is thrown open, and the procession enters, proclaiming the praise of Him who is our resurrection and our life. For it is only Jesus, the King of Glory, Who by His victorious Cross has opened to us the gates of the kingdom of heaven, thus uniting the Church militant with the Church triumphant.

The Mass which follows the Procession bears not a trace of the exuberant joy, which is so marked a feature of what precedes. The parts that are sung by the choir, are expressive of the deepest desolation, and the history of Our Lord's Passion, which is read in advance, gives to the rest of the day that character of sacred gloom which we are wont to associate with it.

THE OFFICE OF TENEBRAE

In this office, all is sad and mournful, as in a funeral service. The candles that burn in the sanctuary are of unbleached wax, the tabernacle is empty. The formulas expressive of joy and hope, with which the several parts of the divine office usually begin, are all omitted, and only the essential form is retained. Thus, in other ways, does holy Church seek to impress upon her children a sense of profound grief at the sufferings and death of her Divine Spouse.

The name Tenebrae, meaning darkness, refers to the hour at which Matins and Lauds should properly be recited, that is, during the night. But even where this is not the case, the name has still a special appropriateness in reference to the gradual extinction of the lights in the sanctuary, one of these on the triangle being extinguished after each psalm, and those on the altar during the singing of the canticle of Zachary. The purpose of this ceremony is to express the obscuring of the glory of the Son of God during the ignominies of the Passion, and the desertion of the Apostles and disciples, who all, leaving Him, fled away.

The single candle which is left burning at the top of the triangle, and then for a moment held upon the altar, is Christ, Our Lord, Who even when suffering and dying on the Cross, remains ever the Light of the world. His light is hid for a brief space, while His body lies buried in the tomb, and hence the candle is concealed for a while behind the altar, but presently, amid the gloom that pervades the sanctuary, a confused noise is heard, and the lighted candle reappears. It is Jesus rising from the grave, after the convulsions of nature that signalized His death.

HOLY THURSDAY, MARCH 25

What day could be more appropriate for the fulfillment of the Easter Duty than this, on which we commemorate the institution of the Adorable Sacrament. Certainly no one, who has leisure, should fail to attend Holy Mass. It is today that the unbloody Sacrifice of the new law was first offered up, and it is today that Christ gave to His Apostles that ministerial power, by which they, too, could offer the same Sacrifice, being made priests forever according to the order of Melchisedech. The Holy Eucharist, whether we consider it as a Sacrament, or as a Sacrifice, was instituted on the eve of Our Lord's Passion, and we should prove ourselves strangely ungrateful, if, believing what we do, we should neglect to give evidence of our faith, when the occasion would seem to call for some very special manifestation of it.

It is the Repository, where Our Lord's blessed Body is reserved, that gives to Holy Thursday a character of solemn joyousness, which is peculiarly its own, and it is with hearts full of gratitude and veneration, that the faithful hasten today to the house of God, to spend at least a few moments prostrate before their hidden Saviour. The profusion of lights and flowers, and the other rich ornaments of the holy place, bespeak the liveliness of their faith, and the depth and tenderness of their love, and the stream of worshippers that flows by in ceaseless procession the whole livelong day, is proof that in spite of the widespread indifference in matters of religion which is so deploringly a feature of the times, there is also a strong leaven of genuine piety, and of intense personal devotion to Our Lord, which through God's blessing may be instrumental sooner or later in permeating the whole mass, and in bringing mankind back once more to the feet of Jesus Christ.

But despite its religious joyfulness, this Festival is at the same time deeply tinged with sorrow. For we are on the very eve of Our Saviour's Passion, and the great gift, which is the motive of our gladness, is a gift from the hands of Our dying Lord, and is bequeathed as a memorial of His death. That we may give free reign to our joy, and may keep with exultation the memory of this greatest of God's wondrous works, Holy Church will establish another special Festival in the glad Easter time. Meanwhile, as we bow down in loving adoration before our Eucharistic Lord, we shall behold in the Blessed Sacrament a sweet reminder of Our Saviour's sufferings and death. The Sacred Host that is kept in the Repository today, is the same that will be consumed tomorrow in the Mass of the Presanctified.

GOOD FRIDAY, MARCH 26

Our one great pre-occupation today should be with the all-absorbing mystery of the Passion of Our Divine Redeemer. If we are able to attend the various functions that will take place at the Gesu, with but little interruption, from morning till night, they will greatly contribute to awaken in us such sentiments as the death of Jesus should inspire. So deep is the impression made upon Holy Church today by the anniversary of the Sacrifice of Calvary, that she suspends her daily oblation, the mystic Sacrifice of the Mass, and prefers to have her children fix all their attention on the great tragedy itself, of which the Mass is but the unbloody renewal.

Almost the first feature of the morning office is the solemn chanting of the Passion, which by its dramatic character and the sorrowful tone of the music, cannot fail to produce a profound impression, and so dispose us to profit by all that follows by way of commemorating this most mournful anniversary. Then follows those wonderful prayers, which the priest offers up in the name of the Church for every class of persons from the Soverign Pontiff to the least of the clergy, for the faithful and for those outside the Church, not even excepting the perfidious Jews, and for the manifold needs of mankind.

Next comes the unveiling, and, immediately afterwards, the Adoration of the Cross, two strikingly beautiful and most impressive ceremonies. There is no need of telling Catholics that the adoration we pay to the Cross is relative adoration, being referred, of course, to Him Who for our sakes died upon the Cross. The Mass, which follows is called the Mass of the Presanctified, because the Host, which is consumed by the priest, is not consecrated at the Mass itself on Good Friday, but is brought to the altar from the Repository, where it has been reserved since the day before when it was consecrated in the Mass on Holy Thursday.

The Three Hours' Agony, which begins at noon, is an admirable practice for uniting the hearts of the faithful with Our Divine Lord during the most solemn part of the day. This it does in a way that is at once easy and delightful, and while every feature of the devotion bears directly on the great event commemorated, there is no room for anything akin to weariness, and, along with the blessed fruit of sorrow for sin, the soul reaps much spiritual advantage in numerous other ways.

HOLY SATURDAY, MARCH 27

Only the mournful part of today's office belongs by right to Holy Saturday, the day on which Our Lord's body lay in the sepulchre. In the first ages it was not until the approach of daybreak on Sunday morning, that the faithful, who had spent the whole night watching in the church, were privileged to assist at the Mass, which was then offered up in memory of the risen Christ. And if the hour of the Resurrection is now anticipated, and the Holy Sacrifice is joyfully and solemnly celebrated as early as Saturday morning, it is because Holy Church would give her children a foretaste of the Easter gladness.

The fire, which is blessed at the beginning of the ceremony, is struck from a flint, and it represents Jesus Christ rising from His rockhewn sepulcher through the stone that has been rolled against it. From it the Paschal Candle, the lamps of the church, and the candles that are placed on the altar, are all lighted, the new light symbolizing the preaching of the new law of Christ, as the putting out of the lights, which preceded, signified the passing of the old dispensation.

The five grains of incense, whose blessing immediately follows that of the fire, represents the perfumes prepared by Mary Magdalene and her companions. They are inserted in the Paschal Candle in the form of a cross, and so symbolize again the five wounds. The Paschal Candle itself, whose eulogy is sung with such extraordinary solemnity by the deacon, arrayed as on a festal day, is another emblem of our Divine Saviour and it is for Him that the Church intends the enthusiastic praises which she lavishes upon it. Before being lit, it is a figure of Our Lord lying lifeless in the tomb; when lit, we see in it the glory of Jesus victorious over death. It will grace the sanctuary until Ascension day, when He, Whom it symbolizes, will be taken up into heaven, and so, for a time, disappear from the sight of His beloved disciples.

To Our Parishioners:

We cannot urge too strongly the necessity of patronizing the advertisers in the Gesu Parish Monthly Calendar, and of returning the same generous support they are giving to us. In other words, buy your goods from the firms that are using our pages to address you, and thus helping us.

These advertisers with us are live, energetic business men, thoroughly responsible, and know what it means to have their names placed prominently before this parish.

Vigil Lights

Vigil Lights that keep on burning through the lonely day and night,
Oh, what stories they could tell us of the ones who seek their light;
Hearts made sad and heavy-laden kneel in prayer before these Shrines,
There to lay the trials and sorrows that oppress their souls and mine;
Oh, the stream of prayer and pleading sent to heaven from these lights,
As they beg God, in their vigil, to have pain and grief take flight;
Gladly would distressed souls linger through the day and night in prayer,
But the world, so busy, beckons, and its burden each must share;

So we light the Vigil Candles, of our prayer they form a part,
When we leave, they keep our vigil, asking favors from His Heart;
All our love and trust they stand for, faith and hope are in their glow,
As their tiny flickers beg God, blessings on us to bestow;
All the hurts and tribulations that the human heart can know,
All men's hopes are represented in the Vigil Candles' glow;
Prayers for health, for sight, for hearing; prayers for loved ones gone astray,
Pleadings to obtain positions, prayers to bear our cross each day;

Prayers to find our true vocation, prayers of distressed, nervous souls,
Prayers of Mothers for their children, that each one shall reach life's goal;
Prayers for happiness in marriage, prayers to lift the curse of drink,
Prayers to love and serve God better in all we do or say or think;
All our human pains and heartaches go to form this Life's Bouquet,
That the burning Vigil Candles bring to Christ's Heart every day;
No one knows the things accomplished, none can tell the wrongs made right,
Nor the favors Jesus grants us just because of Vigil Lights.

WILLIAM F. SHERIDAN.

TWO CRYING NEEDS OF THE CHURCH

I wonder how many of our good people are aware of the decayed state of our church roof, now entering upon its forty-ninth year? When good weather returns, very extensive repairs will be absolutely necessary if we shall literally keep a roof over God's House. How many thousands of dollars this will cost we do not as yet know, for the final report of the architect has not been submitted.

Likewise very considerable alterations and replacements in our boiler room and heating system are imperative. It is thirty-seven years since replacements of this kind have been made. They cannot be postponed another year. This expense will be no less than twenty-five hundred dollars.

To meet these extraordinary outlays, we must call upon extraordinary generosity. There has been a noticeable falling-off in our Sunday collection, as compared with a year ago. Should this continue, we could hardly hope to supply current needs, to say nothing of taking care of these two unusual but absolutely necessary repairs.

We feel that we have but to make a clear, frank statement of the needs of the church and they will forthwith be supplied by the love and devotion of our people. Our people have made sacrifices for their church in the past, and there is no reason to doubt that the same loyal, generous spirit still animates all of us.

Easter Greetings

As returning Spring, with its brightness and beauty, fills our hearts with hope of brighter and better things in the world about us, so may the glorious Easter festival quicken our faith, inflame our charity, for our Risen Saviour, and establish us the more firmly and immovably in the hope of the eternal light and life which He restored to the world when He arose triumphant and immortal from the tomb. This is the Easter Greeting which Reverend Father Rector and all the Fathers extend to all our parishioners and friends and pray that the blessings of this Holy Season may descend upon you and yours and remain forever.

Every Monday Evening

Excitement runs high at the Monday Evening Entertainment Parties, which are held in the High School Auditorium. Many valuable prizes are given away each time.

Added to all the grand prizes every week, there is a gold certificate for a special prize which will be given on the night of our last game. Anyone who has already received a certificate, we would like to ask that they keep it safely until the last game is announced.

All of the above, added to an inexpensive night's fun, will make you want to come again and again.

The Parties have become very popular. If you have not been there, stop for a minute and ask yourself just why you haven't.

Come to the aid of your own "Gesu" by attending these evenings of real entertainment and grand surprises in the generous distribution of prizes each week. Each Monday the best prizes of any of the whole city are positively given away free.

We have people coming from all sections of the city and taking home grand prizes. Don't you want to come and have your chance to share in these wonderful offerings? Admission is only 35 cents, entitling you to a chance on 35 most valuable prizes, besides gold certificates and attendance chances for the Final Grand Award.

The Gesu Young Men's Sodality

The Sodality of the Blessed Virgin Mary is considered one of the greatest religious organizations in the Church for the laity. In the Sodality, the members fully participate in the recitation of the Office of the Blessed Virgin Mary and sing canticles, or hymns, in her honor.

The Gesu Young Men's Sodality has had a glorious history since its origin. During the forty-five years of its illustrious existence, its membership included many outstanding and distinguished men in the professional and lay walks of life.

Today, the Sodality still continues in the very commendable task of training and enlightening young men to become loyal and devoted sons of Mary through their devotion as members of the Sodality.

To the Catholic youth of eighteen years and upwards, the Gesu Young Men's Sodality offers many advantages. While the teaching of religious training and devotion to the Blessed Virgin Mary are of primary importance in the Sodality, yet in the society there is cultivated a pleasant social and recreational life.

Gesu Notre Dame Alumnae

The Gesu Notre Dame Alumnae basketball team won the second of a two game series with St. Richard's team, when they defeated their opponents 26-24, in a game played at St. Richard's on Thursday, March 11. The Alumnae lost the first game played several weeks ago by a score of 13-9. Several other games are on the schedule to be played soon.

Gesu Grade School

The Gesu Grade School basketball team won in the first round of the St. Joseph's Prep Tournament by beating St. Joseph's (Collingdale) by a score of 17 to 9.

In the second round they lost by one point in a fast and interesting game with St. Matthew's, the score being 16 to 15.

Holy Name Notes

Our Holy Name Society marches on. An increasing number of men march up to the altar rail each month and thus manifest publicly their faith in God and His Son, their Redeemer. Fully 300 men did so on the second Sunday of March. To many this seemed satisfactory, but can we be satisfied when this number comprises only twenty-five percent of the total number of men in the parish? With seventy-five percent of our men refusing to respond to the appeals of their spiritual directors to join their brothers and profess their faith publicly in the divinity of Jesus Christ and thus show the enemies of God that they are ready to fight for Him if necessary, it is difficult to see how we can be enthusiastic about our men.

Communism with its allies, irreligion, atheism, agnosticism, liberalism, ignorance and weakness of faith, cause fear for the future.

At the February meeting new officers were elected. Mr. Thomas McPhillips was chosen president, Mr. Edward Coogan vice-president, Jas. F. Dougherty, Esq., secretary, and F. Maguire treasurer.

Anthony Cherricola, Frank Ryan, John Oebecke, Frank McCabe and Joseph Monahan were elected consultors and delegates to the Holy Name Quarterly Convention.

At our last meeting it was decided to conduct an entertainment in the latter part of April.

Easter Duty

The practice of going to Confession and Communion at least once a year, at Easter time, is the minimum requirement for practical membership in the Church. A Catholic who will not do at least this is not deserving of anything more than the title of nominal Catholic. If such a person really believes what he professes to believe about the Sacrament of Penance and Holy Eucharist, it would not be necessary for our Holy Mother, the Church, to tell him that if he will not do at least this, he deserves to be disowned by her and no longer regarded as her child. Catholics who neglect this duty may keep up for a time an outward show of church membership by attending such services occasionally and going to no other church, but this makes them only the shadows or ghosts of Catholics—not living members of the Church. There is no life in them, because the Master has said: "Unless you eat my flesh and drink my blood you shall not have life in you." It is quite remarkable that among such people are often found men and women who are prepared, on occasions, to defend their religion in an argument with non-Catholics to fight for their religion, to stand up for it; but they are not prepared to kneel down for it—to pray and approach the Sacraments. It is on account of such Catholics as these that the precept concerning Easter duty is necessary.

The Easter Duty is the obligation of every Catholic of requisite age to receive Holy Communion within the Easter time. During this time it binds, under pain of mortal sin, all those who enjoy the use of reason.

The Easter time extends from the First Sunday of Lent until Trinity Sunday. Trinity Sunday this year is May 23.

Those who are not able to go to church during the Easter season, or those in charge of them must notify the priest, so that he may bring Communion to the former, although they be in no danger of death.

Do Unto Others As You Would Have Others Do Unto You

Let this be our motto and the theme of our story as we present it to those of our neighbors whose co-operation we seek in concerted action to preserve our neighborhood from those things which impair it; whether it be undesirable business practices, undesirable neighbors, unsanitary or unhealthy conditions, dangerous street crossings, etc.; anything that might inspire the timid to leave or deter them from entering. Our aim is to improve and keep improved our properties, our homes, our neighborhoods.

Therefore, let us proceed on the Golden Rule! No one wants his neighbor to do anything detrimental to his property; therefore, appeal to his sense of justice to do nothing that will be detrimental to his neighbor's property.

Mr. Mitchell, Traffic Engineer of Philadelphia, after a lengthy discussion of our traffic problems by mail, climaxed by a personal interview with the officers of our organization, has agreed to our demands to establish restrictive measures to eliminate the special hazards which exist at Wiley and Ridge Avenue, 18th and Ridge Avenue, Oxford Street and other points which were brought to his attention. It is only by presenting the emphatic wishes of the entire neighborhood as a group, however, that these things can be given recognition, therefore, try to realize that if you are not doing your bit towards making these accomplishments possible, someone else, perhaps more busy than yourself has to take valuable time to represent you. Do try, therefore, to lend your own personal efforts towards speedier accomplishment.

Last week the Association had the opportunity to learn from an expert just how the heating situation with its difficulties can be handled from an economical and labor-saving angle, and since out-moded and insufficient heating facilities are among the difficulties we encounter in this locality, his address was received with attention and interest; and by the response from the audience, no doubt some of our good neighbors will profit by his instructions. If you were not at the meeting, inquire of those of your neighbors who were there. They will be glad to relay his message to you.

The covenants are in circulation and a neighborhood meeting conducted in the north section by Dr. Stokes at the request of those neighbors was helpful both to the neighbors and to the organization, because no one knows the particular difficulties of any neighborhood as well as those who live in it—and when they gather together to discuss their problems and exchange their ideas, mutual benefit is the natural result.

Is your property and your living conditions worth one dollar a year?

That is the nominal sum which is asked as a contribution to the expense entailed in carrying out our activities. Your contribution will be well spent and productive of good results. However, more important than your financial support is your personal assistance. What are you willing to do? Please come to the next meeting and tell us.

Sincerely,

GESU PARISH IMPROVEMENT ASSOCIATION.

THE ANNUNCIATION—APRIL 5

The Incarnation is that mystery of our religion wherein Jesus Christ, the Second Person of the Blessed Trinity, the eternal Son of the eternal Father, takes flesh in the womb of the Virgin Mary, to be born of her for Mother. Coupling this event in Christ's life with the Annunciation, the corresponding mystery in Mary's life, we are face to face with a world four thousand years old; a world cursed by its Maker that day He drove Adam and Eve from the garden with a sword of flame, and set an angel at its entrance to warn away intruders. This curse of God has lain heavily and long on earth, and men have had abundant opportunity to feel all the weight of God's greater wrath. It is high time for God to call a halt to things and save mankind from the suicide's grave. And so the Blessed Trinity meets in solemn conclave to devise ways and means of salvation. Recourse must be had to some extraordinary method. All the means hitherto employed to bring men back to a sense of their duty have egregiously failed. Looking down the ages, the august Persons of the Trinity notice that the world's woes had their origin in a mad desire on the part of angels and men to resemble their Creator. Therefore, to attack the evil in its root, and remove all excuse for future periods of rebellion, God will so arrange things that men will hereafter be able without loss to ambition assemblance with their Maker. God will leave His throne in Heaven, descend to earth, and pose as a model for the sons of men. The test of salvation will be resemblance with Christ, God made man and a living example in all of life's varying stages. He will take flesh from the womb of a virgin, practice in a heroic degree all the virtues native to childhood, youth and manhood, cancel a world's debt with the Father, and win for mankind a supply of supernatural helps abundantly able to tide it over the difficulties incident to human nature.

And Gabriel, the messenger of the Incarnation, stands plumed and poised on the battlements of Heaven, ready for his journey to the earth.

We can reverently assist at the momentous conference between himself and the Virgin maid of Galilee. He is ambassador from the Trinity, commissioned to lay before her plans conceived in Heaven for mankind's redemption. God's wisdom waits on her approval. At word from her the Second of the Three divine Persons stands ready to assume flesh and inaugurate with an astounding act of humility the world's redemption. Even angels are respectful in the presence of consummate holiness, and Gabriel with all the etiquette of Heaven makes graceful obeisance for prelude to his momentous message:

Ave gratia plena—Dominus tecum—Benedicta tu in mulieribus. "Hail, full of grace." His exordium is in strict keeping with the rest of his speech. An old writer notes the circumstance that Ave is Eva with the letters reversed. Our first mother heaped our heads with malediction. Within a short hour our Second Mother Mary, "Mutans Evae nomen," is to change these curses to blessings, and turn back the hands on the face of time. "Full of grace." Mary is poor in this world's possessions, but she is full to overflowing with the one treasure worth having. Grace is better than learning, better than wealth, better than the favor of an entire people; and in this gift she is rich beyond compare. Grace is coin current in the Kingdom of God. It has a purchasing power there. It can buy for us a seat among the elect; and, with this single privilege secure, all else is a matter of very small moment. We are ourselves empty vessels, and our God-appointed task is to fill our hearts to the top with this rare blessing. The sacraments are its channels, confession and Communion are the distributing depots of this heavenly favor; and we must be greedy with hunger for this bread of the elect, this wine that produces virgins.

"The Lord is with thee." The Lord was always at her side. But in the Incarnation she begins to experience a nearness hitherto unheard of among creatures. That other union, common with Mary to all the sons and daughters of men, involved only intimacy of spirit and union of wills; but in this mystery God becomes flesh of her flesh, and her virginal body becomes a veritable temple for the Holy Trinity in the true and physical sense of the word.

"Blessed art thou among women." Fame is that quality in virtue of which a person's praise is commensurate with his acquaintance, and holiness is true fame. All generations shall call Mary blessed, and fame is somewhere described as a mixture of notoriety and praise. Mary is the crowning glory of womanhood in each of womanhood's three conditions. Women are virgins, widows or wives, and in all three capacities Mary surpassed her sisters. Virgins deserve and have praise for their splendid purity; but they are childless, and in the Old Law to be without children was a reproach. Widows are commendable for the freedom they enjoy to serve God with all their hearts; but they are alone, and Scripture somewhere pities the soul condemned to loneliness. Wives win glory in the right education of their sons and daughters; but they suffer loss of their virginity, and this knows no recompense. But Mary was a virgin without being childless, she was a widow without being alone, and she was a wife and mother without detriment to her virginity. With reason, therefore, do we proclaim her blessed among women. She possessed in their fullness all the towering prerogatives of virgin, widow and wife, without any of the humiliating circumstances attaching to the three conditions. "How shall this be done, because I know not man?" Therefore, all her hesitancy is rooted in solicitude for angelic purity. God is mightily pleased with such doubts. Popularity must yield to love for chastity, and a world's salvation must be abandoned when it threatens this virtue. Mary stands ready to resign the honor of divine motherhood rather than lose chastity. Time is fleeting, honor is short, pleasure palls, and all the pomp of married splendor perishes; but virgins sing that song forever, marching past their Captain's tent with palms in hand and crowned. Virgins, when all else is gone, can bear this lily of their innocence from the wreck of their fortunes and lay it at the feet of their true Spouse, Christ, in Heaven. And now the angel Gabriel proceeds to banish all her fears by laying bare the very depths of this profound mystery. No human father shall have part in the birth of her Child.

"The Holy Ghost shall come upon thee, and the power of the Most High shall overshadow thee. And the Holy which shall be born of thee shall be called the Son of God." The Child in question is to be God and man. To indicate this, some departure from the ordinary process must be made. In His birth there must be an element proclaiming Him man, and an element proclaiming Him God. A woman conceives Him, and so secures resemblance with other men. A virgin conceives Him with no man for father, and so lifts His birth to a higher plane than human. Birth from a virgin, with the Holy Ghost for active principle, is in eminent accord with divinity. With her virginity secure, Mary's mind is now at ease; and in her heart she is framing the words of acceptance that soon must make a world free.

"Behold the handmaid of the Lord; be it done to me according to thy word." Blushing, the maid of Galilee bears her honors. No empty boast, no word of exultation escapes her lips. Proclaiming herself a servant, with her eyes on her own unworthiness, she goes out to meet the dignity. And acceptance of the solemn trust cost her a pang. She somewhat knew the pain in waiting along the years. And yet in full view of the cross, with the edge of Simeon's sword tearing her heart, she sealed the stupendous contract for a world's redemption. For my sake and yours she agrees to walk the way of sacrifice, in company with her divine Son, and share His sorrows to win the title of partner in His triumph. We no longer trace our descent back to Eve. Mary is now mother to mankind. A new era opens, Heaven's gates swing wide. This handmaid administers a stinging defeat to hell's rebel king. Men can breathe again. God is with us. God is with us Emmanuel!

SOLEMNITY OF ST. JOSEPH, WEDNESDAY, APRIL 14

The sum total of what we know of St. Joseph as set down in the Gospels is that he was a just man. The hand of God Himself has written the epitaph of this illustrious saint in one short line; he was a just man; and when the Almighty comes to put His sign of approval upon any of His servants, justice counts for everything; it is the quintessence of commendation, the utmost eminence and limit of glory and praise. It is that possession which makes the soul resemble God in thoughts and tastes and likings, and thus wins for the soul that mysterious grace which is its chief adornment. For we must know that the soul puts on with justice a spiritual garb, in which we should be ever clothed and for whose costliness and rare beauty we should be conspicuous to all the world. When, therefore, we have God's word for justice of St. Joseph, we have that same divine word exhorting us to find in the life of the foster-father of Jesus the many virtues that blossomed forth in the life of the Divine Child, Who deigned to be content with the companionship and tutelage of Joseph, the Carpenter of Nazareth.

A Pattern of Heroic Virtue

St. Joseph was a just man, and there is no state of life, there is no condition or grade of society which cannot discover in him a patron of heroic virtue. In all his dealing with God he proved himself a man of sublimest faith. The Gospels are singularly silent about this wonderful and dearly-loved saint, and the story of his life is all too briefly told. From the early beginning of his years, when he served in the Temple, he set off with a determination to become a saint and to build up for himself a noble character from materials that lay around him in every-day life. We know how he quitted himself of his resolve; how he saw and secured in the most trifling duties the elements of a grand achievement; and how, despite the distress of poverty and the pressure of many a hard obedience, he never relaxed once with the practice of the most austere virtues. Every period of his life, every stage of his advancement in holiness, every feature of his character discloses the beauty and the sweetness and the unblemished innocence of a soul whom the Lord had sanctified and set near Himself. Year after year of his life dropped away, yet one year did but furnish promise of the abundant fruit that was to follow.

And fittingly as may be said of St. Joseph, what can be observed of every saint, that his life was one of precious sufferings and noble labors wrought to worship God with unremitting fidelity, yet the fact that he lived always by faith and that he was ever filled with the spirit of faith, was the distinctive mark and the virtue peculiarly his own by which the Lord blessed and exalted him. He abode in God at all times and lived for Him with an ever-earnest love, and this, too, indeed, whether the times that passed over his soul were the seasons of joy and happiness, or whether they were the peaceful hours of spiritual welfare; for St. Joseph, not unlike ourselves, had his hours of darkness and his days and nights of trial and anxiety.

A Saint of the Wayside

Thus we see the true beauty of the character of St. Joseph and the unquestionable claim he has upon our devotion and imitation. For he was a simple saint of the wayside, so to speak, formed and fashioned after the meek and humble, the simple and gentle Heart of Christ. And it was from the constant communings with the Heart of Christ that St. Joseph learnt the all important lesson of looking to God as his aim in labor, his hope in poverty, his consolation in trials, his friend at all times. Labor, poverty and trials count for a great deal in the Christian life, and any life would be far from noble without them. Did not the master of sainthood, Ignatius of Loyola, say that sickness is a blessing no less than health? It was under the roof of St. Joseph that the Christian life with its just esteem of pain, sorrow and infirmity found its beginnings. St. Joseph practised every phase of that life in the spirit of the faith of which he is chief exemplar. For his was a faith well tried in the furnace of tribulation. Suffering and poverty often visited his home, the home of the Child of Sorrows; and sorrow many a time knocked at the door of his heart, yet he always welcomed such trials as gifts from the hand of the loving Father above, on whose bosom he could sleep in peace, feeling the clasp of His hand and seeing the smile of His countenance.

Faith like that of St. Joseph is the crying need of our lives; and when we pray to him, as we should every day of our lives, we must pray that we may be established like him in unbounded faith. He will not hesitate to hear us; for he was the personification of kindness in word and deed, and we know that his kindness still goes forth to bless and enrich the lowliest of his devout clients. With him for a friend and guide the sunlight of justice will beat full and strong upon the pathway of our lives, and when death comes our beloved St. Joseph will be near us with Mary and Jesus to lead us safely through the portals of the life everlasting.

ST. PETER CANISIUS, S.J., DOCTOR OF THE CHURCH, APRIL 27

The Universal Church celebrates on April 27, the Feast of St. Peter Canisius, canonized during the Holy Year and proclaimed at the same time Doctor of the Church.

Peter Canisius was the first German to join the Society of Jesus. He entered on May 8, 1543, less than three years after the Papal approbation of the new Order. He was at that time just twenty-two years old, having been born on May 8, 1521, at Nymwegen, in the Netherlands, a city then under German rule.

In 1540 he had received the degree of Master of Arts at Cologne and having resolved to become a priest, had bound himself by a vow of perpetual virginity. Some Jesuits having come to Cologne, Canisius heard of Blessed Peter Fabre, the first companion of St. Ignatius, who was then at Mainz, and went thither to consult him on his vocation. Blessed Peter directed him in the "Spiritual exercises" of St. Ignatius, during which the young student bound himself to apply for the new Order and, if not admitted, to join any Order the Superior would point out.

After his admission, he continued his studies at Cologne and was ordained to the priesthood in 1546. So great was the reputation he acquired as a theologian, that in 1547 he was designated by Cardinal Otto von Truchsess as his representative at the Council of Trent. In September of that year he went to Rome to make his final probation under the guidance of St. Ignatius. In March, 1548, he went to Messina to teach, but God had chosen him to be "the second apostle of Germany," and so in 1549 he returned to Rome, where on September 4 he pronounced his solemn vows. On that day he was enraptured by a vision of the Sacred Heart at the tomb of the Apostles.

From Rome he was sent to Ingolstadt. On the way he received the degree of Doctor of Theology at Bologna. A year later at the age of twenty-nine he was elected rector of the University of Ingolstadt, where he taught theology, catechized and preached. In 1552 he went to the new college at Vienna to teach theology and preach. Three times, we are told, he was offered the bishopric of Vienna, which in obedience to his Jesuit vow he refused. One of the last administrative acts of the life of St. Ignatius Loyola was the appointment of Father Canisius as provincial of Germany, in June, 1556.

The special work of St. Peter Canisius was the publication of the three editions of his catechism, one intended for advanced students, a short extract for school children, and a catechism for the lower and middle grades. All three were most effective in preserving the Catholic religion in the western part of Germany and in Austria. Noteworthy also are his works on the abuses of Scripture texts by Protestant theologians, and on our Blessed Lady, but the list of his occasional writings fills many colums in the bibliography of the Society of Jesus. He labored for forty-one years before his holy death on December 21, 1597.

Easter Joy

Christ's Resurrection is the surety of our resurrection. We, too, are to rise from the grave, either unto life everlasting with God, or everlasting banishment from God and happiness. How our resurrection will be accomplished we know not. But we do know, on the word of God, that it shall be effected. Round about us there are many things which typify the resurrection. The seed cast into the soil dies before it springs to new and increased life. Every winter we see the pall of death spread over the earth, only to give way, under the warmth of spring, to new life.

The vile worm of earth, the caterpillar, goes into its tomb a creeping thing of earth, to emerge after a time a beautiful winged creature of the air. As a butterfly it sails the air a lovely object to behold. So we, now creatures of earth, shall rise in due time to a glorious and immortal life, if in this life we be true to our Divine Leader and Model. Where Christ is in glory, there shall His loyal followers dwell with Him, sharing His Divine life. Easter, therefore, is truly a joyous day. It is the day the Lord has glorified, a day which brings hope into the most dismal life, and brightness into the darkest outlook. This is the day the Lord hath made, let us rejoice in it, Alleluia!

A wayfarer on a rough and steep road does not mind the hardships of the way, provided it lead to comfort, opulence and peace. The Resurrection of Christ is a Divine guarantee that this life is the way to eternal life. I proclaim that no matter what be the vicissitudes and inequalities of our earthly pilgrimage, our Heavenly Father's welcome awaits us at the end, if only we walk in the path which our Saviour marked out. A miner from the wilds, laden with gold, does not mind the burden, nor the privations of the way, as he proceeds back to civilization, because he knows that his treasure will enable him to live in the enjoyment of all that his heart yearns for. We are pilgrims on the way to the country beyond the grave. The Resurrection assures us that the burdens and privations of life may be converted into gold for the kingdom of Heaven. In God's providence they are the means of purchasing for us the home He has prepared for those only who love Him and who prove their love by fidelity under the various trials of life. If it was necessary for Christ, our Leader and Model, to suffer in order to enter His glory, we should not be surprised if we, too, should be required to enter by the same gate. The Resurrection is the Divine alchemy which transmutes the base metals of life into gold for God's kingdom.

It is because the Resurrection gives to Christians the Divine assurance of immortal life beyond the grave that it has made them superior to persecution, misfortune, injustice and every adversity. No wonder, then, that on this day there is joy upon earth. No wonder that Christians repeat with Holy Church: "This is the day which the Lord hath made; let us be glad and rejoice therein. Give praise to the Lord, for He is good, for His mercy endureth forever, Alleluia."

This Divine assurance gives the followers of Christ that peace and joy which the world can neither give nor take away. Easter joy is based on God's promise that where He is in glory His lovers will be. We can all be lovers of the risen Christ, if we keep His commandments. "If you love Me, keep My Commandments." We can be great lovers of Christ, if for His sake we do what is specially pleasing to Him. "If thou wilt be perfect, follow Me." We follow Christ, whenever for His sake we do our best to help His cause, whether it be by our virtuous example, or by kindness in the home and outside, or by assistance to those who are sacrificing their lives for Him in missionary lands.

Sacrifice is the great proof of love, whether it be of our life or of our goods. Not that God needs us or our possessions. The earth is His and the fulness thereof. But He has given us life and placed His possessions in our hands that we may have the honor and merit of using them for His glory. It is an honor to be allowed to do something for an earthly monarch. It is a much greater honor to be allowed to do something for the King of kings. The Resurrection is God's own guarantee that, to them who love Him, He will grant a share in His own everlasting life of glory.

"Regina Coeli"

Queen of heaven, rejoice, Alleluia,
For He Whom thou didst deserve to bear, Alleluia,
Is risen again as He said, Alleluia.
Pray for us to God, Alleluia.

V. Be glad and rejoice, O Virgin Mary Alleluia.
R. For the Lord is risen indeed. Alleluia.

The "Regina Coeli" replaces the "Angelus" during Paschal Time. It is said, standing, from noon on Holy Saturday to noon on the Saturday before Trinity Sunday, both inclusive, and the indulgences granted to the recitation of the Angelus (100 days each time and a plenary indulgence once a month for those who recite it at least once a day at the sound of the bell) are accorded to it during this time.

Let Us Pray

O God, Who through the Resurrection of Thy Son, Our Lord Jesus Christ, didst deign to give joy to the world, grant, we besech Thee, that through His Mother, the Virgin Mary, we may obtain the joys of everlasting life. Through the same Christ our Lord. Amen.

On Being Liberal

One of the common religious fallacies is that it is of no great consequence what a man believes, provided he is sincere. How often we hear: "If a man is honest and upright, a loyal citizen, a good father, a faithful husband, what difference can it make what form of religion he holds to?" The state of mind which can make a man talk in this fashion is wholly unintelligible. It is equivalent to asserting that it does not matter two straws whether a man is believing the truth or whether he accepts what may be a pack of lies and falsehoods. It is as though one should declare that truth is no better than falsehood, in fact no better than fiction, and that it is all the same whether a man builds his house on the rock or on the sand. Such talk ought to inspire horror and disgust; but instead of people becoming indignant at this indifference to truth, there is rather a tendency to be pleased.

When these appaling sentiments are uttered, the world admires and calls them "liberal." "Oh, what a charming gentleman! How broadminded! How liberal! How very kind and unsectarian!" And yet it is doubtful that St. Paul, who had what might be called exceptional opportunities to know the truth, would agree with him. St. Paul knows but one gospel and bitterly does he denounce those who would tamper with it. It matters not to the great Apostle who the new teacher may be, how great, how learned, how wise. "Though an angel from Heaven preach a gospel to you other than that which we have preached to you, let him be anathema" (Galat. 1-8).

And the Catholic Church, because she has the spirit of Christ, and because her Divine Master founded her to bear witness to the truth, is as emphatic as St. Paul in her denunciation of any who will teach another doctrine or propound any gospel other than that which has been committed to her keeping. Heresy she regards as the greatest of sins, and though she loves the heretic, especially if he is in good faith, she cannot but detest and execrate the heresy.

The reasons why a man's creed is quite as important and necessary as his conduct are (1) because if God has made a revelation we are obliged to receive it entirely as He gave it; (2) because we are as strictly bound to submit our reason to God by faith in His teachings as we are bound to submit our will to Him by obedience to His commands; (3) because it cannot be a matter of indifference to any reasonable man whether his intellect is stored with lies and fables or occupied by important and eternal truths; (3) because faith and conduct are, as a matter of fact, so closely connected that what affects the one will surely affect the other; if conduct is of importance, then faith is of importance. Is it not a truism that throughout life, in great things and in small, we act according to our beliefs? If a person offers you a ring, sparkling with jewels, for a certain price, you will act in one way if you believe the stone to be genuine or honestly obtained, and in quite another if you think them stolen or made of paste. As a man thinks, so will he act. To change a man's creed is to change his acts, his conduct, the whole tenor of his life. To change it from false to true is to give him a priceless jewel; to change it from true to false or from false to falser is to deceive him with a counterfeit jewel.

A Great Life

Do not try to do a great thing; you may waste all your life waiting for the opportunity which may never come. But since little things are always claiming your attention, do them, as they come, for a great motive, for the glory of God, to win His smile of approval and to do good to men. It is better to plod on in obscurity, acting thus than to stand on the high places in the field within a view of all and do deeds of valor at which rival armies stand still to gaze. But no such act goes without the swift recompense of God.

To fulfill faithfully the duties of your station; to use to the uttermost the gifts that God has given you; to bear chafing and trivial irritations as martyrs before the pillory and the stake; to find the one noble trait in people who try to molest you; to put the kindest construction on unkind acts and words; to love with the love of God even the unthankful and the evil; to be content to be a fountain in the midst of a wild valley of stones, nourishing a few lichens and wild flowers, or now and again a thirsty sheep; and to do this always not for the praise of men, but for the sake of God—this makes a great life.

Sacred Linens of the Mass

The corporal is the linen upon which the priest places the chalice and the host during the Mass. The name shroud, which it formerly bore, and the white linen of which it is made, remind us of the winding sheet used at the burial of Our Saviour. It is spread out upon the altar because the winding sheet of Our Lord was found unrolled in the tomb.

The burse, in which the corporal is enclosed after the Mass, was not known to the early Church.

The purificator is the linen which the priest uses to dry his fingers and lips, as well as the chalice, after the Communion. The Greeks use a sponge, in memory of the one filled with gall which the soldiers presented to Our Saviour.

The pall is the white linen, most frequently covering a card, which the priest lays over the chalice during the Mass to preserve the precious blood which it contains from all accident.

The veil is not classed among the sacred linens. We will speak of it here because the matters of which we treat lead us to do so. Up to the time of the Offertory it covers the chalice, the paten, and the pall; then it is raised, to recall to us the stupidity and ignorance veiling the great mystery of the Eucharist from the eyes of the Apostles. Our Lord announced it to them often, but their faith remined wavering and blind; only at the Last Supper was this darkness completely dispelled.

To Our Parishioners:

We cannot urge too strongly the necessity of patronizing the advertisers in the Gesu Parish Monthly Calendar, and of returning the same generous support they are giving to us. In other words, buy your goods from the firms that are using our pages to address you, and thus helping us.

These advertisers with us are live, energetic business men, thoroughly responsible, and know what it means to have their names placed prominently before this parish.

The poem below was written by a little girl in our parish and entered in the Marian Contest in the America. We are happy to be able to print the poem in the Bulletin for the month dedicated to Our Blessed Lady. We have also printed the letter Rosemary received from Father Leonard Feeney, S.J., a poet of note.

We are particularly anxious to print the poem sent in by Contestant No. 2,527. It speaks for itself.

Our Lady

Our Lady lives far, far away
Up in the sky above;
But she can see you all the day
As though you were a dove,
Flying over her throne so bright,
Whispering little prayers
Like "Mary, Mary, be my guide,
Oh, Mary, hear my prayers."

Wouldn't you like to live with her
And sit beside her throne?
Wouldn't you like to talk to her,
Talk to her all alone?

I'm only nine years old, but then
I understand quite well
That if I'm good I'll see her when
In Heaven,—my secrets tell.
I hope when God comes to judge me
She'll speak to Him and say,
"Son she was a good little girl,
She prayed to me every day."

In a check-up after the contest had been decided, it was found that the author of this graceful little poem was Miss Rosemary Dawn Regina Immaculata Hayes, of 1822 Master Street, Philadelphia, Pa. To her we extend the following greeting:

Dear Rosemary Dawn Regina Immaculata:

We are printing your poem "Our Lady" because it was one of the nicest poems received. When you are forty-nine years old instead of nine, you will never write a better poem than this. It will just seem to be better.

We are not surprised that you are able to write such a pretty poem for Our Lady. You sound like a part of her Litany. We are tempted to say ora pro nobis after each one of your names.

There will be some who will think we ought to give your poem an official prize and print it along with those of the grown-ups. We had half a mind to do so; but on second thought we said no. It would make you seem a stunt for us. We have a horror of "Shirley Temples," little girls who are conscious in a grown-up way of their own innocence. We do not want you to stop being nine years old just because you wrote Our Lady a lovely poem.

But you are going to get a prize. It will be a book, an interesting book carefully selected for you at the bookseller's. And we will inscribe it to you with our many good wishes. Au revoir.

Holy Name Society

In order to enable the Holy Name Society of this parish to carry out the plans for Catholic Action proposed for it in accordance with the frequently expressed wishes of the Holy Father, money is necessary.

For this purpose an athletic and social evening for members and friends will be conducted in the old College Auditorium, 17th and Stiles Sts., on Thursday evening, May 6, 1937. The performance will begin promptly at 8.30 P. M.

The program will consist in sport exhibitions of fencing, wrestling, boxing, tap dancing, singing. The St. Joseph's College Glee Club will sing pleasing numbers. Persons prominent in the ranks of athletics and sports will be guests of the evening.

This will give our men a chance to show what they can do when called upon. Too long have the men of this parish been neglected. All are now asked to assist the committee under the leadership of Mr. John Oebecke to make this the greatest success ever. As far as we can learn, this is the first time that the Holy Name Society of this parish have been called upon to do anything. They have a chance now to disprove the common belief that the men of this parish are incapable of doing anything for the welfare of the parish. Let us pack the hall on that occasion. The tickets are put at a very low figure, thirty-five cents, to enable all, rich and poor, to have a very pleasant evening.

We would ask the good women of the parish to help the committee by sending the men. They also may come and have a good time. Children under sixteen will not be allowed in.

Gesu Young Men's Sodality

The Sodality of the Blessed Virgin Mary has enjoyed a long and historical origin. It was founded at the Roman College, in 1563, by a Belgian Jesuit, Father John Leontius.

A rare privilege, indeed, it was to be a member of the Sodality. From the highest classes to the lowest, kings, princes and laity, begged to be allowed to enroll their names as members of the Sodality in the year 1602.

A true and real devotee of Our Blessed Virgin Mary's Sodality never becomes lax or tepid in the practice of his religion. For the obligation which each Sodalist promises when admitted to the Sodality, imposes a gentle restraint on a sincere sodalist to be faithful to his Catholic duties.

Today, the same loyal and faithful attendance to the Sodality is weekly manifested by the present members of the Gesu Young Men's Sodality.

On Holy Thursday night, it was edifying to see the continuity of a pious custom by the Sodality. On that evening, the Sodalists assembled in a body, spent the hour from eleven to twelve o'clock before the Blessed Sacrament, as a Guard of Honor.

The Annual Communion Breakfast of the Sodality will be held on Sunday morning, June 6, in the Sodality Chapel and rooms, at 8 o'clock. Some interesting speakers will address the gathering on this occasion.

EVERY MONDAY EVENING

Plenty of fun is had at the Monday Evening Entertainment Parties, which are held in the High School Auditorium. Many valuable prizes are given away each time.

Added to all the grand prizes every week, there is a gold certificate for a special prize which will be given on the night of our last game. Anyone who has already received a certificate, we would like to ask that they keep it safely until the last game is announced.

All of the above, added to an inexpensive night's fun, will make you want to come again and again.

The Parties have become very popular. If you have not been there, stop for a minute and ask yourself just why you haven't.

Come to the aid of your own "Gesu" by attending these evenings of real entertainment and grand surprises in the generous distribution of prizes each week. Each Monday the best prizes of any of the whole city are positively given away free.

We have people coming from all sections of the city. Don't you want to come and have your chance to share in these wonderful offerings? Admission is only 35 cents, entitling you to a chance on 35 most valuable prizes, besides gold certificates and attendance chances for the Final Grand Award, which will be an automobile or a trip to Egypt, value $500.00.

Gesu Notre Dame Alumnae

Plans have been made for the Gesu Notre Dame Alumnae Benefit Dance to be held on Friday, May 14, in the High School Auditorium. The proceeds will help pay the expenses incurred by the parish in sending students of the parish, boys and girls, to the various Catholic High Schools in the city.

The Alumnae Basketball Squad has added four victories to their record in playing other parish teams, both on the Alumnae floor and abroad.

The Girl Scouts of the Gesu

The Girl Scouts are happy to have the honor of having five more of their members received into the Religious Life.

They are the following: On March 30—Catherine T. Martin, as Sister Mary Michael Edward, was received into the Order of the Sisters of St. Joseph. On March 31—Mary T. McLaughlin, as Sister Mary St. Louise, and Jeanette T. Hughes (Alumna), as Sister Mary Angeline, were received into the Order of the Sisters of the Immaculate Heart of Mary. On April 1—Claire G. Dealy, as Sister Mary Clare, of Christ the King, was received into the Order of the Missionary Sisters of the Blessed Trinity. Reta M. Oates was also received into the Novitiate of the same Order. Her reception into the Religious Order with her religious name will occur later on.

We know that they will remember us in their fervent prayers, and we will remember them in our humble prayers.

Gesu Parish Improvement Association

On April 7 the Association presented to its members Mr. Griffith Boardman, District Director of the Federal Housing Administration, who explained the movement for improved housing conditions which has been conducted throughout the nation by the Federal Government and presented vital facts emphasizing the need for such work and the accomplishments made so far. Mr. Griffith Boardman is an outstanding authority on matters of the kind in which we are interested, and his approval of our endeavors and encouraging advice to continue what he terms very important and highly commendable work should be a spur to increased activities. Some of us have been inclined to look on the movement as a purely local neighborhood work, for the most part useless, but Mr. Boardman brought out in no uncertain terms the fact that the housing problem is and has been attracting national attention for the past few years, and our Association, by attacking the problems at our own front door, is an outstanding contribution which might well be emulated all over the country. Therefore: take heart, ye faint-hearted, we have given to the national authorities a concrete example of "how" it may be done.

Now, our immediate method of procedure is this:

First—All property owners unite in pledging one another mutual assistance and co-operation in protection from devaluation. How? By signing the covenant protecting yourself and your heirs from forced devaluation by unscrupulous real estate agencies or speculators.

Second—Neighbors unite in making and keeping their particular section of the neigborhood inviting in appearance.

Third—Owners desirous of making repairs and in need of financial assistance consult the Housing Committee of the Association as to how this assistance may be obtained.

Fourth—Get the spirit! Become an enthusiastic booster! Sell the idea, free of charge, to your neighbor, your friend, your landlord, yourself. Don't say: "It's too late." Say: It's a fine idea, I am going to do my part to put it over."

Fifth—Volunteer to present the covenant to your busy neighbors who perhaps fail to attend the meetings—fail to read this notice—fail to see the importance of their co-operation. Show them how important it is that we unite 100 percent to insure success. Life insurance is made possible only by general co-operation and membership. So is any other similar movement for the general benefit of mankind. The Christian method is "Help ye, one another." So do your part—your neighbor will be encouraged to do his.

Regular Weekly Meetings are held on Wednesdays, 8.30 P. M., in the High School Building. Make it a point to attend at least two meetings a month. You will be encouraged by learning what your neighbor is doing. Your knowledge may be helpful to us. Be sure to attend the Rally, Tuesday evening, April 27, in the Auditorium.

Feasts of the Month

THE QUEEN OF MAY

Stately skyscrapers tapering overhead; swiftly moving trains speeding onward, giant planes gliding through the air; massive factories, the hissing and glaring monsters of enterprise; men and women trading at mart and market for food, shelter and clothing—such are constant reminders of the complicated business of living.

Flowers fresh in bloom and fragrance; song, poetry, painting, a trilogy of God's gifts to elevate the minds and senses of mankind; children, tiny tots, little brides of Christ receiving Him for the first time at the altar rail —such are constant reminders of the joy and happiness mingled with the complicated business of living here on earth in order to live forever after in Heaven.

In the May time of the year the children and flowers and poetry and painting and song unite in a symphony of color and sound which quickens the pulse of human endeavor and warms the hearts frozen by a winter of sin. For, where is the man or woman who does not whisper a prayer to the Queen of May when they witness tiny tots in spotless frock kneel before the altar banked with nature's special gifts, when they see a little trembling hand place a crown of gold on the statue of their Queen, when they hear the clear voices repeat the rhythmic act of consecration and finally the joyous peal of song from lips so pure . . . which one of us is not transported in faith far beyond the material things about us and even up to the throne of the Queen as she reigns in full possession of body and soul, at the right hand of the King?

A Queen indeed is Mary, not by reason of a silken dress or tinsel crown, but because she is the dispenser of the King's treasury, and as the bounty of the earth is manifest in flower and fruit of vine and plant, so the largess of the Queen with plentiful graces from the treasury of the King.

A Queen and a Mother she is, for her subjects are also her children . . . now all good children honor their earthly mother on the second Sunday of May in a very special remembrance . . . should not these same good children honor their heavenly Queen and Mother not only on one day of the month, but everyone of the thirty-one days of May?

Awaken, oh soul, from a slothful winter's slumber; what, has the icy hand of sin crushed out all life? Ah, then, a re-birth awaits you, for the sunshine of God's grace will revive you. Gather the fresh flowers of hope, sing the lay of prayer, be lavish with memory's colors of love and truth and honesty and purity to brighten up God's masterpiece; follow the tiny tots to the feet of the Queen . . . Mary awaits you!

THE ROGATION DAYS—MAY 3, 4, 5

The three days following the fifth Sunday after Easter are called Rogation Days, or days of supplication and prayer to the Lord of heaven and earth, that His wrath may be appeased towards the children of men. The origin of this solemnity dates as far back as the fifth century, and by St. Aritus of Venna and St. Cesaire of Arles is ascribed to St. Mamertus, Bishop of Vienne in Dauphiny. This holy Bishop was grieved at the sight of the great number of evils which had befallen his diocese, and proposed to his people that solemn processions be made, public prayers offered up, and fasts and other works of penance performed to stay the afflicting hand of God. The people obeyed, and the time was fixed for the three days following the fifth Sunday after Easter, and in a short time this pious solemnity was observed in all the churches of Gaul. The first Council of Orleans, held in the year 511, issued a decree expressly ordering its celebration; and we can see from the writings of St. Gregory of Tours with how much piety and fervor the faithful fulfilled this obligation under the reign of the sons of Clovis. Some time afterwards it was adopted by the church of Rome, whence it spread throughout the Universal Church.

The Rogation Days were at first considered as days of obligation, on which it was not permitted to work, and all were obliged to fast. In after times, the prohibition to work was removed, and the fast is now omitted. But there can be no doubt that it is the desire of the Church that these days be passed in a spirit of penance and prayer. The Litany of the Saints is said on each of these days.

The word "Rogation" means "asking." These are, therefore, not days of fasting or abstinence, but days of prayer.

ASCENSION THURSDAY, May 6—HOLY DAY OF OBLIGATION

"You shall receive the power of the Holy Ghost, and you shall be witnesses unto me in Jerusalem, all Judea and Samaria, even to the uttermost parts of the earth." Acts 1:8

Zeal gathers new energy from the thought that all the pain of Christ's Passion has the salvation of souls for single object. Since its consecration by the hallowed and hallowing touch of Christ, work in the vineyard is divine, and association with Christ in this sublime purpose surpasses the dignity of kings. We love them that love us, all the love of our fond Redeemer resides in His one quality of Saviour, and He wants us to manifest our love for Him in the same arduous capacity. In the world around us there are souls without number to be saved, and we can never complain that opportunities to ply our trade are wanting. Every neighbor is a center of endeavor and a field for exercise. Christ's cry from the cross, "Save my souls!" should be forever ringing in our ears to harden us in courage and goad us to activity. We must work hard and pray harder for the world's conversion. "Thy Kingdom Come!" is our motto, and we are knights in the army of the Lord. We must close ranks, grip tighter our arms, and go down to the battle like Crusaders on fire with the enthusiasm of a soldierly Christian spirit. Our Church, in its origin, its scope, and its methods, is a military organization; and he misses entirely its spirit, who fancies it a praying body, content to let the world go what way it will, if only no harm is done the private piety and devotion of its members. To be true to our apostolic calling, we must take an active part in history's events. We must be soldiers, equipped and ready for opposition, prepared for the emergencies of war. We can promise ourselves the surpassing favor made the apostles that first Ascension Day, "You shall receive the power of the Holy Ghost, and you shall be witnesses unto me in Jerusalem, all Judea and Samaria, even to the uttermost parts of the earth." We are sons and heirs of these apostles, and we must make ready for the transformation. Man is of small avail without this right hand of the Most High. To receive the power of the Holy Ghost is to receive God; and to receive God is to share in His attributes. His omnipotence can enable us to do stout battle with temptation, His immutability can help us to shake off our quality of inconstancy and to persevere in virtue. "You shall be witnesses unto me." And surely that is reward enough. With these apostles we are chosen soldiers of the King, ambassadors of God, men with a message. We hold this particular corner in the Lord God's army. There must be no break along the line in our neighborhood. Brethren in arms scattered the world over can take care of things elsewhere. This is our post, here lies our duty.

These apostles are our models, and it is our privilege to single them out for special study. They are on the eve of marching orders. Beyond the smooth waters of Galilee's lake stretches the world of mystery and sin,, with a line of mountains concealing it from view. Tomorrow these sturdy apostles must, staff in hand, cross the lake and the mountains, and journey to the earth's end in pursuit of souls for the Master. After Pentecost they shall be in a whirlwind of disaster, the entire pagan world shall rise in arms against them, and to a man they shall seal with their blood the doctrines they and we preach. There was a world of comfort for them in this last meeting; and, when wounded, tired and unheartened, they borrowed inspiration from the thought of it. We must do the same. We must borrow inspiration from the thought that, like the apostles, we hold our commission from God our King. The martyrdom to which we are called is different from that which sealed the labors of our models, but none the less annoying and harassing. We may not have to die for the faith, but we must live for it; and that task is the harder. Duty is our martyrdom, and there are deeper wounds than swords can make.

PENTECOST—MAY 16

Of all the solemnities of the liturgical year, this is undoubtedly one of the very greatest. Like Easter and Epiphany, it embraces an entire week, and day after day, in the Epistle as well as in the Gospel of the Mass, Holy Church proposes to our consideration some passage from the life of our Lord or some incident from the history of the first disciples, which may serve, directly or indirectly, to enforce the excellence and necessity of the great gift bestowed on us today. For the Holy Spirit is God's greatest and, in a certain sense, His first gift to us. If it is true to say that God is love, this is true in a special sense of the Third Person of the ever-blessed Trinity, who is the substantial love of the Father and the Son. And, although all that God has done for us, whether in the order of nature or in that of grace, proceeds from His boundless love, yet it is especially the work of our sanctification, including the whole supernatural order, even the Incarnation itself of the God-Man, that is attributed to the operation of the Holy Ghost. He is the Lord and Life-giver, and we have life in its truest sense, the supernatural life of the soul, only inasmuch as the Holy Spirit dwells in us, making us children of God and heirs of heaven, instead of slaves of Satan, doomed to everlasting death.

ST. FRANCIS JEROME, S.J.—MAY 11

St. Francis was born at Grottaglie, near Taranto in Italy, and entered the Society of Jesus while already a priest. In place of the Mission of Japan so ardently desired by him, his Superiors assigned the Province of Naples for his mission field. Though frail in constitution, it is incredible how much he did and suffered for the glory of God. He waged incessant war against his own body by penances and fasts. He used to preach several times a day in the public squares, in the barracks and in the prisons, touching the most hardened hearts and often receiving assistance from on high with the gift of miracles and prophecy. He was assiduous in attending on the sick and dying, in reconciling enemies and caring for the poor in their misery. He was the great promoter of monthly Communion. He conducted numerous Retreats for the clergy, for religious men and women. He died in the Professed House at Naples in 1716, a true model of the apostolic laborer.

ST. ROBERT BELLARMINE, S.J.—MAY 13
Archbishop, Cardinal and Doctor of the Church

Robert Francis Bellarmine was born in Montepulciano, Tuscany, on October 4, 1542. When eighteen he joined the Society of Jesus and after his philosophical and theological studies, he taught theology in Louvain and Rome, where he was the first to occupy the newly founded chair of Catholic Apologetics. In 1599 in spite of all his tears and entreaties to the contrary he was made Cardinal by Clement VIII, and in 1602 was consecrated Archbishop of Capua. Three years after the new Pope asked the saintly Cardinal to stay in Rome to assist in the general government of the Church. The last years of his life were as strenuous and as crowded as all the rest. The only holiday he loved to enjoy was a month's Retreat in the summer at the Novitiate of the Society of Jesus. And from the Novitiate, to which he was finally allowed to retire, in August, 1621, he went to his reward in the following month, September 17, feast of the Stigmata of St. Francis of Assisi, to whom he was particularly devoted.

Cardinal Bellarmine was one of the greatest and most learned men of his time. His books on Catholic Apologetics proved such a powerful vindication of the Faith, that Queen Elizabeth forbade her subjects under pain of death, to keep any of them. Benedict XIV named Bellarmine "the hammer of heretics," and Benedict XV said he was "the model of defenders of the faith." But he was a great saint as well, living a life of ceaseless labor and uninterrupted union with God.

BLESSED ANDREW BOBOLA, S.J.—MAY 21

Blessed Andrew Bobola, born of an illustrious Polish family in 1590, died a glorious death at Janow in Poland. He was called the Apostle of Lithuania from his indefatigable labors in that province. His success in converting schismatics drew upon him the rage of those high in authority, who endeavored in every manner to hinder his work. On May 16, 1657, he was seized by two Cossacks and severely beaten, burned and flayed alive. The martyr was beatified by Pope Pius IX in 1853.

BLESSED JOHN BAPTIST MACHADO, S.J., AND COMP.—MAY 22

Blessed John Baptist Machado of Tavora, priest, Leo Tanaca, Mathias of Arima, and Simon Quiota, catechists, were beheaded for the Faith at Omura, in 1617. Father John, though barely thirty-seven years of age at the time of his capture, had already worked for eight years in the mission of Meaco. From his prison he wrote to his Superiors: "Now it seems to me I begin to be truly of the Society of Jesus." On coming to know the day of his death by revelation, he sang the Te Deum and declared to his companion, Father Peter of the Ascension, a Franciscan, that the three happiest days of his life had been—"that of his admission into the Society, that of his entrance into prison, and this of the news of such a happy death." They died together in sentiments of lively joy. Leo, the young seminarist, who might, if he pleased, have escaped by flight, suffered martyrdom a few days after them. Blessed John was the first Jesuit Martyr of Japan to be beatified by Pius IX.

OUR LADY OF THE WAY—MAY 24

For a period going back to remote antiquity, a picture of Our Lady with the Holy Child, on the Road to the Capitoline Hill, was venerated by the Roman people, under the title of Our Lady of the Way, della Strada. A pious family, named Astalli, gave shelter, so to say, to this picture by building a chapel in its honor, which chapel was replaced by a structure sufficiently large to be erected into a parish church. St. Ignatius was so devout to this representation of the heavenly Mother that he asked the astonished parish priest to give it to him and his companions. Strange to say, the parish priest, whose name was Cordacio, gave him not only the picture, but, with permission of the Holy Father, the church and himself, becoming the first Italian member of the Society of Jesus.

When Cardinal Alexander Farnese carried out the intention of St. Francis Borgia, the third General of the Order, by erecting a still larger edifice, the Church of the Gesu, he built a special chapel to serve as a shrine for this painting of the Madonna of the Way. From this time the devotion to Our Lady as thus represented went on increasing among both clergy and laity, a devotion which is believed to have been rewarded by many spiritual and temporal favors. Finally, to encourage the piety of the faithful by the weight of his august sanction, Pope Leo XIII established the feast of Our Lady della Strada, which is celebrated in Jesuit churches on May 24.

CORPUS CHRISTI—MAY 27

The words Corpus Christi, in Latin, mean the Body of Christ; for in this feast we celebrate the goodness of God in leaving us His Body and Blood in the Blessed Sacrament to be our food and drink.

From the time of the Apostles the memory of the institution of the Blessed Sacrament was always celebrated on Holy Thursday. But the Church is occupied on that day in meditation upon the Passion of Christ, and in mourning, therefore a proper celebration of this mystery at that time is not possible. God Who generally makes use of some weak instrument to accomplish His designs, revealed to a poor nun in Liege, Blessed Juliana, that a special feast should be set apart in honor of the Blessed Sacrament. In consequence of this, the feast of Corpus Christi was introduced into the diocese of Liege in the year 1246, and Pope Urban IV, in 1264, extended this feast to the entire Church and commanded it to be celebrated on the first Thursday after Trinity Sunday.

While the Church on Holy Thursday celebrates only a simple commemoration of the institution of the Blessed Sacrament, on Corpus Christi the Blessed Sacrament is especially glorified as the center of the Church's worship and solemnities. Therefore, the time for the celebration of this feast is very appropriately chosen. Pentecost is the birthday of the Church; the feast of the Holy Trinity shows us the three Divine Persons who co-operate in protecting the Church, and in sustaining it to the end of time. The feast of Corpus Christi is the fountain source of the Church. It is the Ark of the Covenant of the New Testament, in which God Himself dwells. It is the heart of the Church, from which life flows every moment into all its living members.

We are the living members of Christ's Church. Into our souls flows the life-giving grace of the Blessed Sacrament, as often as we receive Holy Communion. From the depths of our souls should flow in return, for the Body, Blood, Soul and Divinity of Jesus, in Holy Communion, sincere gratitude and heart-felt thanksgiving.

MOTHER'S DAY—SUNDAY, MAY 9

One of the greatest natural blessings is the influence of a good home. It is the best capital and start anyone can receive in life. Into the home everyone is born, within its influence educated. It is in the home character is molded and formed for good or for evil. On reaching adult life everyone goes forth into a larger citizenship stamped with the high or low ideals in which earlier years were cast. The home is the unit of society. It lies at the very bedrock of civilization. Corrupt the home and you corrupt the state. Without any hesitation it can be said that if the sanctuary of every home were still sacred, most of our social problems would be unknown.

The one person who plays the greatest part in this natural blessing is the mother. A mother is naturally and primarily destined for the home. The Almighty has given her certain gifts and capacities that especially fit her for this sublime task. Her instincts are continually impelling her to that end. To the end of time she will be as she has ever been, the dominant person of the home. The work, therefore, of the formation of the children falls principally to the mother. The faith of the mother must become the faith of her sons and daughters. We know that the value of an ideal can scarcely be overstressed. Human nature spontaneously tends to imitate what it loves and to rival what it admires The life of Lincoln is an inspiration to better patriotism. Men and women are more devoted citizens for the example of a Washington. Every man and woman is the better for a mother's influence and example. Her influence for good is second to none that moves the heart of man. It was the influence and prayers of the mother of Augustine that won him from his none too exemplary life. The life and self-sacrifice of the mother of St. Chrysostom aided to confirm him in holiness. Reverence and respect for his mother often keeps the unlettered savage from disgraceful crime the world over. There is scarcely a man, however base, who does not cherish some memory of his mother. A mother's influence lives in her offspring. Her voice is heard when all other sounds fail to reach the ear. Her power for good is above all logic; it refutes all argument.

Gratitude is due to motherhood. Napoleon Bonaparte says, "Christ Himself on the cross was not unmindful of His Mother; yet He was God." Prominent men recognize the debt of gratitude they owe their mother. Our greatest American, Abraham Lincoln, has said: "All that he was and all that he hoped to be he owed to his mother." When he had risen to prominence, he frequently spoke of his humble origin, his home and his mother. He knew that his glory traced back to a self-sacrificing mother who never thought of doing great things, but was very careful to do all the little things that lay at her hand. She did not long to express herself through the medium of poetry or music or the stage. She felt as all devoted mothers do that in taking care of a family they are giving expression to their highest instincts. Many people like to think of mothers who never write a book or make a speech on how to raise a family, but confine their words to wise counsel in the home and write their books in the young lives that are given them. Such mothers begin, not with impossible dreams of making the great world better, but begin to make better that little spot of it where God has placed them. Their lives are eminently worth while because they put worth while virtues into the lives of others. What a share of happiness, genuine goodness and kindness every devoted mother has given to the world! Gratitude is one of the social virtues. When the nation sets aside a certain day in her honor, she recognizes that gratitude is due to motherhood. Great men acknowledge it. Christ on the cross showed gratitude to His Mother. His Church offers a very Christlike way for you to manifest it. You can receive Holy Communion or have a Mass said for your mother on Mother's Day. Remember, Sunday, May 9—Mother's Day.

When Mother Prayed

"As one whom the Mother caresseth, so will I comfort you."

Come with me into a true Catholic home—though it be humble. The fire sings on the hearth; the lamp sends a cheerful glow over the room; the dolls are sleeping in orderly array on the couch; the toys, blocks and picture books are put away neatly for the night. When the clock strikes eight, there is a wild scamper upstairs, a few bearlike hugs, some whispered confidences, then all the little ones kneel down at Mother's knee to pray. Childish lips are still. God seems very near.

The evening star shines above the tall pine and seen through the window twinkles an accompaniment to Mother's prayer: "Dear Lord, though the road may be long and rugged that these small feet will travel, guide each step of the way. When life's twilight falls, may the precious home circle be united once again in the Heavenly City. Amen."

The beloved voice ceases. Then by the children follows an "Angel of God, my Guardian dear," and a drowsy wonder if really God is half as good as Mother. A rush into bed, a kiss and eyes are closed in sweet contentment, knowing that if frightened by the dark shadows of night, Mother will be there to kiss away all fears.

A woman's sweetest dreams are of Motherhood. The home should be a hallowed place for the passing on of life. Raphael's beautiful picture, "The Sistine Madonna,"—the world's most famous lullaby in colors—has brought hot tears to the eyes of many a woman, as she realizes that Motherhood has been denied her. She must sublimate her energies to constructive work. A woman must have both a home and a career. A successful author says, "A career is not enough since you cannot tie ribbons on your brain-child's hair."

The greatest educational influence in the world is the home, the family, where every Mother is teacher and every home a schoolhouse. The loving influence of home will illumine the shadowed experience of life as stars blaze in the darkness of night. It will stand forth as a lighthouse on some storm-bound ledge, sending its rays over the troubled sea of life. Its tenderness will resemble a beloved strain of music from the harp of memory.

The home on earth should be a miniature of the home in Heaven; a place where love reigns with unlimited power; a home harmonious with its origin and destiny. A happy, useful home is the rightful inheritance of each child, and only such a home is sufficient to equip him to fight successfully the battles of life.

Two Pressing Needs of the Moment

In the April edition of the Parish Monthly Calendar, the attention of our good people was called to two pressing needs of the Church which cannot by any stretch of the imagination be disregarded. It was pointed out that after thirty-seven years, very extensive alterations and replacements must be made in our boiler room and heating system.

The decayed state of our Church roof was likewise emphasized. Since that time, a more detailed and complete report has been handed in by a competent architect from which it appears that our Church roof is in much worse state than we had at first suspected. To put it baldly, our Church needs a new roof. One hardly needs to stress the fact that putting a new roof on a Church the size of ours is no child's play. It is a project which requires the attention of the entire Parish.

It is well in this connection to point out that we shall shortly be entering upon the fiftieth year of our use of the Church. On December 8, 1938, we hope, God willing, to commemorate with befitting solemnity the Anniversary of so notable an event as the opening of our beloved Church. What more practical gift to our Church as commemorative of its golden anniversary than the completion of these so necessary repairs, can we give? Of course, one can easily think of many more touching and sentiment stirring means of commemorating this event. A new Main Altar might be erected; our Sanctuary might be laid out in marble; a shrine erected to our favorite, St. Francis Xavier. But in the present state of affairs, this sort of thing must be classed as a luxury. There are more practical and more pressing needs and in the maintenance of any large building, there is nothing more elementary than the preservation of the roof of the structure.

The total cost of the heating repairs referred to above and the new roof will be close to $13,000.00. Here then is the present problem of our Parish—to raise $13,000.00 between now and the end of September when these repairs should be completed. Let no one say that "13" is an unlucky number. By God's help, many more difficult tasks have been brought to a happy conclusion in this Parish. To bring our present project to a successful completion, we rely in the first instance, upon God's unfailing Providence and in the second, upon the good will and devotion of our people. Therefore we cannot fail.

The first event in the raising of the needed sum will be by way of our annual raffle and bazaar. This year, we shall advance the dates so that our bazaar will come in the closing weeks of June. We need the help of every man, woman and child in the Parish to achieve our hopes and aims. Determine now to do your share; spread your enthusiasm among other parishioners.

Thirty-seventh Annual Report

OF THE

GESU CHURCH DEBT ASSOCIATION

This Association was organized in February, 1900, by the Rev. Wm. F. Clark, S.J. It has for its object the payment of the annual interest on our heavy Church Debt, and the gradual reduction of the principal itself. The goods results looked forward to are being gradually accomplished year after year.

During the year March 1, 1936, to February 28, 1937, as appears from our report, the very generous amount of $3,713.65 was contributed which is an evidence of the devotion and generosity of our people, for which we are sincerely grateful.

Our heartfelt thanks are especially due to the Solicitors, who, week after week, cheerfully go their rounds, undaunted either by the inclemency of the weather or the many other inconveniences of their self-imposed work of zeal.

We ask for our Solicitors a continuance of good will and generosity on the part of our contributors. The work is the work of God, and God, Who loves the cheerful giver, will not fail to bless and sanctify every home in which they are cordially and cheerfully received.

THIEVES

Yes, there are many kinds of thieves, there is one in your home that is the one that keeps you shoveling on more coal and steals away warmth—it is better known as DRAFT. We can eliminate that draft from your window or door by our Inexpensive Process of Caulking. The price is reasonable. Give us a call and have it explained—it costs nothing.

Heart of Jesus with Love Bleeding

When roses red in June I see, they speak, Christ, of Thy Heart,
Their beauty, color, tenderness, seem of Thee all a part;
As Thou doth hang upon the Cross, as from Thy Heart Blood flows,
I like to think It fell upon, which blossomed there, a rose;
And that its color, snowy white, was changed to crimson red,
To tell all men for Love of them the Heart of Jesus bled;
And Roses red, in millions now, each of that rose a part,
In June each year in beauty bloom to honor Jesus' Heart;

For June, because it is so fair, belongs, Dear Heart, to Thee,
And through its days Thy Heart shall plead with men Thy Love to see;
Oh, what Thy Heart has borne for men, no human tongue can tell,
'Twas Love within Thy Heart Divine which rescued man from hell;
Thy Heart it was which bled and broke, which gave its tortured cry,
As in Gethsemane Thou watched the sins of men go by,
Forsaken by all men and God, there on Calvary Thou
Which made the blood flow from Thy Heart and not the piercing sword

Every Monday Evening

Plenty of fun is had at the Monday Evening Entertainment Parties, which are held in the High School Auditorium. Many valuable prizes are given away each time.

Added to all the grand prizes every week, there is a gold certificate for a special prize which will be given on the night of our last game. Anyone who has already received a certificate, we would like to ask that they keep it safely until the last game is announced.

All of the above, added to an inexpensive night's fun, will make you want to come again and again.

The Parties have become very popular. If you have not been there, stop for a minute and ask yourself just why you haven't.

Come to the aid of your own "Gesu" by attending these evenings of real entertainment and grand surprises in the generous distribution of prizes each week. Each Monday the best prizes of any of the whole city are positively given away free.

We have people coming from all sections of the city. Don't you want to come and have your chance to share in these wonderful offerings? Admission is only 35 cents, entitling you to a chance on 35 most valuable prizes, besides gold certificates and attendance chances for the Final Grand Award, which will be an automobile or a trip to Egypt, value $500.00.

Gesu Young Men's Sodality

The Sodality of the Blessed Virgin Mary has enjoyed a long and historical origin. It was founded at the Roman College, in 1563, by a Belgian Jesuit, Father John Leontius.

A rare privilege, indeed, it was to be a member of the Sodality. From the highest classes to the lowest, kings, princes and laity, begged to be allowed to enroll their names as members of the Sodality in the year 1602.

A true and real devotee of our Blessed Virgin Mary's Sodality never becomes lax or tepid in the practice of his religion. For the obligation which each sodalist promises when admitted to the Sodality, imposes a gentle restraint on a sincere sodalist to be faithful to his Catholic duties.

Today, the same loyal and faithful attendance to the Sodality is weekly manifested by the present members of the Gesu Young Men's Sodality.

The Annual Communion Breakfast of the Sodality and the Alumni will be held on Sunday morning, June 6, in the Sodality Chapel and rooms, at 8 o'clock. Some interesting speakers will address the gathering on this occasion.

THE BLESSINGS OF THE SACRED HEART

May the grace and blessings of the Sacred Heart be with you; the peace of the Sacred Heart encompass you; the merits of the Sacred Heart plead for you; the love of the Sacred Heart inflame you; the sorrows of the Sacred Heart console you; the zeal of the Sacred Heart animate you; the virtues of the Sacred Heart shine forth in every word and work, and may the joys of the Beatific Vision be your eternal recompense.—Amen.

Solemn Novena in Honor of the Sacred Heart

Again the harvest time is with us. Again the season of outpouring of favors from the Sacred Heart. Are you in trouble? Do you want something? Are you anxious about some friend? Come to the Sacred Heart during this Novena and ASK—PRAY. Is it hard to ask? Not of such a kind, loving friend as the Sacred Heart. He is the Treasury of all good things. He is God. He can give you what you need, and His loving promises to St. Margaret Mary assures you that He is only too anxious to give. Why do you not ask? Are you afraid? You have neglected Him, offended Him. You are the very person the Sacred Heart is seeking—and He wants to give you something. Please believe that. You are not too poor, too sinful, too rich, too good, that the Sacred Heart has not some special gift He wishes to give you. Come make this Novena and bring some friends, that they may come to know and love the Sacred Heart of Jesus. Find some one in great distress and bring them and see the result.

Notice, the hours of services are arranged so every one can come. Afternoon—night. Rev. Joseph Hearn, S.J., and Rev. James A. McCarl, S.J., will talk to you on the love of the Sacred Heart.

Organization Meeting—Golden Jubilee Bazaar

On Thursday evening, May 13, 1937, an enthusiastic meeting was held in old Sodality chapel, in preparation for our Golden Jubilee Bazaar, which will be held in the high school quadrangle from Friday, June 18, until Saturday, June 26. In spite of the inclement weather, the meeting was attended by over one hundred officers of our various parish organizations and of other Societies under the direction of the Fathers at the Gesu Church.

Reverend Father Rector welcomed the members of the various committees and in glowing terms, that communicated his own ardor to his listeners, outlined the glorious services rendered by the Gesu Church to the parish and to all Philadelphia during the past fifty years, and how it is now our turn to show our appreciation, devotion and loyalty.

Father Redmond, who is in charge of the Golden Jubilee Raffle, then pointed out how the widespread distribution of our raffle tickets would be the best means of advertising our bazaar. The $500 in cash prizes should be a tempting motive to influence our acquaintances to make the small necessary donation to our bazaar fund. The two weeks' vacation for our most popular girl at Camp Jeanne D'Arc on Lake Chateauguay in the Adirondacks, N. Y., where Father Brennan is Chaplain; and the same vacation for our most popular boy at Camp Brebeuf on Lake Dunmore in the Green Mountains, Vermont, where Father Redmond is Chaplain, should cause great rivalry in chance sales among our younger folk. The leading candidates for these rewards will be posted periodically on a blackboard in the vestibule of the church.

Father Brennan, who is to be Father Rector's assistant in the general supervision of the Bazaar, next outlined the many new and novel features of our bazaar this year, that were never presented to our parishioners before. New and uniform booths, completely constructed and decorated, stocked with an entirely new line of merchandise, and with awnings in case of rain, will be a challenge to the salesmanship of the various committees in charge of the booths. What definite booth each group will have, the executive committee and the chairman of each group will be announced at the next general committee meeting, to be held Thursday, June 3. As far as possible, each group will be under the personal supervision of its respective director.

It is our immediate task to make sure that the many friends of the Gesu throughout the city, who attend our novenas and are regular attendants here at the Sacrament of Penance, as well as our former parishioners, know in good time of our Golden Jubilee Bazaar; if our readers cannot communicate with them directly, Father Rector will appreciate it if you forward their names and addresses to him.

Suggestions were then requested from the committee members, and many valuable hints for the improvement of our Bazaar were brought forward and will be adopted. All agreed that our most important aim at present should be to publicize our bazaar, and accordingly the following publicity committee was appointed: Chairman, David Devitt, assisted by George Bohler, Miss Mary Brennan, Edward Googan, Mrs. Joseph Dee, Joseph F. Monaghan and Julian Servois.

The following organizations were present with their respective directors and pledged their loyal support:

The Married Men's Sodality, under Father Maguire, assisted by the Holy Name and the Gesu Improvement Association.

The Married Women, under Father Dawson, assisted by the St. Vincent de Paul and Dorcas Societies.

The Single Men's Sodality, under Father Rohleder, assisted by the Boy Scouts.

The Young Women's Sodality, under Father Murphy.

The Altar Boys Society, under Brother Fee, assisted by the Sanctuary Society and former Altar Boys.

The Church Debt Solicitors, under Brother Rosenecker.

The Senior Villiger Guild, under Father O'Reilly.

The Junior Villiger Guild, under Father Brennan.

The College Booth, under Father Cosgrove, assisted by young men and young women now attending college.

The High School Booth, under Father Redmond, assisted by the Gesu Alumnae, High School boys and girls, and their parents.

TELL YOUR FRIENDS ABOUT OUR GOLDEN JUBILEE BAZAAR

"The Priest"

Honor the Priest. Who received your soul as it entered on its spiritual life by Baptism? The Priest. Who nourished it and gave it strength on its pilgrimage? The Priest, always the Priest. Who will prepare it to go before God? The Priest. And if the soul should die by sin, who will call it back to life and give it rest and peace? Again the Priest. Can you remember a single gift from God without seeing by its side a Priest? Of what use would be a house of gold, if you had no one to open the door for you? The Priest has the key of the treasures of Heaven. He opens the door, he distributes the gifts of God. If you went to confession to the Blessed Virgin or to an angel, could they absolve you? No. Could they give you the Body and the Blood of Christ? No. The Bessed Virgin could not call her Divine Son down into the Host, and were a thousand angels to exert their power, they could not absolve you from one venial sin. But a Priest, no matter how humble he be, can do these. He can say to you, "Go, your sins are forgiven you." Therefore, honor the Priest; pray for the Priest.—Cure d'Ars.

Ordination

On Sunday, June 20, in the Chapel of the Sacred Heart, at Woodstock College, Woodstock, Maryland, three of our parish and St. Joseph's Prep boys will be ordained to the Sacred Priesthood, by His Excellency, Most Reverend Michael J. Curley, D.D., Archbishop of Baltimore. They are:

Rev. Vincent I. Bellwoar, S.J.
Rev. Michael J. Blee, S.J.
Rev. John P. McNicholas, S.J.

Father Blee will sing his First Solemn High Mass in the Church of the Gesu on Sunday, June 27, at 10.45 A. M.

Father McNicholas will sing his First Solemn High Mass in the Church of St. Martin of Tours on Sunday, June 27, at eleven A. M.

Father Bellwoar will sing his First Solemn High Mass in the Church of the Gesu on Sunday, July 4, at 10.45 A. M.

The members of this Community join with our parishioners in extending to these young men and their parents and friends hearty congratulations upon this joyous occasion!

The Gesu Parish & Neighborhood Improvement Association

The Gesu Parish and Neighborhood Improvement Association is nearing the first anniversary of its organization, and it behooves us to look around us and take stock of what has been accomplished. We see a decided improvement in the appearance of many neighborhood properties—we see many properties which had been unocccupied for many months and in some cases for years, which have been taken over and renovated and now present an atmosphere of cheerful home life.

The chief work of the organization, however, has been lagging, due to lack of workers. Therefore, we send out a special appeal to YOU and YOU and YOU to come to our meetings and enlist yourselves in this very worthwhile campaign of renewing and restoring the former atmosphere of the parish. The COVENANTS, whereby property owners combine in a pledge to each other to uphold the value of their properties by refusing to rent or sell to undesirable occupants are coming in gradually, but very slowly.

Many owners immediately seize this opportunity to protect themselves and their neighbors from devaluation; many others, however, doubting the efficiency of this method, hesitate or refuse to sign because while they have no intention of changing their place of residence, they feel they are unjustly binding their heirs by signing such a covenant. To these owners we say: Look around you at the condition of your neighborhood and compare it with the same neighborhood of ten years ago. If it has maintained its former value and appearance, it is because owners have been steadfast and you are to be congratulated, and urged to sign the Covenant which will mean a continued good standing, protecting both yourselves and your heirs.

If your neighborhood has deteriorated during those ten years, it behooves you to look around and judge for yourselves what has been the cause of that deterioration and estimate what value will exist for either yourselves or your heirs if the deterioration is permitted to continue. You will find upon making such a survey that the neighborhoods wherein the owners have retained their properties and kept them in repair there has been little breakdown in value or respectability. It is only where owners have left properties standing unoccupied or occupied by careless and undesirable tenants that the values have dropped off. Therefore, by signing the covenant, urging your NEIGHBORS to sign, and abiding by its terms, you are not only protecting yourselves NOW, but you are giving your heirs a guarantee that the NEIGHBORHOOD which will be part of their inheritance will retain its standard of respectability and the property which they will inherit will have a value which it will not have otherwise.

There are some sections in this NEIGHBORHOOD which in spite of all the changes have maintained a dignity and air of prosperity—these are the sections where NEIGHBORS have remained steadfast. Had those neighbors departed and left their properties to the vagaries of chance, or, more likely, to the planned devaluation of properties which has attacked some other sections, the general atmosphere would be very much lowered.

WE URGE VERY STRONGLY, therefore, that our parishioners and other owners of properties in the vicinity look into the future with confidence and avail themselves of this opportunity to insure to themselves and their heirs a higher value for the future than the present situation will warrant. This is a community stand against invasion by unscrupulous real estate dealers, and a pledge to those interested in retaining the investments they have made. THE SOONER WE UNITE, THE SOONER WE SUCCEED. Realize the distinct advantages of living in this neighborhood. The many facilities available for transportation, education, medical care, etc., and look around you at millions of dollars worth of properties which cannot be deteriorated; first of all, OUR OWN PARISH BUILDINGS, the Church, School, High School, and living quarters. Then consider St. Joseph's Hospital, Lankenau Hospital, Girard College, etc., and ask yourselves if, with such a background, it is not worth a great EFFORT to maintain the value of your own section.

If you do not own the property you occupy, you can co-operate by giving to the solicitor or to the organization the name of the owner that we may contact him. This will aid us in a material way, by saving clerical work—and if you will volunteer to contact the owner direct, it will be a very substantial saving of time, enabling our workers to complete their covenants with less difficulty.

Let us end the first year by a STRONG CO-OPERATIVE EFFORT to accomplish our purpose. WE NEED YOUR ASSISTANCE to PROTECT YOUR HOME FROM DEVALUATION. MEETINGS ARE HELD EVERY WEDNESDAY at 8.30 P. M. Evenings are pleasant during the month of May, and we hope that will encourage a larger attendance at the meetings. A LONG PULL, a STRONG PULL, a PULL ALL TOGETHER. Results, a finer, better NEIGHBORHOOD of FINER, BETTER NEIGHBORS.

The Holy Name Society

The object of the Holy Name Society is a glorious one. It is to glorify the adorable Name of Christ, the Redeemer, and make it known to those who are ignorant of the nobility of that Name, and to teach respect for that Name and everything that pertains to it. To prevent blasphemy, perjury, profane and indecent language, and to induce all to refrain from all insults against God and His saints and holy things, by word and action.

The members of this great society bind themselves to labor for these objects and prudently remonstrate with all misguided people, who do not realize the enormity of the insults given to the Creator by blasphemy, perjury and filthy language. Moreover they bind themselves to abstain from all unnecessary work on Sunday and to sanctify the Lord's Day.

As there is a tendency, or rather an organized effort, on the part of God's enemies to ridicule everything that pertains to the supernatural and to eliminate all reference to the Creator from the minds of men, the Holy Name Society through its members combats these diabolical attacks on God and His saints by professing openly faith in the divinity of Christ and His Church by parades, devotional exercises, general Communions and other public acts of faith. Not only do these repel the attacks of the enemy, but they strengthen the wavering followers of Christ and encourage them in the practice of their faith.

The society further wishes to counteract the open rebellion that is growing against authority, both civil and religious, which is one of the great evils of the day.

Truly, the Holy Name Society is a blessing to Christian civilization and should be encouraged by every right thinking man, not by words only, but by becoming a member of it and by living up to its rules.

A special effort must be made to induce the men of this old parish to become real, active members of the society, and as Catholic men to stand shoulder to shoulder with their friends in opposing the advance of Lucifer and his legions.

The enemies of God and our enemies are surely laboring by day and by night in all parts of the world to draw men into their ranks. Their zeal in inducing men to evil is remarkable and should arouse the friends of God to labor for the things of heaven. In so doing, we benefit ourselves, for God will reward every action in His behalf. He will help us, for He will labor with us and uphold us.

Why any man who calls himself a Catholic can stand idly by when he sees the havoc wrought by the agents of hell is hard to understand. Men of the Gesu, arise and become members of this glorious organization, the Holy Name Society. God wills it.

Feasts of the Month

THE SACRED HEART OF JESUS—JUNE 4

When commissioning St. Margaret Mary to introduce and spread devotion to His Sacred Heart, our Lord Jesus Christ employed these touching and appealing words: "Look at this Heart, which has loved men so much. For return I receive from most men nothing but ingratitude, contempt, impiety, sacrilege, coldness. To make amends I would have you see to it that a feast in honor of my Sacred Heart be esablished in the Church. Make a Communion of Reparation on that day. My Heart, I promise, shall open wide to pour on such as do me this honor all the wealth of its affectionate love." Here we have devotion to the Sacred Heart in a nutshell. It is a double act of fealty to our King; a return of love for love, reparation for wrongs already done His love by ourselves and our fellows. He wants a feast established in His honor, and, to push our generosity to the limit, we consecrate every day of the year to memory of His Sacred Heart by means of the Morning Offering. He wants us to introduce into our love for Him some little of the warmth of His love for us, and we call to our assistance, with that daily decade of the beads, the love of His own fond Mother, whose love for Jesus was and is unsurpassed and unsurpassable. He wants us to constitute ourselves the guardians and repairers of His broken honor among men, and we bind ourselves every month or oftener to approach the altar rail in sentiments of piety and atoning sorrow.

Devotion to the Sacred Heart, we have the word of God Himself for it, was reserved to these times of ours to be a shield against the dangers peculiar to our age. We need to get behind that shield! God never sets up useless defenses. We cannot easily compass salvation without His help. We are sons and daughters of God living in the midst of a perverse generation. Unbelief is in the air, and that disease is contagious. Heaven and hell are fast slipping from man's vision and we Catholics must keep our eyes wide open to see them. Look to your faith, look to your faith! Keep it warm by getting as close up as you can do to the burning Heart of God.

Rescue your neighbors. Take up that good work, the apostolate of preaching Catholic truth by the example of a holy life. Get into that army of 25,000,000 Catholics, spread the world over, with hands raised up in constant supplication before the throne of God for a world's conversion; get into that bodyguard of the Lord Christ, ranged round about Him where He lives on our altars ever to intercede for us. If mankind is going to be saved at all, it has to be saved by prayer. Colossal works of the kind call for colossal strength, and the only power on earth vested with the omnipotence of God is prayer. He has Himself said it, and His word stands. "Ask and you shall receive." The declaration is confined to no class of favors, it is restricted to no class of suppliants. Therefore, even the conversion and sanctification of the world are with prayer possible and easy of accomplishment. Therefore, saints and sinners alike wield with God Almighty a power that brooks no interference. Let not that power lie idle. Hear the Lord God's cry for help, and hasten to His assistance. He owns men's souls. He died in torment on Calvary to purchase them. And all hell is stirring to make void that purchase, to rob His cross of victory. With our co-operation in prayer, God can do everything. He can save the world. Without it, He can do nothing. He must sit down in idle patience and see the enemy of souls drag to the farthest dungeons in hell these sons of His love and of His blood. Here, then, is the opportunity of your life. Become members of the Apostleship of Prayer and live faithful to its practices. Propitiate the Judge who, on the last day shall eternally fix your destiny. Come between Him and His enemies in life, that after death He may throw round you the aegis of His protecting love. Prayer is a power for good when uttered by an individual in his own private capacity. It gathers strength when seconded by the prayers of others. And when, as in the League of the Sacred Heart, men join hands together to girdle the whole round world on which we live, prayer becomes simply irresistible and infallibly wins out. Add to all this the circumstance that the Lord Jesus presents our prayers in person to the Father. The Lord Jesus is patron and advocate of the League. Every good work performed by this association is offered through His adorable Heart, and passes from earth to heaven through His adorable hands. No wonder, then, that Pope Leo XIII, recognizing the infinite possibilities of concerted action of the sort, issued orders to the entire Catholic world to consecrate the present century to devotion to the Sacred Heart in the Apostleship of Prayer. This act of homage must win favor with God. He cannot prove indifferent to this token of universal loyalty. And as His all-seeing eyes sweep over mankind, they derive new pleasure from the sight and beam with the dew of intended blessings. For they are confronted with the blessed and unusual spectacle of an army of believers marching with a bold and solid front to do battle in His name with monsters that poisoned the atmosphere of the nineteenth century and threaten to complete their work of destruction in the twentieth. The battle can have only one outcome, the rout and total defeat of iniquity's legions, the ultimate triumph of God's cause, the reestablishment of God's Kingdom on earth, and victory perched at last on the flaming banner of the Sacred Heart of Jesus.

ST. JOHN FRANCIS REGIS—JUNE 16

St. John Francis Regis was born in Languedoc in 1597. As soon as his studies as a Jesuit were completed, he began a career of missionary zeal which gained many souls to God. In the summer he evangelized the towns; the winter he passed in country missions, traveling from place to place in search of the lost or wandering sheep. His manner of preaching was simple and direct, and not infrequently accompanied by miracles. He was persecuted and misunderstood, but he welcomed these trials, to which he added many penances. He died at La Louvesc, December 30, 1640, while engaged in the sacred ministry, and his tomb there is honored by the concourse of the faithful and many miracles.

ST. ALOYSIUS—JUNE 21

Our St. Aloysius was born in the year 1568 of parents high in the Italian nobility. He served as a page at court, and when eighteen became a Jesuit. He died at the early age of twenty-three, from a fever contracted while serving the sick in the streets of the city of Rome. Many details could be added to this brief sketch of his career, but all is said when we remark that he was from first to last conspicuous for the two virtues of angelic innocence and deep penance. The prayer the priest will say at Mass the morning of his feast thus beautifully sums up everything: "O God, thou giver of all good gifts, who in the angel youth Aloysius madest innocence of life and penance equally conspicuous, grant to his merits and prayers that we who have gone aside from the path of blamelessness, may at last reach Heaven over the rough road of penance."

One more lesson from the life of St. Aloysius and we are done. "He could have transgressed, and hath not transgressed; he could do evil things, and hath not done them." Eccles. 31, 10. These words are taken from the office priests read throughout the world in honor of St. Aloysius on every recurrent anniversary of the saint's feast. And they are the saint's highest eulogy, they tell the whole story of his life in as vivid and impressive a way as human language knows. Good and evil were set before him for choice, and he chose good. These words identify holiness with the right use of liberty. And be it mine to urge you this evening to make this blessing the burden of your prayers throughout the years, to co-operate with Gods grace in promoting the right and proper employment of liberty in yourselves and others. Man's liberty is the kingdom of God on earth, because that kingdom is built into men's hearts, and because it stands or falls with the right or wrong use of liberty. The world of men's souls would belong to God tomorrow, Jesus would sit a King in every heart in the world, if men's wills became beasts of burden in God's hands, and answered like docile steeds every touch of the divine charioteer. Hell took its rise from abuse of this precious gift, and repetitions of that first offense keep the gates of hell wide open, and add fuel to its flames. Were there no liberty, there would be no hell and no heaven. And men are born rebels. The very child, hardly able to clench his little fists, rises in revolt when his liberty is touched, and is perversely intent on fighting against restraint. The grown man can often give no better reason for following some line of conduct than the mere satisfaction of an empty wish, the desire to run counter to a law. Hence the need of checking this inborn inclination to misrule. Hence the need of ordering things within ourselves by watchful care, hence the need of setting the world to rights in this vast and important concern by prayer and the example of a holy life. When we once say that holiness, as consummate even as that of St. Aloysius, is simply and solely the right use of liberty, everything is said; and aspirants to holiness can gather together their scattered forces and concentrate their energies on its accomplishment, satisfied that their God-appointed task called for no other effort, no other outlay of time or labor. God made men free, to give them opportunity to render Him a higher service than inferior worlds. His other creatures work unto His glory along the lines of sheer necessity. Nature and instinct lead them what way God wishes and their service, though wholly without merit, is absolutely perfect, and in complete accord with their Creator's plans. The sun rises and sets at regular intervals, the moon keeps her course in the heaven, the stars appear and disappear at their wanted stations in the sky. The beasts of the field are submissive to that instinct, which makes them subservient to men. The birds build their nests, and fill the summer with song. The flowers blossom, bloom and cover the fields and the wayside with colors of every hue, with odors of exquisite sweetness. Outside of hell, man is the only rebel in God's universe, and man is constituted a rebel by abuse of his liberty. Liberty is no delusion, it is the plainest of facts. To call into question its reality, is the rankest kind of cowardice. Better the repentant sinner than the lying hypocrite, who pretends to think that sin is unavoidable, and therefore blameless.

ST. JOHN THE BAPTIST—JUNE 24

"I am the voice of one crying in the wilderness. Make straight the way of the Lord."—St. John 1, 23.

St. John the Baptist, Precursor of the Messiah, fills an unique place in the history of Christianity. Clad in garments of camel hair, with a leathern girdle about his loins, he towers like a heroic figure of ancient art in the first pages of the gospel. He is a preacher of the whirlwind type. All his fiery eloquence turns on penance and the need of radical reform. Like the avenging angel of Israel in Egypt, he breathes fire, the fire of the vengeance of God in anger. He has an axe in his hand, to be laid to the root of every tree that yields not good fruit. He has a winnowing fan, to sweep clean the barn floor of the universe, and separate the chaff from the wheat. With three bold dashes of speech he dismisses the three classes of men that journeyed out to the desert to seek his advice. To the Pharisees he counseled humility, "Think not to say within yourselves, we have Abraham for our father;" to the publicans, strict compliance with duty, "Do what is appointed; and to the bluff old soldiers, gentleness and contentment, "Do violence .. no man, and be content with your pay." His tempestous zeal scrupled not to call things by their proper names. Cringing hypocrites he denominated a generation of vipers. With almost reckless daring he pursued crime to the very palace door of Herod, and, armed with credentials from God, upbraided the King, demanding the instant removal of that vile creature of incest, Herodias, from his house. His mission was a failure with the mighty and the influential in Israel. Herod eventually ordered his head stricken from his shoulders to satisfy the whim of a shameless dancing girl. The Pharisees, sneering at his sermon, marched down to hell by stages that we can now measure. They plotted and compassed the death of their Messiah and finished with the blood of God on their hands and on the heads of their children.

The Month of the Sacred Heart

Since our Lord's first revelation to Blessed Margaret Mary of the great devotion to His Sacred Heart, the fire of the devotion has spread to every part of the Catholic world. She recorded joyfully its humble beginnings, a convent here, a new shrine there; now we are witnesses of the ever-growing solemnity of the feast, the Novenas of days and of First Fridays, of a Mass and Office, and acts of Consecration, of families, of children, of parishes, of Christian countries and of the entire Church, to the worship to this Divine and Adorable Heart.

Year by year, this fire from the glowing furnace of the Heart of Jesus Christ is taking hold of souls, changing them, strengthening them, giving them new ardor in the interests of religion and morality. It is not too much to say that the devotion to the Sacred Heart has become the most powerful religious influence of the age. Side by side with the decay of Protestantism and the hideous efforts of naturalism and impurity to draw souls away from God, the worship of the Heart which is Most Pure and All Divine is winning multitudes of souls from ruin and leading them back to faith and purity. The Sacred Heart of Jesus, that most perfect expression of divine love, has stamped itself on the literature of the modern age, and its poetry, its music, its painting, its engraving, sculpture and architecture, on various forms of organization in League and Confraternities, on schemes of social work and benevolence, and best of all on the daily lives, thoughts, purposes and ways of men and women throughout the world.

Opposition and obstacle have only hastened its progress and spread it more widely. How gloriously time has fulfilled our Lord's prediction to Blessed Margaret Mary: "In spite of My enemies. I shall reign!" In spite of coldness and irreligion, of the contempt of heretics, of the plotting of secret societies, of the deep treachery of Liberal and Modernist, He is enthroned today in the warm hearts of millions of the faithful children of the Church, uniting them to Himself especially by the Blessed Sacrament, uniting them together in societies and confraternities to resist the assaults of socialism, anarchy, infidelity and the soft allurements of a widespread sensuality, by which the Evil One hopes to woo away from God the hearts of the growing generation.

Consecration of the Human Race to the Sacred Heart of Jesus

Most sweet Jesus, Redeemer of the human race, look down upon us humbly prostrate before Thy altar. We are Thine, and Thine we wish to be; but, to be more surely united with Thee, behold each one of us freely consecrates himself today to Thy Most Sacred Heart. Many indeed have never known Thee; many, too, despising Thy precepts, have rejected Thee. Have mercy on them all, most merciful Jesus, and draw them to Thy Sacred Heart. Be Thou King, O Lord, not only of the faithful who have never forsaken Thee, but also of the prodigal children who have abandoned Thee; grant that they may quickly return to their Father's house lest they die of wretchedness and hunger. Be Thou King of those who are deceived by erroneous opinions, or whom discord keeps aloof, and call them back to the harbor of truth and unity of faith, so that soon there may be but one flock and one Shepherd. Be Thou King of all those who are still involved in the darkness of idolatry or of Islamism, and refuse not to draw them all into the light and Kingdom of God. Turn Thine eyes of mercy toward the children of that race, once Thy chosen people. Of old they called down upon themselves the Blood of the Saviour; may It now descend upon them a laver of redemption and of life. Grant, O Lord, to Thy Church assurance of freedom and immunity from harm; give peace and order to all nations, and make the earth resound from pole to pole with one cry: Praised to the Divine Heart that wrought our salvation; to It be glory and honor forever. Amen.

Promises of the Sacred Heart to St. Margaret Mary

1. I will give them who confide in me all the graces necessary in their state of life.
2. I will grant peace to their families.
3. I will console them in all their troubles.
4. I will be their secure refuge during life and, above all, at the hour of death.
5. I will pour down abundant blessings on all their undertakings.
6. Sinners will find in my Heart the source and infinite ocean of mercy.
7. Tepid souls will become fervent.
8. Fervent souls will rapidly rise to great perfection.
9. I will bless the homes where the image of my Sacred Heart is exposed and honored.
10. I will grant priests the grace to touch the most hardened hearts.
11. Those who propagate this devotion will have their name written in my Heart and it shall never be effaced.
12. I promise, in the great mercy of my Heart, to grant the grace of final perseverance to those who receive Holy Communion the first Friday during nine consecutive months; they will not die in my disgrace nor without receiving the Sacraments, and my Heart shall be their sure refuge at their last hour.

How to Spend the Month

To sanctify this month, by making it a month of reparation, we earnestly commend the following practices:

Go to Mass every day and, if possible, to daily Communion during the month. Make every Communion in the spirit of reparation. A Plenary Indulgence is granted to our Associates for every Communion thus offered to console the Sacred Heart.

Attend the devotions in the church; at least, be sure to make the Novena before the feast.

If there are no daily devotions in your parish, hold them at home. Set up in your household a shrine with a statue or picture of the Sacred Heart and gather the members of your family before it every evening.

All the faithful who honor the Sacred Heart during June by special prayers and pious practices, either publicly or privately, may gain an Indulgence of seven years and seven quarantines once a day.

The feast of the Sacred Heart is a most appropriate day for the annual renewal of the consecration of the family to the Sacred Heart of Jesus.

To Our Parishioners:

We cannot urge too strongly the necessity of patronizing the advertisers in the Gesu Parish Monthly Calendar, and of returning the same generous support they are giving to us. In other words, buy your goods from the firms that are using our pages to address you, and thus helping us.

These advertisers with us are live, energetic business men, thoroughly responsible, and know what it means to have their names placed prominently before this parish.

Alone With God

Alone with God! What thought sublime! Stripped of all sham—Alone!
Just as we are, without deceit, our souls laid bare—Alone!
No lying words, no guileless looks, no acts to help deceive,
But just ourselves, before our God, His Judgment to receive;
When on His Eyes we fix our own, and meet His searching Gaze,
How empty then seem things of life for which men spend their days;
What matters then our clever wit, our gifts of tongue and mind,
If He, Who knows us as we are, but failure in us finds;

Alone with God! Stupendous thought! Each one with Him alone,
The creature and His God to face each other quite alone;
The mask is dropped, our souls stand forth, seared by sin's ugly scars,
The Searcher of men's hearts, we know, beholds us as we are;
The secret sins, He knows each one, those sins we guarded well,
The sins we knew would bring us shame if tongues of men could tell;
The sins we knew would bring us shame if tongues of men could tell;
Like spectres from the grave they rise, sins which Christ's Heart offend,
And face to Face we stand alone, the ingrate and the Friend;

And in His Eyes there comes the Look He once to Peter gave,
Which begs us to deny Him not, but strive our souls to save;
Alone with God! What Privilege Sweet! To be with Him alone,
To find peace from the crowded world and learn the Way to Home;
The Cry He made in loneliness in dread Gethsemane,
He makes to us: "Will you not spend one hour, Child, with Me?"
Alone with God! To feel the Love come streaming from His Heart,
'Tis priceless moments such as these make earth of heaven part.

The Gesu Young Men's Sodality

The Annual Closing Exercises of the Sodality took place on Sunday morning, June 6, in the Chapel and in the rooms of the Gesu Young Men's Sodality, in the form of a Communion Breakfast.

In the beautifully decorated chapel, emblazoned by a flood of lights, and in the midst of a variegated collection of flowers, Holy Mass was said by the Moderator of the Sodality. And during Mass, the members of the Sodality together with the Alumni members received Holy Communion.

After Mass, Breakfast was served to the Sodalists and Alumni members. And following breakfast, the assembled body was addressed by Fr. Rohleder, S.J., Moderator, who stressed very strongly the object of the Sodality and the duties of a Sodalist.

As toastmaster for the occasion, Mr. Daniel J. Dougherty filled the role admirably well. A brief history of the Sodality was given by Colonel Edward J. Meehan, and it proved absorbingly interesting.

During the course of the day, many friends of the Sodality, together with a number of visitors inspected the Sodality Chapel and Rooms.

Every Monday Evening

The Weekly Parties and Distribution of Prizes will not be held during July and August. The day and date of reopening in September will be announced. So hold on to your Certificate for the Grand Prize, they are valuable.

Gesu Parish and Neighborhood Improvement Association

The Association has been active during the past month in seeking ways and means of furthering the accomplishment of our aim, which is the RESTORATION OF THIS NEIGHBORHOOD. Father Maguire has personally devoted many hours daily to the progress of the association, has gone to Baltimore, to Washington and other places where a similar problem has been attacked and solved and with the benefit of their experiences there he has outlined a plan which cannot fail, IF only our PEOPLE will arouse themselves from their lethargy and awake to the need of INDIVIDUAL CO-OPERATION.

Banks and Trust Companies, Building and Loan Associations, Philadelphia Real Estate Board, all have been contacted personally by Father Maguire, Dr. Stokes, and various members of the association with the result they have pledged themselves to lend every assistance in their power to promote progress.

During the month of May, many Covenants have been taken out and many returned fully signed up by the resident owners. This done—non-resident owners, trustees, etc., are being contacted by officers of the association who follow the matter through to completion. In this manner further deterioration will be stopped, has been stopped, and owners of the properties have therefore taken courage to make property improvements and the general atmosphere has been a step higher.

Are YOU A PROPERTY OWNER? Have you been co-operating? Have you been reluctant to enter into the movement feeling that "it is too late?" If so, get into ACTION NOW. "Nothing ventured—nothing gained." We have made the VENTURE—We will all share in the GAIN. But we should like to have a larger force working that we might rest on our laurels sooner.

Dr. Stokes has many plans for further activity—Mr. Ramp as Traffic Committee has been working on improved traffic control, Father Maguire studying control of like conditions elsewhere has shown us the way—what are WE GOING TO DO TO CO-OPERATE?

Meetings are held every Wednesday evening. New officers for 1937 will be appointed at our next meeting; new committees will be formed; new plans outlined. We hope to see YOU and have YOUR co-operation.

Meetings are 8.30 in the high school building.

Everybody Does

Every year a host of pure-hearted, bright-eyed, lads and maidens, in the first flush of their warm and generous youth, come thronging from our Catholic schools and enter the ways of life.

Alas, the hidden dangers that wait before their feet. There are so many pitfalls, where the flowers lie thickest! There are so many dragons, lurking in the happiest vales! And of all these dangerous creatures, one is most ravenous and savage—a dire beast whose cruel fangs have brought death and ruin to tens of thousands. Its name is "Everybody does!"

When the innocent boys or girls put on maturer ways, and come out into the world as men and women, this is the first temptation which they meet—"Everybody does!" They have been taught the strong, high uncompromising principles of Christianity—that sin is a supreme and unimaginable evil, that goodness is precious above all things, that to trifle with temptations, to put oneself in unnecessary dangers, is to make friends with Hell.

But now the world about them whispers with a thousand voices that they must unlearn and forget these uncomfortable teachings. Now they must leave the Shrine of Christ and bow down before the Shrine of Human Respect—they must fall in with the crowd and follow the world and the flesh and the devil, because, well, "Everybody does!"

They go into factory or workshop or office and become uncomfortably aware that they are in a polluted and abhorrent air. Open speech or evil insinuation brings the blush to their cheeks. "Oh, you mustn't mind that sort of talk," some tempter tells them; "you'll soon be talking that way yourself, 'Everybody does'." Drink and evil-living; cheating and shirking and all the passions that torment mankind, all rush upon them on the wings of that horrid dragon.

They go into society, and the same evil beast is lying in ambush for them. An unseemly fashion shocks their modesty. "Oh, you simply must get used to that, everybody does!" A dance outrages their instinctive sense of what is proper and becoming. Again they are told, "Oh, everybody does!" Everywhere on all hands, the old excuse, the old false maxim of the world: "You must think it lawful, you must think it right, because 'Everybody does'!"

Let us forewarn our boys and girls betimes against this devouring beast of human respect. We need only repeat the warning given by the Saviour of Men two thousand years ago: "Narrow is the gate and straight the way which leads to life, and few there are that find it."

How diametrically opposite is this teaching to the easy maxim of the world: "Do what everybody does!" Our Lord explicitly warns us that to do what "everybody does" is to walk in the broad and easy way that leads to perdition.

If we wish to be His disciples, our way must be with the Saints and Heroes—not with the inglorious and sodden multitude, who flock like silly sheep where "Everybody does!"

We speak much nowadays of preparing our boys and girls "for the world." What we must rather do is to prepare them against the world. Times have not changed so much for the better since the days of Our Lord.

Feasts of the Month

THE PRECIOUS BLOOD—JULY 1

Why has the Church instituted the Feast of the Precious Blood and why has she so ardently urged her children to the zealous fostering of this devotion? The object of the Church was first of all to commemorate and honor our blessed Lord; secondly, she deemed it fitting that the Precious Blood which was so willingly shed for mankind should be worshipped, and, thirdly, because she realized that this devotion was a source of boundless graces. It is indeed a striking devotion and, though its special motive is the Precious Blood, the ultimate object of the devotion is Jesus Christ Himself.

That we may comprehend and enter into the spirit of this devotion, we must remember that Christ was man, with a human body and soul like ours. He could have given His life without shedding His blood, but He so loved us that He not only desired to give His life, but also His life's blood. The human body, in the pure blood which courses incessantly through its veins, contains all vitality. It is the blood which keeps the physical life in the body; separate the blood from the body or cause its pulsive plan to cease, and life no longer exists. It is obvious, therefore, what we mean when we say, Christ shed His life's blood.

Even in the Old Law, sacrifice was always accompanied by the shedding of the victim's blood. It was, in fact, an essential part of the ceremony. The blood flowing from the victim was the visible ebbing of its life. Christ was our victim. A brief glance at the passion will suffice to recall the shedding of His Precious Blood. In the Garden of Olives Christ kneels and prays, and the agonizing pressure on His Sacred Heart became so strong that the very blood is forced out through the pores of His body and He kneels as in a bloody sweat. We next find Him in Pilate's courtyard. Stripped and tied to a pillar, He stands unflinchingly and allows the cruel soldiers to flog His tender body with their spiked cords. Every blow brings Precious Blood. He starts on the road to Calvary, burdened with His cross; His feet are bruised and bleeding. Every step brings Precious Blood. He is stretched upon the cross and nails are driven through His hands and feet. Every blow brings Precious Blood. Sad and desolate He hangs three hours on the cross and then He bows His head and dies. A centurion pierces His side with a lance, and out from His Sacred Heart flows blood and water. Drop by drop His Precious Blood has been most willingly shed for us.

If, during this month of July, the month dedicated in a special way to the Precious Blood, we recall these scenes frequently, surely we shall not find it difficult to enter seriously into the spirit of this devotion and so entering into it we shall not fail to derive many spiritual blessings.

OUR LADY'S VISITATION—JULY 2

On July 2nd the Church celebrates the Feast of Our Lady's Visitation to her cousin, St. Elizabeth. Among the common courtesies and duties of social life are visits to relatives and friends. Reflections on our dear Lady's Visitation might teach us how to sanctify these visits and make them fruitful or something better than idle gossip or mere amusement. Learning that her cousin needed her help, the Blessed Virgin made the four days' journey at the cost of considerable inconvenience to herself. God's blessing went with her. The fruits of the visit were the sanctification of St. John the Baptist, the revelation of the Incarnation made to St. Elizabeth and our Blessed Mother's beautiful song of thanksgiving, the Canticle of the Magnificat. Besides these were marvelous graces given to the family of St. Elizabeth and the merit gained by the practice of charity, humility and other virtues.

BLESSED BERNARDINE REALINI—JULY 3

Blessed Bernardine Realini, a native of Italy, after years of success in the practice of law, entered the Society of Jesus in his thirty-fourth year. Desiring in his humility the humble grade of a lay-brother, he yielded to the wishes of his superiors, and was ordained to the priesthood. So great was his sanctity that, shortly after his ordination, he was given charge of the spiritual formation of the novices. After two years in this difficult position, he devoted himself to missionary work in Naples and the surrounding country. Spiritual ministrations to the sick and the dying, the visitation of prisons and hospitals, the preparation of criminals for death, the relief of the poor and needy—every form of labor, by which he could aid the suffering children of Christ, was embraced by him with ardent zeal and devotion. He closed his labors by a death precious in the sight of God. He was beatified by Pope Leo XIII.

BLESSED IGNATIUS AZEVEDO AND COMPANIONS—JULY 15

In the year 1570 a band of forty Jesuits set out from Lisbon for the mission of Brazil. At their head was Father Ignatius Azevedo, who, after two years of labor in this distant mission, had returned to Europe to recruit fresh laborers for the vineyard. His thirty-nine companions were the recruits he had gathered from all parts of Spain and Portugal. The saintly missionary had received more than one divine intimation that he and his companions were destined to gain the crown of martyrdom. Nor was the fulfillment of the prophecy long delayed. Off the Canary Islands their vessel was attacked and captured by Calvinist pirates. All the Jesuits were slain and their bodies thrown into the sea, with the exception of one lay-brother, whom the pirates spared, intending to make use of his services. His place was taken by a young man, the nephew of the ship's captain, who was at the time a candidate for admission into the Society. Secretly putting on the habit of one of the slain Jesuits, he offered himself to the sword of the enemy and thus won a place in this noble band of martyrs. St. Theresa, in her convent at Avila, saw in vision the forty martyrs ascending into Heaven, wearing golden crowns. Pope Pius IX raised them to the honors of the altar.

OUR LADY OF MOUNT CARMEL—JULY 16

Few festivals in honor of the Virgin Mary are more gladly welcomed by the faithful than that of Our Lady of Mount Carmel. The reason is because she is the patroness of thousands upon thousands of devout clients of every rank and condition of society, who show their tender devotion to her by wearing the Brown Scapular. The word "Scapular" is of Latin derivation and means shoulder dress; because it is hung around the neck in pious memory of the habit worn in life by its blessed originator. It is not a meaningless symbol or a superstitious charm, but a pledge that we have chosen Mary as our Queen and enrolled ourselves under her banner.

It is called the Scapular of Mount Carmel: because the devotion had its foundation in an apparition of the Mother of God to Simon Stock, a man remarkable for stainless innocence of life, and one of the most illustrious generals of the order of Carmelites, whose first monastery was established on a mountain of Palestine, by the name of Carmel. This vision occurred at Cambridge in England, on the 16th day of July, in the year 1251. Presenting her devout and faithful servant with a Scapular which she held in her hand, the Holy Mother of God thus addressed him. "Receive, dear son, this Scapular of thy Order; it is the mark of the privilege which I have obtained for thee and for the children of Carmel. It is a sign of salvation, a safeguard in danger, the pledge of special peace and protection."

Many are the spiritual and temporal advantages accuring from the beautiful and widespread devotion. The wearing of the Scapular has often been the means of bringing to souls the priest and the last Sacraments. It is the badge which places us under the special protection of the Queen of Heaven with her promise to safeguard in life and at the hour of death those who wear it devoutly.

ST. VINCENT DE PAUL, APOSTLE OF CHARITY—JULY 19

He was born in Aquitaine, and from a shepherd boy became a priest. Soon after his ordination he was taken captive by the Turks and sold as a slave. Converting his master, he escaped with him to France. The king, pleased with his zeal, set him over the galley slaves of the kingdom. At the invitation of St. Francis de Sales, he was spiritual director of the Visitation Sisters for forty years. A desire to promote the spiritual interests of the poor in country districts induced him to found the Congregations of the Missions, or Vincentians. His Sisters of Charity are an enduring monument to his love for the poor and afflicted, angels of kindness following the fortunes of the camp in time of war, and in peace at home in the wards of hospitals.

The spirit that motivated his all-consuming charity for his fellowmen may be pondered and meditated on again and again with ever-increasing benefit. "Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself," was Christ's succinct summing of man's fraternal duty and conduct. These words of his Divine Master must have burned themselves into St. Vincent's mind and heart. His counsel truly breathes forth the spirit of Christ: When we are with the poor, we should try to put ourselves in their place that we may suffer with them in imitation of the great Apostle who said, "I am become all things to all men that I may serve all." Of his own life he said: "All my own seventy-six years of life seem to be now but a dream and a moment, and nothing remains to me save sorrow that my moment has not been better used."

BLESSED RUDOLPH ACQUAVIVA AND COMPANIONS—JULY 27

The twenty-seventh day of July in the year 1583 saw the crown of martyrdom bestowed upon five Jesuit missionaries in the peninsula of Salsette, near Goa. The leader was Rudolph Acquaviva, an Italian of noble birth. With him were associated three priests, Alphonsus Pacheco, Peter Berno and Antonio Francisco, and a lay-brother, Francis Aranha. Having gone to the peninsula for the purpose of choosing a site for a church, they were set upon by the pagans and slain. Immediately after their death, God glorified his martyrs by many miracles, and many were converted in the land made fruitful by their blood. One hundred and thirty years after their death, their bodies were found still incorrupt. They were beatified by Pope Leo XIII.

THE CAPTAIN, ST. IGNATIUS—JULY 31

Sanctity is love of God and love of man pitched to the highest degree of which a fond heart is capable. We can bring this truth home to ourselves by considering some few details in the life of a hero saint, and by gleaning from the consideration the process by which this love of God and man in sober everyday practice evolves itself. When a lesson is to be learned, the way of example is easier and more potent for good than the way of precept and abstract instruction. And you can search the whole calendar of God's saints without finding an apter illustration of the principle underlying sanctity than the grand soul of Ignatius Loyola.

St. Ignatius was a Spaniard, and was born a little more than four hundred years ago, in 1491. His birth was nearly coincident with the discovery of our own America. During the first thirty years of his life he was essentially a man of his time, when all the men of Spain were Knights, when military glory was the nation's pet ambition, and when the clash of arms and the din of battle alone made welcome music to the ears. Like many a Catholic warrior of old Spain, he reserved in the middle of his heart a shrine for pious thoughts; and, though he would have ridden through fire and blood for a point of honor, though he would have ridden to the ends of the earth to win favor in the eyes of a lady, he nevertheless kept all his thoughts subservient to the glory of God, and the queen of his affections was the Blessed Virgin Mary. At the age of thirty an accident befell him, and this mysterious interference of Divine Providence turned the whole course of his life into another channel. Defending the fort of Pampeluna against the French, he was put out of the combat by a cannon ball. Removed to a neighboring castle for medical treatment, he lay for a long time between life and death. When well on the way to recovery, time hung heavily on his restless spirit, and he called for books to read. Romances were the literature indulged in by gentlemen of that period; and sore was his disappointment, when informed that the castle library was wholly destitute of his favorite volumes. The only writings procurable were some thumb-worn lives of the saints, and Ignatius had to be content with the recreation their perusal afforded. And so he read the rather sober and somewhat tedious accounts of the severe fasts, the long prayers, and continued vigils of the servants of God in the desert. But as he read, a new interest seized him, and to this new interest succeeded a desire to seek glory in another and a different field. He was radically a man of arms, and a soldier. The atmosphere of the camp was as much part and parcel of his being as the free air is part and parcel of the bird's being. Would he have to surrender all the projects he had nurtured from early youth, would he have to forego the mad joy of winning victories in the service of his country and his king? Ah, no! God accommodating Himself to the tastes and predilections of His servant, so arranged matters that Ignatius would be able to vie with monks in virtue, and still remain a soldier. Without bidding adieu to the shock of combat and career of arms, he would still be able to enlist in the ranks of the King of peace. To become a saint he would not have to cease to be a warrior. He would have only to change his weapons, and transfer his allegiance from the king of Spain to the King of Kings. And so he journeyed from Pampeluna to Montserrat, where in a chapel of the Blessed Virgin Mary at dead of night he hung his trusty sword and coat of mail, put on the garments of a pilgrim, and after a prayer that extended to the morning started on his memorable campaign for the conquest of souls. This was in the year 1522, when Luther had just hurled defiance at God's Vicar, and set up the standard of hell and revolt. Our hero had a long march and a weary one, but God was ever at his side, and vouchsafed several times to visibly appear to him. God was leading him by the hand, and he never once fainted or faltered on his journey, till on the 31st of July, in the year 1556, at the age of 65, he laid his arms at the feet of Christ's vicegerent in Rome, and went to receive the crown he had so well deserved and won. Time will not permit us to follow him in all the grand movements he to some of the far-reaching results he accomplished, will abundantly prove that the mainspring of his sanctity was love of God and love of man carried to a sublime extravagance, and must convince us that besides being a saint he was a man of magnificent projects and of undaunted courage.

Novena

The Novena in honor of St. Ignatius will begin on Friday, July 23rd, and end on the feast of St. Ignatius, Saturday July 31st. The Novena Exercises will be held each evening at 8 o'clock, consisting of Prayers, Sermon and Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament. Sermons by Father John Collins, S.J.

The solemn observance of the feast of St. Ignatius will take place on Sunday, August 1st, with Solemn High Mass at which a panegyric of the Saint will be preached.

The Holy Water of St. Ignatius of Loyola

Founder of the Society of Jesus

The acts of his canonization recognize more than two hundred miracles wrought through his mediation. These marvels have continued without interruption even to our own days. Among the many practices of devotion to which God has deigned to attach miraculous favors, the most universally known is the use of the Holy Water of St. Ignatius. Almighty God has visibly approved of this pious practice by granting the desires of persons who have availed themselves of this means with faith and confidence. The very prayers used with the approbation of the Church in the blessing of this water are enough to convince us of its efficacy! for the priest, whilst dipping a relic or medal of the Saint into the water prays that God may grant the water the virtue of healing the body and the soul, and of driving away all evils from our dwellings.

Persons wishing to make use of this Holy Water are exhorted to make a Novena to St. Ignatius, reciting some daily prayers, and drinking a little of the water, morning and evening, or putting some drops on the parts of the body affected. They should approach the Sacraments during the Novena, or at least promise to do so as soon as they obtain the grace they ask. Souls that have confidence will soon experience the great power of St. Ignatius with God; and the greater this confidence, the sooner will they obtain their request. Nevertheless, if at the end of a Novena the grace is not obtained, let them not lose confidence. Ordinarily, God does not grant His favors at once, but He often delays, in order to prevent us from falling into a blind self-sufficiency. Our Lord has said: "Ask, and you shall receive;" but He has not said "immediately." Some persons have obtained the cure they sought only after several Novenas.

Three times Our Father, Hail Mary and Glory be to the Father, etc., night and morning. Litany of the Holy Name of Jesus or the Blessed Virgin once a day.

V. Pray for us, O holy Father St. Ignatius.

R. That we may be made worthy of the promises of Christ.

Let Us Pray

O God, who for the increase of the greater glory of Thy Holy Name, has been pleased by Blessed Ignatius, to strengthen the church militant with new help, grant that aided by his prayers, during our warfare on earth, we may so imitate his virtues, as to be happily crowned with him in heaven. Through Christ our Lord. Amen.

O Thou, who dost vouchsafe Thy blessing to this Holy Water, that it may be a salutary remedy to the human race, grant, by the intercession of Blessed Ignatius, whose relic has been immersed in it, that whoever partakes of it, may receive health of body and protection of soul. Through Christ our Lord. Amen.

Prayer of Saint Ignatius

Soul of Christ, sanctify me.
Body of Christ, save me.
Blood of Christ, inebriate me.
Water from the side of Christ, wash me.
Passion of Christ, strengthen me.
O good Jesus, hear me.
Within thy wounds, hide me.
Permit me not to be separated from thee.
From the wicked foe defend me.
At the hour of my death, call me.

And bid me come to thee.
That with thy saints I may praise thee.
For ever and ever. Amen.

Prayer of Oblation and Divine Love

Take and receive, O Lord, my memory, my whole understanding, entire liberty, accept my whole will; whatsoever I have or possess, Thou hast bountifully bestowed it upon me; I restore it all to Thee, and deliver it up to be governed entirely accordingly to Thy will, vouchsafe to give me Thy love with Thy grace, and I am rich enough to desire nothing more.

Danger Ahead!

Summer months bring alluring pleasure, but these too often bring dangers to soul and to body. Distraction and change of scene are needed by many; but let us not forget the interests of the soul. Then if danger comes, it will find us close to Him, who is our Friend in life and who will be our joy for eternity. During the summer months let there be no vacation from the things of eternity.

Bear in mind that the Precept of hearing Mass on Sundays is as binding in vacation as at any other period of the year; furthermore, some greater sacrifices should be made to get to Mass on Sundays, to offset the many dangers surrounding us during these days of relaxation. A serious reason is needed to free one from this obligation. Weather and distance which would not hinder a pleasure trip, are often deemed sufficient to keep one from Mass. In planning vacation trips and in selecting summer residences the proximity of a church is a most important consideration only too often utterly ignored.

Many innocent boys and girls leave school for vacation and return changed and with their innocence lost. An idle mind is the devil's workshop, and the long, warm vacation days spent in play in the city streets or on vacant lots may throw them into association with companions of little or no religious training or of loose morals. Many careless, foolish parents seem to think that the child's morals are safe, if there is a Catholic or two in the play group.

A Catholic child can become as corrupt as his companions unless particular care is taken to guard against evil and to provide the Sacraments and God's grace to overcome frequent temptation. Too many parents take the attitude that their duty to their children is fulfilled if they send them to a Catholic school. They permit their children to roam the streets day and night, taking no precaution to see that they do not play with evil companions.

HOLY NAME SOCIETY

"At the Name of Jesus  Every Knee Shall Bend"

The Church provides many helps that emphasize Christ's teachings, point out to men the proper course in life, strengthen their will-power, and assist them in securing God's grace. A powerful help, suitable to present-day conditions, is the Holy Name Society.

This Society is for Catholic men the cloud by day and the pillar of fire by night sent by God to lead the Israelites to the Promised Land. It inspires men to follow the leadership of Christ on the way that leads to eternal happiness. It also points out the devious ways, so easy and attractive, that lead to eternal destruction.

That men may choose the proper path, the Holy Name Society strengthens their will-power, enabling them to reject the many enticements of Satan and his representatives, no matter how alluring they may be. Association with others who are filled with the spirit of the Holy Name develops in many the courage necessary to follow steadfastly the teachings of Christ.

Human resolves need strengthening. The spirit is willing, but the flesh is weak. The Holy Name Society encourages all to partake of the spiritual nourishment needed to combat the many enemies that threaten them on the journey of life.

Catholic men know that we are living in a materialistic age that rejects God and revealed religion, substitutes man's laws for God's commandments, and teaches self-reliance instead of dependence upon God's grace.

Recognizing the spiritual dangers of their surroundings, many seek the guidance and strength afforded by the Holy Name Society. They eagerly become members. Wishing to assist their fellow-men, they seek to enroll them also as members. May their efforts be successful. We still have many that are not of the Holy Name fold. Them also we must enroll, until there shall be one great fold professing Holy Name principles. Then we shall have a mighty army of Christ's adherents following Him to eternal salvation.

The Door of Heaven

The door of Heaven is narrow; it is low. Behold those who pass through it easily, gently and without noise. These are the humble, because they are small; the poor, because they possess nothing; the obedient, because they bow down; the pure of heart, because they are detached; the charitable, because they strip themselves of their goods in order to give; the patient, the sufferings of each has made them feel how little they are.

The Significance of Ejaculations

Here is the force of ejaculations. A fervent word or two of love spoken in our hearts during the day, a moment of silent lifting of the soul to God, is like the incense put by the priest at Benediction upon the glowing coals in the thurible. We must always live for God. Ejaculations help to keep the stream of our lives ascending in strong, constant praise and love to the gates of Heaven—and beyond them to God.

While Still We Have Them Here

How sweet the world and life would be if each of us but gave
Our flowers to our dear ones now instead of to their grave;
They need not be from florists' shops, nor grown by us from earth,
But flowers rare of kindliness, more precious far in worth;
We seem to think it weak or wrong to let folks know we care,
That we admire traits in them and that our love they share;
Yet human hearts are all the same, and of them this is known—
Each heart is hungry just to have some love and friendship shown;

If we would all make this our creed, lives sad would glow with cheer—
To let our loved ones know we care while still we have them here—
It is not that we do not care; we just neglect to tell,
Or take for granted that our own will know we love them well;
It costs so little to be kind and friendly on life's way,
We never know what clouds we lift through smiles we give each day;
Some never know the loneliness that human hearts can feel,
Or know that love and friendship can life's hurts and bruises heal;

How often men, sunk in despair, new courage would receive,
If they but knew, when all seems dark, that we in them believe;
How slow we are to give to folks some credit well deserved,
We tell their faults, their virtues, though, we hold well in reserve;
Dear faces that we wet with tears, when life from them has flown,
How happy would their hearts have been if our love they had known;
So let us show our love to those who to our hearts are dear,
And give them kindness, love and smiles while still we have them here.

Our Golden Jubilee Bazaar

It is with heartfelt gratitude that we announce to our readers the grand sum of $4,767.46 as the net profit of our Golden Jubilee Bazaar and Raffle. We have already tried to thank personally the Chairmen and, through them, the assistants of the various groups who worked so faithfully, agreeably and enthusiastically that the financial and social success of our Bazaar became a certainty. If we have overlooked anyone in the expression of our gratitude, we sincerely regret it and will hasten to give due and generous credit as soon as the oversight is called to our attention.

That all who helped us may know the success of their efforts, we are publishing below the returns realized by each individual group. Certain groups, such as the Refreshment Committee, the Linen Booth, Blankets and Spreads and the like had either more costly or more difficult merchandise to dispose of, and the net returns do not represent the labor entailed. For that reason, we are especially grateful to those who had such more difficult but less attractive tasks to carry out.

A special word of praise is due to the young men and boys of the parish, who so cheerfully complied whenever requested to help in the decorations, or in running errands, or in the arduous task of tidying things up every day. For their hidden but indispensible co-operation, we beg St. Joseph, Patron of workers, to ask God's special blessing on them.

Rev. William J. O'Gorman, S.J., will be fifty years in the Society of Jesus on August 12. All our parishioners are asked to attend Mass and receive Holy Communion on that day for Father O'Gorman.
A befitting Jubilee Celebration will be held in September.

Gesu Parish and Neighborhood Improvement Association

The Gesu Parish Improvement Association held its annual election of officers at the June meeting, electing the following officers for the current year:

President, Dr. Francis Stokes
First Vice-President, Mrs. Marie Conlin
Second Vice-President, John Oebecke
Third Vice-President, Anna M. McGarry
Treasurer, Rev. Jas. Maguire
Recording Secretary, Matilda Brennan
Financial Secretary, Mrs. Helen O'Malley

Each officer has the privilege of selecting his or her own committee, and volunteers for the various activities are earnestly requested to turn in their names to the officers so that a strong group of active workers may be formed to continue the work so successfully carried on during the past year.

Mrs. Conlin, ably assisted by Mrs. W. J. Bicking and Jerome Curtin has made great progress in searching out owners of properties for various reasons; some for needed repairs to make properties desirable to prospective tenants, some for the purpose of adjusting difficulties between present tenants and owners, and in all cases has by persistent effort brought about a better state of affairs, which will be an advantage to the neighborhood and to our association.

Mr. Oebecke is concentrating his efforts on conditions requiring correction or adjustment by civic departments; such as sanitation, traffic, etc.

The purpose of our organization is to recapture the former atmosphere of Good Neighborliness which formerly existed here before the suburban districts began to call so many of our former NEIGHBORS. Depression years have taken their toll of foreclosures, and uninhabited houses have stood through months and sometimes years bearing the havoc of weather conditions and abuse which cannot be checked when houses are unoccupied.

Our organization has succeeded in contacting many owners of such properties and induced them to co-operate with us by putting needed repairs into effect and making houses suitable for occupancy. In many cases houses which would make splendid homes are standing idle available for small investment and adaptable to business or home life. Few NEIGHBORS have left the vicinity during the past year and many former NEIGHBORS have returned to the scenes of former happy years here.

Transportation facilities are numerous and convenient; educational institutions, hospitals, museums of various kinds abound in the NEIGHBORHOOD; we are only a stone's throw from one of the nation's finest parks, business houses of every kind are within walking distance—what more can one ask? Speak to your NEIGHBORS about it! Capture that spirit of enthusiasm which has inspired the founding of this organization! Become a BOOSTER for the GESU PARISH AND NEIGHBORHOOD IMPROVEMENT ASSOCIATION! You may be surprised to find your NEIGHBORS awaiting only your word of encouragement to throw themselves into the work. Organize YOUR BLOCK into an active group of NEIGHBORS and attend the monthly meeting on July 28. You will hear interesting and encouraging reports of the work of others, which will assist you in your endeavors. BE A BOOSTER! JOIN THE GESU PARISH AND NEIGHBORHOOD IMPROVEMENT ASSOCIATION.

Saint John Berchmans' Sanctuary Society

The solemn reception of new members and the annual distribution of prizes to the faithful members of the society, took place on Sunday, June 20. The Sermon for the occasion was preached by Father Rohleder.

At Benediction which closed the services, Father J. T. Brown was Celebrant.

The following are the new members:

Francis Barry
John Corley
Raymond Gallagher
John Hagan
Francis Koff
Clement Mahoney
Thomas Murphy
Francis McGrath
Edward Rodgers
John Ryan

The following were awarded medals for the highest number of Masses served during the past year:

First award for 193 Masses, John I. Johnston
Second award for 192 Masses, James J. Tumulty
Third award for 186 Masses, Carl M. Connor

The following were also awarded medals for perfect attendance during the past year:

Carl Connor
Henry Erhart
John Hastings
John Johnston
John Kraft
Francis McGowan
Edward O'Connell
Joseph O'Connell
John Redmond
Edward Ryan
James Tumulty

May we take this occasion to thank the parents and guardians of our altar boys, for the many ways in which they have helped in making the past year the grand success that it was.

The New Paganism

There is nothing in the world that is older than vice. The most luxurious and pleasure-loving communities that the world has ever seen were those to which the Apostles of Christ first directed their steps when they went out to teach all nations. These communities had not all the contrivances and inventions that we have now; but upon the question of morality or immorality, they had all the vices the world has now, and had beast of human respect. We need only repeat the warning given by the Savior of Men two thousand years ago: "Narrow is the gate and straight the way which leads to life, and few there are that find it."

How diametrically opposite is this teaching to the easy maxim of the world. "Do what everybody does!" Our Lord explicitly warns us that to do what "everybody does" is to walk in the broad and easy way that leads to perdition.

If we wish to be His disciples, our way must be with the Saints and Heroes—not with the inglorious and sodden multitude, who flock like silly sheep where "Everybody does!"

We speak much nowadays of preparing our boys and girls "for the world." What we must rather do is to prepare them against the world. Times have not changed so much for the better since the days of Our Lord, that we can afford to make a truce, and live in pleasant peace. The Prince of Peace spoke constantly of wars and of fighting. His followers are not better than their Master. Struggle and resistance to evil is the appointed lot of every Christian all his days, to struggle against foes without, and foes within him.

Feasts of the Month

BLESSED PETER FABER, S.J., CONFESSOR—AUGUST 11

The eldest companion of St. Ignatius and the first priest of the Society of Jesus was a peasant from the mountains of Savoy. At the cost of many sacrifices, his parents had sent him to the University of Paris, where he took all his degrees, and in 1529, being then 23 years of age, he was appointed to explain to Ignatius the lectures on philosophy, given at the College of St. Barbara. Soon the position of the two was changed, and the young professor placed himself under the guidance of his pupil. Ignatius began by teaching him his own simple habits of devotion—daily examination of conscience, weekly Confession and Communion, and gradually, with consummate prudence, led him on through the "Spiritual Exercises." Later on, Faber became an adept in the spiritual science of St. Ignatius, and by his profound learning, his winning and edifying conversation, and his retreats, he obtained wonderful conversions throughout Italy and Germany. He deserves high praise for restoring the Catholic religion in Germany. by winning St. Peter Canisius, lately canonized and declared a Doctor of the Church, for the Society, and by founding the great and influential house of the Society of Jesus at Cologne.

Father Faber said the Mass at which St. Ignatius and his companions took the vows of Montmartre, Paris, August 15, 1534. A man of wonderful piety and innocence, and of humility that bordered on diffidence, but prompted by his love of God and guided by his Spiritual Father's wisdom, the gentle and humble peasant became one of the greatest apostles of the Society of Jesus. He died at Rome, August 1, 1546, when about to start for the Council of Trent.

MARY'S ASSUMPTION—AUGUST 15

In many ways the Assumption is Mary's greatest feast, for it marks the crowning act of God's rich goodness to her.

The Assumption of Our Blessed Lady explicitly stresses the fact that her body was taken up into Heaven. It is, indeed, to be remembered that her soul had been in Heaven prior to the moment when her sacred body went thither. It is true that the word "assumption" was in early times used to designate the death of one considered to be a saint and that it was roughly equivalent to "death." But when used of Our Blessed Lady it means something definitely more: it explicitly stresses the transfer of Mary's body to Heaven; but it implies two antecedent facts: her death and resurrection; and a consequent fact: the "glorification" of her body. Thus, comprehensively, the Assumption means the glorification of Mary's resurrected body which has been taken up to Heaven.

That Our Blessed Lady died has been the universal belief of Catholics, but when and where she died is by no means certain.

History tells us nothing about the time when Our Lady died or the circumstances of her death. Nor do we know where she was buried. Scripture is silent on all these points and the oldest extant accounts are based entirely on apocryphal sources. . . . The belief that Our Lady died rests on the law of the universality of death, from which now not even the God-Man Himself was exempt.

Some state that she died at the age of sixty-nine, others at seventy-two or seventy-five. Ephesus and Jesusalem have long claimed to have had her with them in her last hours. But where the truth lies it is impossible to know.

We are certainly on more solid ground when we ask how Mary died. Some few, mistaking Simeon's "sword" for a material sword, would have had her die a martyrs death. But her martyrdom was a more severe one. The angel's message and its fulfillment brought to Mary the agony of Joseph's doubt; and from that time on the sword of internal martyrdom was never withdrawn from her soul; and she became the "Queen of Martyrs" when she stood beneath the Cross. Nor did she die of any of the maladies to which mankind is heir. That were unseemly and in ill accord with the gifts clearly consequent upon her Divine Maternity. She did die of love.

Because of her preceding death this Feast was often called Dormitio (sleep), Pausatio (pausing), Depositio (burial). But these words were not meant to deny the resurrection and Assumption. They merely stressed one or other aspect of the Assumption set in its whole background from death to glorification. After her death, when her soul had been separated from her body for a space, it was again united thereto. Just how soon this reunion took place we have no certainty. Cabrol states that "The Assumption (and so the antecedent resurrection) followed three days after death according to some, forty days according to others."

That body which had been the temple of the God-Man for nine long months must not taste death. St. Augustine's Caro Jesu, caro Mariae(the Flesh of Jesus is Mary's flesh) is indeed most true, for she and she alone had given of her flesh that He might be born. And the flesh of Jesus had risen and was in glory; and so the flesh of Mary must rise, too, and be glorified. It were unseemly that the human Ark of the Covenant should know corruption and become the food of devouring worms. And then too, Mary had been so closely associated with the active Redemption effected on the the Cross beneath which she stood, that she should share most richly in the passive redemption. Thus was she saved through the merits of her Son from taint both of any sin (through her Immaculate Conception and of any corruption, as she had been at the Virgin Birth and is now spared through the resurrection of her body.

Then, Mary's body reunited to her soul, was borne swiftly to Heaven. Bellamy writes: "As the passive form of the word (assumi, assumptus) indicates, it signifies that the Blessed Virgin was taken up to Heaven by the Divine Omnipotence, whereas Jesus Christ, on the day of the Ascension, went up thither by His own power." In the twinkling of an eye, her sacred body left behind it the swathing bands of Jewish burial, went forth from the tomb triumphantly and was at once "glorified." Because of the gift of "clarity" it shone as the noonday sun, and "agility" gave to its movements the speed of thought, while "subtility" made matter cease as a barrier to its progress. Immortal it now is, and neither sickness (which, indeed, it never knew) nor death can ever afflict it.

Up from the earth the sacred body passes, and out from the Heavenly courts a glorious band come to greet their Queen.

Through the loud-acclaiming ranks of Confessors and Doctors, Virgins and Widows, Martyrs, and Holy Innocents their Queen passes.

Beyond all of creation's saved, up to the very throne of God, she passes, for if her Son is "seated at the right of God the Father," she, the Queen of Heaven, is seated at the right hand of her Son—there to reign forever.

That is the doctrine of the Assumption: that Mary's risen body is in Heaven and all the glories of a risen body are hers. No other human body, except that of her Divine Son, is now in Heaven. Other souls are there, but all other bodies have obeyed and will obey the command consigning them to dust until the sounding of the judgment's trumpet.

BLESSED MICHAEL CARVALHO, S.J., MARTYR—AUGUST 25

Father Michael Carvalho was burned alive at Omura, in Japan, on August 25, in the year 1624, with one Dominican and several Franciscan friars for companions. They went to their place of torture carrying the stakes to which they were to be bound, and singing hymns of thanksgiving. Fearing lest ambassadors from Spain should procure his deliverance, Father Michael wrote, "I should feel the greatest sorrow if our Lord, on account of my sins, should withdraw me from the path of mercy and grace now open before me . . . Nothing in this life appears to me more desirable, more delightful and more consoling than to give my life for so merciful a Savior."

The Nursery of Genuine Catholicity

The development and increase of the Catholic parochial schools is one of the most important means to make our civilization Catholic. Without these schools the Church would of course continue to exist, because it is to last to the end of time; but, without the parochial schools, the losses to the Faith would be very numerous, the knowledge of the Faith in the minds of Catholics would be confused and limited, the progress along the Road to a Catholic Civilization would be almost none. The starting of the parochial school system was a most important step in the direction of a Catholic civilization. Should that step be withdrawn, it would have to be made again before we could go forward.

Some Catholics believe that parochial schools are unnecessary, a luxury, a work of supererogation, because they have kept the Faith, and even manifested zeal and learning in its cause. But, they forget that they have missed a great deal, that they may have the Faith from Catholic parents formed in Catholic countries.

It is an error to suppose that a Catholic education is simply the adding onto an ordinary curriculum of certain periods in Christian doctrine. The Catholic point of view needs interpretation and draws and gives an influence to all the departments of learning—a word here or there has as much influence in guiding the life of a child as a formal hour in the study of the catechism. The child should learn, as all adults need to remember, that his religion should permeate his whole life. Moreover, religion can not be taught by words and books only, but example is required. The best example to give children is that of the Catholic teachers, especially the religious and priests in the Catholic school, and the example and influence of the other Catholic children.

Some Catholics believe that the way to prepare their children for adult life in a pagan world is to inure (sic) them, in schools many of the influences of which are pagan. This is about as sound as putting healthy children to bed with measles-infected children that they may get the disease and get over it. Very often children do not get over the measles; if they do not die they almost invariably carry ill effects for the rest of their lives. Many Catholic children educated in non-Catholic schools lose their Faith even while going through the motions of practicing their religion, and few of them but come out with some views contrary to the doctrine and spirit of the Church.

We do not want a pagan civilization, do we? Why, then, prepare our children for pagan civilization, when we want them to prepare for a Catholic civilization?

There are not nearly enough parochial schools before churches. There ought to be a parochial school within reach of practically every Catholic child in America. It is wiser where practical to build parochial schools before churches. Mass can always be said in a parish hall, and our Lord would rather come to a stable than have children kept from knowing Him. Not only will the children be taken care of in the parochial school, but the influence of the children will prevail on their parents to take a greater interest in their religion and to build a church.

Children properly educated do a great deal to spread the Catholic idea at home and abroad. A parochial school is a great asset to a parish, continually revitalizing it and keeping it in existence.

If parents go over the work of their children in the parochial schools, their minds will be continually refreshed and their knowledge of the Truth extended.

The parochial school is the proper nursery of vocations. If we want a Catholic civilization we must have more priests, nuns, religious, brothers, and lay workers. Although some remarkable vocations have come out of non-Catholic schools, they are not nearly as numerous in proportion to those where the first light dawned in parochial schools. Where vocations come from non-Catholic schools it will be found that they who have them are generally those who finding themselves away from the Church, want to get nearer. They are not those who deliberately or through the cold choice of their parents try to get away from Catholic influence. And where are vocations most easily lost, in the Catholic or non-Catholic schools?

Before the Catholic body shall be able to move forward towards a Catholic civilization, we must have enough parochial schools for practically every Catholic child. To those who would compare the parochial schools to the catacombs, places of seclusion from pagan life, the answer is the question, where did Christianity come from, the catacombs or the public places of pagan antiquity.

Cost? The parochial schools are worth the cost to those who wish a Catholic civilization.

Splinters from the Cross

The cross is something dear to the heart of every Catholic. It reminds us forcefully of the great love of Christ for each and every one of us individually—a love that was not satisfied until it had proved itself by the greatest sacrifice known to man. "Greater love than this no man has than that a man lay down his life for his friends." Christ had suffered untold pain and sorrow before He made His way up the rugged path that led to Calvary and crucifixion. He had endured the severest tortures of the mind as He knelt in the Garden of Olives. He had gone forth to the merciless scourging and crowning with thorns. And most painful of all He had witnessed the unfaithfulness of His Apostles and the base ingratitude of the many whom He had cured and healed. Where were they now in the trial and sorrow of their Master and their Friend? Surely the heart of Christ was sorely pained by their forgetfulness, by their desertion. But this was not all. Not satisfied with the many proofs He had given of His love for men and the souls of men Christ bowed His shoulder to receive the heavy cross that by His death became the symbol of the undying love of God-man for human souls.

The test of love is sacrifice. Christ met this test by the sacrifice of the cross and He demands of those who love Him that they prove their love by the test of the cross. The cross that Christ sends to test our love may be found in sickness, sorrow, poverty, death, financial difficulties, domestic troubles or in any other way that brings suffering into our lives. The shadow of the cross will always be found across the path of those who are following in the way of God's commandments and of His love. The cross of Christ is the heritage that God has left to those who are dear to His Sacred Heart. Far from being a sign of God's displeasure, the cross is a pledge of His special love and friendship, for Christ has said, "Such as I love I rebuke and chastise." Upon the shoulders of His own Blessed Mother, sinless and immaculate, Christ laid a most heavy cross. He gave her a cross because He loved her. When Christ is showing His love for us by sending adversity and suffering into our lives let us joyfully accept them for, great or small as they may be, they are but splinters of the heavy cross of Christ—a pledge that all is well and that we are especially dear to His Sacred Heart.—W. S. B.

Lover of Children

There are four principal sectors in the modern attack on the child, and four corresponding lines of Catholic defence. In both its earliest and latest stages of development youth has neither ability nor resources to vindicate its truly human rights; but the militant Church firmly champions the child whenever it is attacked or imperiled. The child has a right, given and sanctioned by God, to life; therefore, the Catholic Church stands armed with drawn Excalibur in opposition to birth control. The child, secondly, claims a similar right to a home, to parental aid and affection, to a mother's and a father's intimate care; therefore, in her esteem for the sanctity of the home, the Church bluntly scores divorce. Again the child has a right to citizenship in the Kingdom of Christ; therefore, the Church insists on a distinctly Catholic or supernatural type of education. Finally, the off-spring of deceased, incompetent, and unnatural parents retain all these rights; hence, the large Catholic interest in foundlings, orphans, and unfortunate little ones, in order that these children may be supplied with a vicarious religious parentage.

The Church is, in the simple original force of the term, in love with the child; Catholic life glows with genuine affection toward the young. But a super-human, a supernatural quality permeates this affection which dates back to the Founder of Christianity.

For the Scripture explicitly portrays Christ's attitude to children. One evening, when travel-worn and dispirited at human hardness, Christ refreshed Himself in the company of children. "Suffer the little children to come to me." The Church has never lost sight of Christ on that occasion defending the young. Her ears remember His warning against scandalizing little ones. She heeds His caution that we should all become as little children, and she remembers that in the farewell address to the Apostles He styled them "little children."

To the Catholic, then, the logic of the Church's program is plain: "Christ loved children; therefore, the Church also loves them. As the true and only Bride of Christ, she must be interested in the children of Christ. The striking fact of her interest is another evidence that the mind and heart of the Catholic community are intact with the mind and heart of the Master. Indeed, the wonder of this devotion to child welfare arises out of the radical Christian mystery of the Incarnation, since Christ not only loved children, but assumed the form and perils of human childhood. Baptismal grace makes all children brethren of the Christ child. In consequence, that Church which like Mary cherishes the Christ will cherish all Christ's chosen youthful comrades in grace.

Now Mary's perfect care of her Boy has continued steadfast down the centuries in the Church's attachment to the child's being, rights, and destiny. In Christ's own infancy, little innocents are chosen as first bloodwitnesses to Him. Infants receive baptism, and become incorporated into the communion of the redeemed. St. Cyprian in the third century pictures a child sipping the chalice of God's consecrated Blood. Out of the bosom of the Church, schools spring even before the Roman world crumbles. Later, the schools and universities under ecclesiastical auspices mark the high tide of unitary European civilization. St. Bernard, the most compelling figure in Christendom in his day, admits his favorite devotion to the divine infancy. Aquinas' Summa does not fail to champion the child's rights. Worthily to represent the Madonna and Child becomes the prime ambition of a long line of painters and other art workers. Sixty-three such artists of the Madonna are mentioned in the "New Catholic Dictionary," in which number we find such varied geniuses as Giotto, Raphael, Murillo, Titian, Dolci and Rubens.

The observer of things Catholics today notes this same characteristic attention to the child. As the price paid for a loved object proves the reality of that love, then there can be no doubt where the Church's heart is. For her treasures of money and manhood, her talents of gold and her talents of mind are poured out chiefly upon practical means for the correct education of youth.

Let's Remember

That just because we're on the move from morning till night isn't any sign we're getting anywhere. The pup that chases his tail till he is all out of breath travels a long way and works hard, but he never gets anywhere. The best way is to know where we're going and how we're going to get there.

The happiness of any home can be murdered by any two people in it, each determined daily to have his or her own way. Riches or poverty, position or obscurity, have nothing to do with it. Home happiness is built on unselfishness and sympathy and forbearance—or else not built at all, but scattered into ruin.

Next to the sunlight of heaven is a cheerful face. There is no mistaking it. The bright eye, the unclouded, sunny smile, all tell of that which dwells within. Who has not felt its electrifying influence? One glance at this face lifts us out of the mists and shadows into the beautiful realms of hope.

Learn to Forget

To forget—that is what we need. Just to forget. All the petty annoyances, all the vexing irritations, all the mean words, all the unkind acts, the deep wrongs, the bitter disappointments—just let them go, don't hang on to them. Learn to forget. Make a study of it. Practice it. Become an expert at forgetting. Train the faculty of the mind until it is strong and virile. Then the memory will have fewer things to remember, and it will become quick and alert in remembering the good things and will not be cumbered with disagreeable things, and all its attention will be given to the beautiful things, to the worth-while things.

No matter what business you are pursuing, no matter what literary subjects you may be studying, no matter what scientific problems you are trying to solve, take up the study of forgetting. The art of forgetting will give added lustre to all our literary business or scientific attainments and it will add immeasurably to health of mind and body.

All That Counts

On the boardwalk at a seaside resort several small lads in search of a diversion had stopped in front of a weighing machine. One by one they stepped onto the scales, deposited their pennies, and stepped down again. Finally the smallest boy's turn came. He stepped onto the platform, took a long breath, puffed out his cheeks, and chest, and looked as big as possible.

"Aw, that doesn't do any good!" cried his companions in chorus. "You can only way what you are."

How much like the little fellow some of us, who fancy ourselves grown-ups, are! How we puff out our cheeks and expand our chests and imagine that our social position and bank account and fine clothes are going to add to our bigness before men and God! It is a pathetic mistake. After all, we can weigh only what we are!

If You Want to Be Loved

Don't find fault.
Don't contradict people, even if you are sure that you are right.
Don't be inquisitive about the affairs of even your most intimate friend.
Don't believe the evil you hear.
Don't repeat gossip, even if it does interest the crowd.
Don't go untidy on the plea that everybody knows you.
Don't overdress or underdress.
Don't believe that everybody else in the world is happier than you.
Don't jeer at other people's opinions.
Don't use vulgar language.

Done in a Spirit of Love

You will find, as you look back upon your life, that the moments that stand out, the moments when you have really lived, are the moments when you have done things in a spirit of love. As memory scans the past, above and beyond all the transitory pleasures of life, there leap forward those supreme hours when you have been enabled to do unnoticed kindness to those round about you—things too trifling to speak of, but which you feel have entered into your eternal life.—Drummond.

Communism Aims at What?

Communism professes to be directed towards a certain good, to wit, the abolition of poverty. But it does not tell you why this should be good; it does not admit that its scheme is also to destroy other things which are also by the common consent of mankind good; the family, property (which is the guarantee of individual freedom and individual dignity) humor, mercy, and every form of what we consider right living.—Hilaire Belloc.

To Our Parishioners:

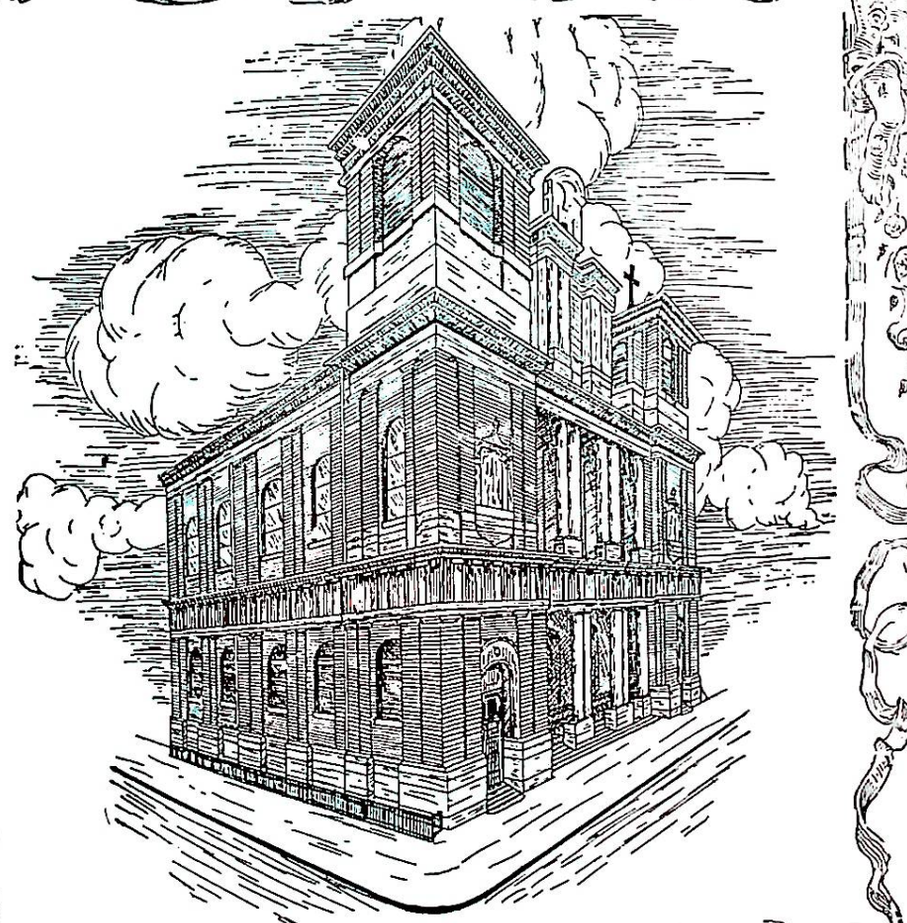

We cannot urge too strongly the necessity of patronizing the advertisers in the Gesu Parish Monthly Calendar, and of returning the same generous support they are giving to us. In other words, buy your goods from the firms that are using our pages to address you, and thus helping us.

These advertisers with us are live, energetic business men, thoroughly responsible, and know what it means to have their names placed prominently before this parish.

Thanks Be to God

Thanks be to God for all the things His loving kindness sends,
For air we breathe, for sun that shines, for blessing sweet of friends;
Thanks be to God for songs of birds, for trees that shelter give,
For sky and stars and light of moon, and world in which we live;
Thanks be to God for fertile lands, and crops that in them grow,
And for the care He givest them with sun and rain and snow;
Thanks be to God for flowers rare which bring joy to our heart,
Whose fragrant beauty tell us they of God's Love are a part;

Thanks be to God for parents dear, and blessings of our home,
Where from the world we live with those who are our very own;
Thanks be to God for faith and hope that others in us find,
And for the love which spurs us on and makes a harsh world kind;
Thanks be to God for bodies strong and health that He doth give,
For peaceful minds and happy hearts that make us glad to live;
Thanks be to God for chance to work, in life's toil thus to share,
So we might lift from others' hearts the load of grief they bear;

Thanks be to God for being born that we might save our soul,
And for the lonely years He lived, with Calvary as His goal;
Thanks be to God for having died that we in turn might live,
And for the Home in heaven which His death didst to us give;
Thanks be to God for Love so great no human tongue can tell,
That made the Cross a joy because it saved our souls from hell;
Thanks be to God;—oh take our hearts and make them Thine, God, please,
For all we are we owe to Thee, for blessing such as these.

WILLIAM F. SHERIDAN.

In the April and May issues of the Parish Calendar, we pointed out the need of getting ready for our big celebration on December 8, 1938 when we shall commemorate the fiftieth anniversary of the opening of the Church of the GESU. This cannot be done in a slipshod fashion hence we shall need a considerable fund of money.

Two very necessary repairs to our Church building are the first steps in our jubilee program. As you know these improvements will cost about $13,000.00. From our recent bazaar we netted $4,299.96 and thanks to the direct contributions of generous friends we have received an additional $2,825.50. This brings our Golden Jubilee Fund to $7,125.46. So we feel safe in proceeding with the repairs on the Church roof.

There are a number of other improvements that call for attention first of which is the replacement either in whole or in part of our sanctuary carpet. The carpet around the main altar is in exceedingly shabby state. Fortunately, because of the size of our sanctuary this defect is not so conspicuous from the body of the church; nevertheless God's altar must be decently cared for. Then, too, the interior decoration of the Church needs touching up in places.

Nor must it be forgotten that the Church carries a funded debt of $108,600.00. Our good people will be glad to know that recently we received a reduction in interest rate of one-half of one per cent on the major part of this debt. This means an annual saving of $394.00. During the past year we were able to reduce the principal of our debt by $1,100.00. In celebrating our Golden Jubilee we can do nothing more practical than effect a substantial reduction in our debt.

To achieve these purposes we are calling attention to our Third Sunday Collection. Of the late years this has fallen off badly. There was a time, not so long ago, when this collection would average more than $900.00: now it averages about $650.00 and still shows a downward trend. We have determined to devote the Third Sunday Collection to the building up of our Golden Jubilee Fund. This means that whatever we receive in this collection over and above our present average of $650.00 will go to swell this fund.

Undoubtedly everybody will pull together to make this effort a success.

Parish Notes

Father O'Gorman's Jubilee

As the Bulletin is going to press, arrangements are being made for the celebration on Thursday, September 16, of the fiftieth anniversary of the entrance of Father O'Gorman, S.J. into the Society of Jesus. Father O'Gorman entered the Society of Jesus on August 12, 1877, but the celebration is being held over to the later date in September.

Congratulations and good wishes go from the hearts of all, both in the College of St. Joseph's where Father taught Philosophy from 1908 to 1930 and in the parish, to the good Father, on his completion of fifty golden fruitful years in the service of God. A fuller account of the happy event will be given in the next issue of the Bulletin.

The Gesu Parish and Neighborhood Improvement Association

Though weekly meetings have been discontinued during the summer months to allow everyone a little more freedom and relaxation, our work has been carried on by the various committees whose earnest efforts have not slackened in the least.

Mrs. M. Conlan as Chairman of the Covenant Committee has pushed the work to a greater degree than has heretofore been reached, and we find our NEIGHBORS at last becoming Covenant-minded. The chief cause of delay, we fear, is the same cause which underlies all inaction—the inclination to wait and see what someone else does about it. Do you realize that it is perhaps YOUR signature which your NEIGHBOR is waiting to see as a encouraging sign that the movement has your approval?

Do you realize how much valuable time is being spent by these earnest men and women who are contributing time and effort to the cause which will be beneficial to all in the NEIGHBORHOOD? Many owners sign without hesitation pledging their part in co-operating with the movement to preserve our NEIGHBORHOOD. Some others are inclined to wait and wonder. Some few others feel their heirs might be unfavorably hampered in later years. To all of these we offer the same answer.

REMEMBER that your signature does NOT bind you unless and until all your NEIGHBORS have joined with you. Only after all owners in a given block have signified their willingness to proceed along the lines outlined in the Covenant does the Covenant have any value. Therefore YOUR signature will be an encouragement to your next door neighbor. Your combined signatures will be encouragement to the more timid or more obstinate owners. And your SIGNATURE in no way handicaps you. If after earnest effort and consideration some of the owners on your block refuse to see the wisdom of UNITING with YOU and their NEIGHBORS in preserving their NEIGHBORHOOD from deterioration—then YOU are released from any obligation to fulfill the terms of the Covenant. Thus, your signature is your pledge to co-operate until such time as all owners on the block sign, THEN your signature becomes your protection from unnecessary devaluation and it assures your heirs that when they become lawful owners of the property they will possess a property protected from devaluation.

Therefore, we urge all our parishioners and neighbors to lend a willing ear to our workers when they call and by accepting the opportunity to co-operate, make this parish once more a NEIGHBORHOOD OF GOOD NEIGHBORS. In unity there is strength.

Feasts of the Month

BL. ANTHONY IXIDA AND COMPANIONS, S.J., MM.—SEPTEMBER 3

At Nangasaki in Japan on Martyr's Hill in the year 1632, Father Anthony Ixida Pinto, a Japanese, suffered for the Faith. He preached it for forty-five years by word and example amidst continual dangers to his life, with great fruit in the salvation of souls, in almost every province of the empire. Being captured, he avowed himself a Christian and a priest, and being asked to apostatize, he challenged his persecutors to try all their torments against his Christian fortitude. He was tortured in various ways by the sulphurous waters. He was suspended in such a way that all his joints were dislocated, and boiling water was poured on his shoulders. For thirty days he endured these and all the torments his persecutors could devise, and was at last burned by a slow fire at the age of sixty-four years, forty-four of which he had spent in the Society of Jesus.

BL. JAMES BONNAUD, WILLIAM DELFAUD, ALEXANDER LANFANT AND TWENTY COMPANIONS, S.J., MM.—SEPTEMBER 4

During the horrors of the French Revolution, in the month of September, 1792, in Paris were cruelly put to death out of hatred of the Faith, three Bishops and a large number of priests, religious and laymen—one hundred and ninety-one in all—for refusal to take the iniquitous oath to the civil constitution of the clergy. Among them were twenty-three priests belonging to the suppressed Society of Jesus, who always full of the spirit of their Father, St. Ignatius, were laboring in the sacred Ministry. These French Martyrs were beatified by Pius XI in 1926.

BL. THOMAS TZUGI AND MICHAEL NACAXIMA AND COMP., S.J., MM.—SEPTEMBER 6

At Nangasaki, in Japan, in 1627, died Father Thomas Tzugi, member of an illustrious family of Omura, who had entered the Society of Jesus at an early age. After years of glorious toil, he was seized and condemned to death by fire along with his two Japanese hosts. In the midst of flames he spoke with great power and eloquence on the Passion of Christ and Faith in Him. Whilst singing "Laudate Dominum Omnes Gentes," he expired. The bystanders saw his breast part asunder and from it issue a purple flame, which flew upward to heaven, surrounded by a brilliant light.

On Christmas Day, in 1628, Michael Nacaxima, a Scholastic of the Society, was martyred for the Faith. He was often caned on the soles of his feet, was put to the torture of the water, then exposed to the burning heat of the sun and at length was plunged into the sulphurous and burning waters and so suffering gave up his blessed soul to God.

BL. MARK CRISINO, STEPHEN PONGRACZ AND MELCHIOR GRODECZ, S.J., MM.—SEPTEMBER 7

At Cassovia in Hungary in 1639 Fathers Stephen and Melchior were slain by the Calvinists out of hatred of the Faith. After three days in prison without food they were condemned to die. Father Stephen was offered his freedom, if he would become a Calvinist. On constantly refusing his breast was scorched with fire. He was finally strangled with Father Grodecz and Mark Crisino, Cannon of Strigonia, who also had been engaged in combating the heresies of Calvin and Luther. They were beatified by Pius X in 1905.

OUR MOTHER'S BIRTHDAY—SEPTEMBER 8

Today Christ's Church bids the Faithful gather about Mary's altar, or make a shrine for her in the secrecy of their hearts, and look love into her eyes, and tell her as they would their earthly mothers, that they rejoice in her joys and gifts, and are happy for her happiness and glory. Truly the feast of her Nativity is for every Catholic "Mother's Day" par excellence, the day when the dearest and fairest of mothers is honored.

The anniversary takes one back in spirit to a little scene enacted in the Judean hill country a few years before the Christian era begins. Judged by external appearances, the event was common enough. Doubtless the neighbors, who came to congratulate Anna and Joachim on the birth of a little daughter, thought as much. Yet it was a happening of the utmost importance in the world and of unparelleled joy in Heaven,—the advent of one who was to be the Mother of God, Queen of angels and of men.

The Holy Spirit has His own peculiar share in the gladness of Mary's nativity. She is to be His spouse, and at once He begins to lavish upon her His choicest gifts. How fair her body! The sparkling eye and the rosy cheek and the delicate flesh give promise of the beauty that is to be. Thou art all fair! But, oh, the soul! Already for nine months has the Holy Spirit been operating there. Who can fathom the significance of her immaculate conception? Alone of God's creatures since the awful curse had rested on fallen man, she is preserved from the stain of original sin. Even then she is full of grace. With her He shares the plenitude of His sevenfold gifts: wisdom, to give her a relish for the things of God; understanding, to make her apt to penetrate the Divine secrets; counsel, to guide others in the path of perfection; knowledge, to teach others God's truths; holy fear, to serve Him as she should; fortitude, that she may not fail in her vocation to be the Mother of Sorrows; piety, that will inspire her, even on the threshold of life, to vow virginity and consecrate herself to the ministry of God's temple. As He contemplates her cradle, the Holy Spirit knows that these virtues will blossom and each grace bear fruit.

To Mary's nativity the Church's Easter canticle may well be adapted. This is the day which the Lord hath made! Let us rejoice and be glad for it! Joy is the keynote of Our Lady's birthday. There is high joy in heaven: joy for the Blessed Trinity, joy for Anna and Joachim, joy for the angels. There is joy for Mary herself at the recollection of God's love and goodness, and in an ecstacy of gratitude the gladsome hymn of the Visitation is re-echoed. My soul doth magnify the Lord! On earth too there should be an universal, holy joy. Mary is our Mother, our Queen, our Advocate. She is also our inspiration. She reminds us that her graces and talents had been of no avail had she not fully co-operated with the Divine plan, and that we too have a place to fill in God's scheme which can only be achieved if, like her, we sense our dignity and our obligations, and confidently put forth our best efforts to uphold the one and to fulfill the other.

—Father Lonergan, S.J.

ST. PETER CLAVER, S.J.—SEPTEMBER 9

Born at Verdu in Spain in 1581, at the age of twenty he entered the Novitiate at Tarragona. While he was studying philosophy at Maiorca in 1605, Alphonsus Rodriguez, the saintly door-keeper of the college, learned from God the future mission of the young Jesuit, and thenceforth never ceased exhorting him to set out to evangelize the Spanish possessions in America. Peter obeyed and in 1610 landed at Cartagena, the chief slave-mart of the New World, where for forty-four years he was the Apostle of Negroes who were constantly imported from Africa to cultivate the cotton soil and exploit the mines.

The moral and physical degradation of these unfortunate human beings, the brutalities to which they were subjected, and the contempt in which they were held as scarcely possessing a soul, do not bear description. Fr. Claver dedicated himself by vow to be "the slave of the Negroes forever." Every month, when the arrival of the Negroes was signalled, he went out to meet them, carrying food and delicacies. He cared for each one of them in particular, making him understand by the language of charity that, from that moment, he was his father and his defender. While the slaves waited in Cartagena to be purchased and dispersed, the Saint instructed and baptized them, looked after all their needs and protected them against their oppressors. More than 300,000 Negroes were instructed and baptized by him in his long apostolic life, supported by a charity truly superhuman. He died on September 8, 1654.

Peter Claver was beatified in 1850 and canonized in 1888 along with his friend Alphonsus Rodriguez. In 1896 he was proclaimed the special Patron of all Catholic Missions among the Negroes.

BLESSED CHARLES SPINOLA AND COMPANIONS, MM.—SEPTEMBER 10

At Nangasaki, in Japan, in the year 1622, died the Blessed Charles Spinola, an Italian, burned to death by a slow fire. He was born of noble parentage at Genoa. He prepared himself for martyrdom by severe penances and by making the Spiritual Exercises every year for thirty days. In the time of the most cruel persecution of Daifusama he secretly assisted the Japanese Christians, and baptized five thousand souls. At last, captured on December 14, 1618, he was thrust with his eight companions into the terrible prison of Omura, where to their sufferings they added voluntary afflictions of the body, such as fasts, watchings and scourgings. In the same prison there were also eight Dominicans, four Minorites, and thirty other Christians, among whom was Elizabeth Fernandez and her four-year-old child, Ignatius, beheaded for the Faith. When led out to die by fire, they sang psalms, shedding tears of joy. While burning at the stake, Fr. Spinola inquired of Elizabeth where her son was. She lifted him above the crowd and said, "Behold him, Father, happy to die with me. Most willingly, indeed, do I sacrifice to my God the two things dearest to me, my life and my child." Then, turning to the boy: "See him who made you a child of God and gave you a life much better than the one which is to end now."

THE SEVEN DOLORS—SEPTEMBER 15

On Monday, September 15, we shall celebrate the Feast of the Seven Dolors of Our Blessed Lady. It is an occasion when we are expected to renew the memory of the principal sorrows that cast a gloom across the path of our Mother's earthly pilgrimage. These seven afflictions were chiefly seven in number, namely, the prophecy of holy Simeon, the flight into Egypt, the loss of the Child Jesus in the Temple, the meeting of Jesus and Mary on the road to Calvary, Crucifixion, the taking down from the Cross and the Entombment.

They are like seven fountains of liquid tonic set in the Church's Garden of Consolation, from which the troubled and distressed soul may draw deep draughts of solace, and come away strengthened in body and mind to meet and bear the trials and tribulations of life. There is food for pious meditation and balm of comfort in every sorrow. What a source of soothing strength and courage in the thought that the Master of hearts kept His own blessed Mother at the foot of the Cross! Though He exempted her by singular privilege from the stain of Adam's sin, He permitted her to suffer some of its evil consequences. Christ and His Mother! Who ever suffered more than they? Who were holier and less deserving of suffering? Who were nearer and dearer to God? Who bore sufferings with greater patience and holier resignation? Who suffered more and it all for me? Is not the reflection a wholesome and salutary one? Why, then, sinful creature that I am, should I repine at my just deserts? Why should I complain of the lot that fell to Jesus and Mary? Why should I niggardly refuse to put up with a little pain for the Mother and the Son who so generously underwent untold torments for me?

Suffering is the badge of all our tribe; there is no age, no condition of life that is free from it. "Our present life," writes St. Augustine, "is a weary pilgrimage—fugitive, uncertain, wearisome; it exposes us to the contagion of every vice and every crime, and entails upon us every kind of misery and misfortune. It ought not be called life, but death." Child of affliction, know you not that the Mother of Sorrows is your Mother; that she loves you and has a heart full of the sympathy of one who has known and felt the pangs of silent grief? Go to her with your burden of sorrow. Lay it at her feet, and you will rise from your knees, if not entirely freed from it, at least strengthened with her strength to bear it patiently and meritoriously.

SEPTEMBER 25

At Tabina, in Japan, in the year 1622, died Father Camillus Constanzo, an Italian. In the midst of flames he sang the psalm "Laudate Dominum Omnes Gentes," and after the "Gloria Patri" exclaimed three times in Japanese—"O how well it is with me!" And when his body was nearly consumed, he sang aloud five times "Sanctus, Sanctus, Sanctus," so that even the unbelievers were amazed at his indomitable courage. Augustine Ota, lay brother and catechist, was beheaded for the Faith. A few days before Father Camillus there died as martyrs Gaspar Cotenda, catechist, allied to the royal family, Francis Taquea, aged twelve years, and Peter Xequi, aged seven years.

Obligations and Manners

Sometimes Catholics pare their obligations to the quick. They go to Mass on Sunday, for example, but if Benediction is given immediately after the Holy Sacrifice, they arise to depart. Mass is of obligation, Benediction is not. Some will stand so pat upon their liberty as to insist on leaving the church immediately after the Last Gospel, not waiting for the prescribed prayers at the foot of the altar. The full implication of this practice surely has never dawned upon them. Father Martindale, S. J., in a contribution to the Catholic Times, gives such persons something well worth thinking about. He writes:

"And just one other point about manners. We seem to see that people behave better in the matter of the final 'Hail Marys' than they did. To go out before them, on the grounds that they are not part of the Mass! Good heavens! to confess that you prefer not to talk to Our Lady. To tell her to her face that conversation with her bores you. To refuse, as it were, to take your hat off to a Lady who has been present during your conversation with her Son! And to leave Calvary the moment Christ has died, without so much as turning your eyes towards His Mother. Yes, all that is included if only we ever took the trouble to work out the meaning of our acts, and their logical values."

HOLY NAME SOCIETY

"At the Name of Jesus  Every Knee Shall Bend"

Catholics of the Philadelphia Archdiocese will celebrate the One Hundred and Fiftieth Anniversary of the Adoption of the Constitution with special religious exercises in the Municipal Stadium, Sunday, September 12th. His Eminence D. Cardinal Dougherty will offer Solemn Pontifical Mass on this occasion.

All Catholic men, women and children are earnestly exhorted to attend these exercises. Our many schools, societies and organizations may attend in a body. Women and children may select any suitable method of transportation to the Stadium.

Our men will march in parade previous to the exercises. The parade will be under the auspices of the Philadelphia Archdiocesan Union of Holy Name Societies. Uniformed Junior Holy Name Societies will participate with their respective parishes. Parishes having no organized Holy Name Societies will be assigned places in the line of march. All diocesan organizations are urged to send representations.

Holy Name Societies and parish organizations will assemble at designated places on Broad Street, and march to the Stadium.

The occasion will be historic. A religious spectacle, that should surpass that of 1926, will manifest the true loyalty and patriotism that are ever inherent in the hearts of our Catholic people. Moreover, it will emphasize the wisdom of the fathers of the Constitution, who realized the justice and advantages of religious liberty, and it will show the blindness of those rulers who are striving to crush religion at the present time.

Ingratitude

In the hour of trial, sorrow and want, we run to our good Lord and ask Him to help us; He does, and then we run off, forgetting the hand that has blessed us, and forgetting to offer a prayer of thanksgiving. The Heart of Jesus feels this ingratitude for it is a human heart, sensitive and keenly alive to all pain and He cries out in sadness: "Were not ten made clean? Where are the nine?" How few are the acts of thanksgiving that ascend from earth to heaven, compared with the acts of goodness that descend from heaven to earth!

Saints in Large Families

Some years ago, an article was published to show the remarkable number of instances in which a great man or woman was the third or fourth child of a numerous family. The compilation was useful as is evidenced by the fact that it has been republished in many parts of the world, and in many languages. That it has occasionally been reprinted without permission and without credit, may be set down to the poor memory with which good folk are now and then afflicted.

Writing in a number of the Dublin Standard, D. L. Kelleher approaches the topic from a slightly variant angle, "Saints Who Came from Large Families." Seventeen figure in the list, but Mr. Kelleher observes that as his paper is not the result of intensive research, the catalogue could be greatly extended. Among his Saints are Catherine of Siena, the twenty-first of a family of twenty-two (although some say she was the twenty-fifth of twenty-six children), Francis de Sales, the first of eight, Vincent de Paul, one of six, Teresa of Avila, the third of nine, Margaret Mary, the fifth of seven, and Ignatius Loyola, the last of eleven children. St. Paul of the Cross was one of sixteen children, mostly boys, and his mother used to survey them with pride and call out, "May the Lord make Saints of you all!"

The Catholic Atmosphere

I called to bless a house and, on entering the parlor, I felt the Catholic atmosphere. I could realize from the beautiful picture of the Sacred Heart which hung in a conspicuous place, that this home of refinement was also a household of Faith.

The father and mother greeted me with pleasant words, and their little children gathered reverently about me. For the sake of these little ones I explained briefly that I was going to sprinkle the house with Holy Water and then ask God to bless their home and to protect them from everything that might do them harm, bidding them always remember that God was ever near them in their home.

As I passed from room to room and sprinkled each with Holy Water, I could not but notice how they differed from what I had observed in other homes. I could see, that when the little ones opened their eyes in the morning, they would look upon the sweet faces of Jesus and Mary, and not upon the paint-daubed features of some popular actress, cut out from the supplement of a Sunday newspaper.

It is easy to teach children in their younger years to love Jesus and Mary, and one means is to provide that their eyes shall rest frequently on attractive pictures of Him who said, "Suffer little children to come unto Me," and of her whom they should learn ever to associate with Him. Before I left the house that night, we all knelt and said the rosary together, a pious custom which existed in that truly pious Catholic home. How I wished that I might have brought thousands of the readers of "The Messenger of the Sacred Heart" to visit it along with me!—Messenger S. H.

How to Make a Visit to the Blessed Sacrament

A visit to the Blessed Sacrament is really a talk with Jesus. No two will have the same things to say to Him, and this is one reason why the choicest of prayer books cannot be used to the best advantage when visiting our Best Friend, Jesus in the Tabernacle.

The following brief outline might throw a little light on what a simple heart-to-heart talk with Jesus could be. Go up to the front of the Church, or close your eyes to shut out distractions.

1. Think that you are kneeling at the feet of our dear Lord and that He is anxious for you to tell Him everything.

2. Consider how unworthy you are to appear before Him on account of your manifold sins. Tell Him you are heartily sorry, and remember, He wants you and loves you dearly, in spite of your sins.

3. Thank Him in your own words for the graces you have received. Mention some graces recently bestowed upon you. It pleases Jesus to be told of His gifts and He expects a "Thank You."

4. Something worries you. Tell Him all about it, just as you would to a very dear friend, and be assured He will attend to it.

5. You are very precious in the sight of Jesus, but are you as holy as you might be for all the chances you have had? Tell Him your temptations, your failings, and ask Him to help you and make you come up to the ideal He had in His Divine mind when He created you.

6. Ask for favors. Don't be afraid of asking for too much for yourself or for your friends. Many a grace is withheld because we do not ask. Jesus loves you to pray for others; all are dear to Him. Beg Him to have pity on the poor souls in Purgatory and on sinners. Ask Him to bless His priests and to bring them still nearer to His Sacred Heart.

7. Make, in your own words, short acts of love, of hope, of faith, of confidence. Make a spiritual Communion; that is, an ardent desire to receive our Lord into your heart. A short act for spiritual Communion is: "As I cannot now receive Thee sacramentally, my Jesus, come spiritually into my heart and make it Thine forever. . . ."

8. Thank Jesus for allowing you to make this little visit. Tell Him that you are going to be better, and that you are going to drop in soon again. Ask Him to bless you, and bow your head and make the Sign of the Cross.

A man's life in the world is like a bubble that arises in a lake. It glitters for an instant, bursts, and leaves no trace—not even a blur on the water-mirror. Or it is like the leap of a minnow; it sends a tiny ripple a-tremble for a few feet, and then all is smooth again. And we become attached to the bubble and terribly proud of the ripple. Some lives form bigger bubbles than others and some make bigger ripples, but all are microscopically small when viewed from the Eternal Hills.

Good Men Rather Than "Good Fellows"

It was written of a man who died recently that "to be in his home surrounded by his children was his chief delight, as he looked upon his home as life's best reward and life's best defense." This should be the case generally with married men, heads of families. The family is the club that has the first claim upon their time and their social gifts. This, it is true, will not gain them the reputation of being "good fellow," but it is essential to the character of a good man—and that is more important. We need more "good men" and not quite so many "good fellows."

St. Augustine on Charity

What are the poor to whom we give, but our carriers by whom we convey our goods from earth to heaven?

We are God's mendicants; that He may acknowledge His mendicants, let us on our part acknowledge ours.

Put we up then in the hostelry of this life as travelers passing on, and not as owners intending to remain.

Give and there shall be given to you what you desire, eternal life. Support the temporal life of the poor man, the poor man's present life, and for this so small and earthly seed you shall receive for harvest Life Eternal.

The cause of the little one we commend to their elders. Speak ye for them who are mute, pray for them who weep.

Let Charity be born in you, if it be not born already; and if it is born, let it grow and be fostered and nourished.

Educate the Heart

To make good men and faithful citizens, we must cultivate the heart as well as educate the brain. The welfare of the State and perpetuity of our Republic demand the religious training of its youth. It has been well said that education without religion will give us monsters and a learned barbarism armed with abundant means of destruction. For this reason the Church wishes to superintend the education of its youth. It has ever been the staunch friend of education, but detests and condemns the Godless education which opened its first school under the tree in the Garden of Eden. It was this education of the brain, without the religious training of the heart, that caused the men of the Commune to cry out, "Liberty, fraternity and equality," while in the very act of confiscating and destroying the property of their neighbors without regard to law or justice. It is this education that is devastating Russia today.

Parents Should Not Have Quarrels at Meal Time

The best cherry pie in the world, the prettiest china and the most attractive dining room count very little in making a meal a success if it is accompanied by family quarrels. Parents who fall into the habit of giving way to strained nerves by unpleasantness and bickering at meals usually are not aware of the far-reaching and harmful effects this has on their children.

Meals should be pleasant social functions, not battlegrounds. Father may feel relieved temporarily if he takes out on mother at dinner what he feels towards a business associate, and mother may think that she is justified in making a cutting remark in return, but neither realizes how disastrous the effects may prove. Take advantage of meals as chances to knit the family together; don't spoil the happiness and therefore the appetite and digestion of the children, and do not cause them distress.

The child who must sit by day after day to see and hear his parents quarrel is robbed of a sense of security that can be had only when harmony exists. His natural faith in the two great authorities in his world is badly shaken when he sees them quarreling; and the confusion this produces may be decidedly harmful.

Save the Children

The conditions under which we live are particularly threatening to children. Of home life there is very little now in thickly populated communities. Home is a place to eat and sleep and dress in—that's all. Then for the street, the street corner, the theatre, the automobile, anything to keep moving, to change the scene before the eyes, to be diverted to be amused, to have quick changes of interest. The children of today are brought up in feverish, restless surroundings. The greater, then is the responsibility of parents. Theirs is the duty to calm the restless, to allay the fever; to keep their children normal or as nearly so as possible. In the early years while they still have effective authority, that authority should always be exerted for moderation, for calmness; against excess in feverish restless amusement; for a reasonable application to study; for proper hours of sleep; for attention to religious duties; against exposure to temptations. These things cannot be accomplished by occasional explosions of anger, by hit or miss exercise of the parental authority, being sternly prohibitive or in one mood one day and unduly indulgent or in another mood the next day; by being erratic or uncertain, forbidding something which might very well be permitted and allowing something which ought never to be allowed. Method, system, sense, based on, and giving effect to, the Church's teaching on parental duties; these are the essential things if you want to save your children from the dangers of the day. Conscientious realization of parental duty is necessary; and the conscience must be kept toned up by prayer, by the sacraments and by humble attention to the Word of God.

Our Lady's Birthday

Was there not joy in Heaven
The day of Mary's birth?
I'm sure that all the angels
Looked lovingly on earth,

For after days of darkness
And nights of weary gloom,
They saw at length in beauty
The Rose of Sharon bloom.

They saw the Lily of Israel
Stand tall and white and pure,
And knew that in her virtue
Was our redemption sure.

So, sing we with the blessed
A hymn in Mary's praise;
And, like her, may we follow
Her Son in all our ways!

(Ave Maria)

Our Bounden Duty

At this time of the year the thoughts of devoted parents turn anxiously to the ever-burning school question, because they realize that the choice of the right school for their children is one of their gravest responsibilities before God.

The mind of God's Church is very clear on this point. Catholic education for Catholic children, she says; the child of God must be educated and trained as such, and not as a mere thing of this world. Those who find fault with this heaven-inspired position of the Church, only show their own gross ignorance of our relations toward our Almighty Creator and Merciful Father, which are summed up in the word Religion. This is no mere matter of convenience to be used or set aside at our pleasure, nor is it like a coat of varnish that remains only on the surface; but it must permeate our whole being and become part of our very selves, inspiring, enlightening, directing and safeguarding us in all the details of life. How can something so vital be properly instilled except by educating the child day by day under its saving influence? It would be folly to expect to impart a knowledge of arithmetic or reading or spelling by a brief weekly lesson. Only too well we know that it takes earnest systematic work day after day. Our Religion is far more vital to the child of God than any mere secular knowledge, and must therefore be given corresponding importance in education.

True to their duty as Shepherds of the Flock of Christ, the American Bishops assembled in the Third Council of Baltimore, insisted on this important matter in unmistakable terms. Here are their words:

"We order and decree that all Catholic parents must send their children to the parochial schools, unless they otherwise provide sufficiently and plainly, either at home or in some other Catholic school, for the Christian education of their children. If, for one reason or another, permission is given to any children to attend other schools, the parents of such children must provide against all possible danger to their morals and faith; and the reasons for sending them to those schools must be satisfactory."

This is your duty. Our parishes are so well provided with schools that suitable arrangements can be made by any parents that really wish to do their duty. May God inspire them for their children's sake!

To Our Parishioners:

We cannot urge too strongly the necessity of patronizing the advertisers in the Gesu Parish Monthly Calendar, and of returning the same generous support they are giving to us. In other words, buy your goods from the firms that are using our pages to address you, and thus helping us.

These advertisers with us are live, energetic business men, thoroughly responsible, and know what it means to have their names placed prominently before this parish.

The King Who Rules With Love

October with its magic, Lord, is here again to bring A busy world reminders of the Feast of Christ, the King;
All nature dons its sweetest garb—its dress of million hues—
That on this day it may appear quite lovely to Thy View;
The gold that glistens in each leaf is of Thy Kingship, part,
The blood red leaves tell men of Love that burns within Thy Heart;
All things created by Thee, Lord, give homage to their King,
'Tis only man, Thy act supreme, who brings the ingrate's sting;

Thou art man's king, but, ah far more, Thou art His Friend Divine,
Thy Heart is pleading for his love, to rest his heart in Thine;
The King of Kings and yet Thou art, Christ Jesus meek and mild,
As gentle now and tender as Mary's little Child;
A King Who only wants His Throne in hearts of men to be,
Who humbly pleads as Friend, not King: "Come spend a while with Me;"
A King whose majesty and might He wills shall be concealed Within a tiny Host before which saints and angels kneel;

A King Who only rules with Love, whose power is His Heart,
That Heart once pierced and drained so man in heaven might have part;
A King Who suffers Calvary's grief when from His Side men go,
To break His Law and spurn His Love, and treason to Him show;
O, King of Kings, on this the day the Church has set apart,
To have Thy children give their King the love within their hearts.
Grant us the grace that we may each prove loyal to our King,
And may we to Thy Throne each day our love and homage bring.

WILLIAM F. SHERIDAN.

Father O'Gorman's Golden Jubilee

Thursday, September 16, 1937, the day set aside to mark the Golden Jubilee of Father O'Gorman's entrance into the Society of Jesus dawned. The early hours of the morning did not give rise to a favorable and sunny day, for the rain clouds hung low. However as the hour for the celebration of the Solemn High Mass drew near, the sun was brightening the day with its golden rays. At ten o'clock the Church of the Gesu was well filled with friends and acquaintances of the jubilarian. The procession of fifty white-clad altar boys with many fellow Jesuits, priests, friends and officers of the Mass slowly marched up the middle aisle of the church which was brilliantly lighted and beautifully decorated for the occasion.

The Reverend Jubilarian was celebrant of the Mass. The Rev. Philip H. Burkett, S.J., Professor of Sociology at St. Joseph's College acted as deacon of the Mass and the Rev. John Keating, S. J., of Boston College was subdeacon. The Rev. Daniel J. Quinn, S.J., delivered the sermon. Once again he displayed the eloquence which has made him an ever welcome preacher.

The Gesu Church was a appropriate place for him to have celebrated his Golden Jubilee Mass for Father O'Gorman has been saying Mass in that same Church for the past 31 years. In his sermon Father Quinn pointed out Father O'Gorman's Christ-like love for little children.

The Faculties of St. Joseph's College and the High School and the parishioners of the Gesu extend heartiest congratulations and felicitations to the Reverend Jubilarian. May the years to come be as blessed and as happy as the years that have gone!

September 21, 1937.

Dear Parishioner:

The Annual Visitation of the Parish and Block Collection will begin on Monday, September 27. Will you please fill out the enclosed information blank immediately and have it ready for the priest when he calls.

I wish to thank everybody for the cordial friendliness with which they treated the visiting priest last year. I also take this opportunity personally to thank every member of the Parish for the hearty co-operation lent to our late Bazaar. We had ambitiously hoped to realize $13,000.00 from this activity to be used for two elementary improvements to our Church building. From the Bazaar and additional gifts, we have gathered $7,126.46. Hence we are about $6,000.00 short.

Then, too, it is sad to note what has happened to our two principal collections—the First and Third Sunday collections. Five years ago, the First Sunday collection amounted to $12,833.; this year it amounted to $7,584.—a decrease of $5,000. The Third Sunday collection tells the same story. From it five years ago we received $9,272., this year we realized $7,529.14. As a consequence, we have had to depend on the Block Collection each year to keep us out of the red.

This year, we find ourselves in the same if not worse predicament. Because of the decline in our regular collections, we need at least $5,000. in the Block Collection to prevent a further deficit. Over and above this we need another $6,000. to pay for our building repairs—$11,000. in all. This may seem an astounding sum but with St. Paul, we believe that we can do all things in Him Who strengthens us.

We look up to God with hope. We are confident He will not forget us. We feel assured He will inspire our good people to persevere in their generous resolution to support God's Church as it deserves. We have inherited from those who have gone before this magnificent temple wherein we worship God. As we come into the Fiftieth year of the use of our Church, I can see that the same spirit which animated the builders of the Gesu is still with us. From their slender means but generous hearts, they gave to God without stint. Now God will bless us as He did them for doesn't He assure us: "Give and it shall be given to you; good measure and pressed down and flowing over shall they give unto your bosom."

May God bless you all.

Devotedly in Christ,

THOMAS J. HIGGINS, S.J., Pastor.

The Gesu Parish and Neighborhood Improvement Association

The Gesu Parish and Neighborhood Improvement Association has resumed general meetings semi-monthly beginning with September and plans to present matters of interest and importance at each meeting. Weekly meetings will be held for working members of committees in various blocks with a view to improving and stimulating the work by an exchange of ideas by those who are in actual contact with the problems which we are trying to solve.

If you are in position to offer your services on any of the committees you are strongly urged to do so, even though it may entail a sacrifice as the need for workers is great and under Mrs. Marie Conlan's able direction those who are in action are accomplishing real results. If the staff is increased now that the heat of summer has subsided, the prospects are encouraging for good results. Residents have become familiar with the movement and are encouraged by the fact that Neighbors are more steadfast during the past year than in the year or two preceding.

This is due to the spirit of encouragement which has been spread by the work already accomplished by the Association and its workers and by the fact that invasion has not progressed during the past year.

City authorities have been induced to co-operate in the movement to eradicate undesirable conditions and by active contact with the various civic bureaus, the Association has been instrumental in bringing about improved traffic regulations, control of nuisances and a more considerate attitude toward our Neighborhood and its needs.

The long tedious work of having owners sign covenants to co-operate and protect themselves and their Neighbors has been carried on steadily and determinedly by comparatively few workers. Father Maguire and Dr. Stokes have been untiring in their labors and time and experience has given the Association in general the benefit of knowledge which can be gained only by experience.

THEREFORE—YOU are urged to take up your part in the work. The benefit of that EXPERIENCE will be to avoid many of the causes of discouragement which were the lot of those who were pioneers in the work. A practical workable plan has been developed whereby much valuable time will be saved and definite results accomplished.

WHEN MEETINGS ARE ANNOUNCED, THEREFORE, take heed of the date and the time and make it a point to be present that YOU may know what is being done and what is yet needed to be done. If you are not in a position to carry on the actual work at least YOU can lend your moral support and encourage those who are engaged in the work. Make IMPROVEMENTS, talk IMPROVEMENT, join the Improvement Association for the general improvement of YOUR HOME, YOUR NEIGHBORHOOD, YOUR PARISH.

The Family Rosary

One thing we hope for, it is this: that wheresoever this Bulletin goes the beautiful and supremely sanctifying practice will be adopted if it does not already exist, of gathering the entire family together, children, servants, and all, each evening, at a fixed hour, for the public recitation of the Rosary. In season and out of season we have never ceased to strongly recommend this practice.

Wherever it is adopted you may rest assured that peace and happiness will reign within the family circle, God's blessing will be on the household, His grace will be in the hearts of all, and such a measure of wordly prosperity as He sees to be for the general good will be granted to the home where Mary's Rosary is held in honor.

Bishop Lamb to Sing Mass of Holy Ghost

St. Joseph's College Free Evening School of Social Sciences

Many New Courses Introduced

Registration October Eleventh and Twelfth

St. Joseph's Free Evening School of Social Sciences will enter its third year on October 11th when registration for the coming year will be held in the High School building at Eighteenth and Thompson Streets. Since the purpose of the School is a wider dissemination among the working classes of the principles of the Christian Social Manifesto and their application to the social ills of our day, no scholastic credits will be required for admission.

The record of the past two years shows that the School is really a School for all classes of people. Its rolls contain the names of people from all walks of life. Stenographers and waitresses, carpenters and street-car conductors, business and professional men and women, Negro and White, Catholic, Protestant and Jew,—all have gathered in the Halls of old St. Joseph's eager to learn the Catholic answer to the false promises of the Communistic Utopia.

Since the evils of our day have entered into the moral, the economic and the political order, the Christian concept of morality, of social justice and of State is presented in detail. The classes of the Evening School are essentially positive and constructive. The darkness of error cannot long withstand the bright white light of truth. The School has the benediction of His Holiness Pope Pius XI and His Eminence D. Cardinal Dougherty, Archbishop of Philadelphia. The faculty of St. Joseph's College conduct the classes, on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evening.

Among the new courses offered this year will be found such interesting subjects as, "Communism and Labor," "Labor Unions," "Applied Psychology," "Internationalism" and "the Psychology of Christ." Complete information may be had by addressing your communications to Fr. Albert C. Roth, S.J., Regent St. Joseph's College School of Social Sciences.

On Sunday, October 24th, at the Gesu Church, His Excellency, the Most Rev. Hugh L. Lamb, D.D., will sing the Mass of the Holy Ghost for the students of St. Joseph's Evening School. If the past two years are any indication, the 10.45 Mass will be attended by over a thousand men and women who have manifcsted their zeal for Catholic Action in giving three evenings weekly to the study Catholic program for social reconstruction. Father Joseph S. Hogan, S.J. will preach the sermon.

The Month of October Offers an Abundance of Special Days of Grace and Blessings

With the Courtiers of the King

We are again in October. The days are shorter, the warmth and brightness of summer has almost gone, the fresh green of forest and woodland has turned to a brown and yellow and gold. There is an element of calm and also a gentle touch of homesickness in the atmosphere. I wonder whether it is by design of the Holy Ghost or just by chance that this season of the year coincides almost perfectly with the spirit of the feasts of the Church in this month?

Early in the month we CELEBRATE THE FEAST OF THE HOLY ANGEL GUARDIANS, the feast which is in honor of those pure and sinless spirits whose duty it is to lead us to Heaven. Then in quick succession come the feasts of other glorious saints of God. Apostles, Martyrs, Confessors and Virgins who were champions in the battle for Christ. ON THE DAY AFTER THE FEAST OF THE HOLY GUARDIAN ANGELS comes the day in honor of THE LITTLE FLOWER OF JESUS; then the feast of ST. FRANCIS OF ASSISI. Both these saints excelled in a desire for Heaven and in utter and complete abandonment of the world and its ways. ST. FRANCIS BORGIA, a saint of the Society of Jesus, whose entrance into Heaven is celebrated on the 10th of October, was canonized for his complete withdrawal from the highest dignity in his native Spain. Then comes the feast of ST. THERESA, THE GREAT CONTEMPLATIVE AND ARDENT DEFENDER OF THE CHURCH. We shall be a little beyond the middle of the month when we are in company of the great VIRGIN ST. MARGARET MARY, whose apostolate it was to bring to the world the message of the devotion to the Sacred Heart of Jesus. On the very next day we shall be with ST. LUKE, THE EVANGELIST and historian of the Apostles, the artist and the physician. ON THE 24TH OF THE MONTH the strong and valiant companion of the YOUNG TOBIAS, THE ARCHANGEL RAPHAEL, will be our companion and guide and special patron. Close to the end of the month we have the commemoration of the APOSTLES SS. SIMON AND JUDE, MARTYRS, and intimate associates of Christ in His earthly sojourn while He was performing the stupendous work of founding His Church.

Two more considerations are significant for us. The whole month is DEDICATED TO MARY, QUEEN OF THE ROSARY. Under Mary's protection and special patronage we celebrate these festivals which, quite in keeping with the spirit and tone of this season of autumn, make us homesick for Heaven and for the companionship of these saints and heroes of God. But more than that! Our Holy Father Pius XI has added a perfect climax to this month in establishing THE FEAST OF CHRIST THE KING. We celebrate this royal FESTIVAL in blessed companionship of the Apostles and Martyrs, Confessors and Holy Virgins and thus we are led to Christ our King. Thus, indeed, it should always be with us; the saints of God with their powerful intercession and through the example of their heroic lives must lead us to Christ.

To appreciate this month's program and to receive in generous abundance the graces which are in store for us during this month and on the feast of Christ our King, LET US RECEIVE HOLY COMMUNION ON THESE SPECIAL DAYS OF GRACE AND BLESSING.

The Class of Instruction for children attending the public schools will be organized on Saturday, October 3rd, at 9.30 A. M.

The place of assembly will be the last seats in the rear of the Gesu Church.

Parents who neglect to send their children to our parochial school are reminded of their grave obligation in the matter of religious education.

Feasts of the Month

ROSARY MONTH

The month of October has been especially dedicated to the devotion of the Rosary for over forty years, and what was prescribed by His Holiness, Pope Leo XIII, on the first day of September, 1883, to be observed in the October of that year, has been faithfully observed ever since, throughout the world.

It may be well at the present time to recall the following words from the first twelve communications issued on this subject during his pontificate by this pious "Pope of the Rosary."

"We exhort all Christians to give themselves to the daily recital of this pious devotion, either in public or privately in the home or family of each, and we also desire that the whole month of October in the present year be consecrated to the Queen of the Holy Rosary.

"We therefore decree and enjoin that, throughout the whole Catholic world, the Rosary of the Mother of God be celebrated by special and solemn services in the present year, and that from the first day of October next to the second day of the following November, in every parish church, and, if the ecclesiastical authorities think it desirable, in every chapel dedicated to the honor of the Mother of God, there be devotedly recited at least five decades of the Rosary, together with the Litany of Loreto. It is our wish, further, that when the people are assembled for these devotions, either Mass be said, or that the Most Holy Sacrament be exposed on the Altar for adoration, and Benediction be given to the suppliant congregation."

Rosary Devotions

Every night during this month, in accordance with the prescription of Pope Leo XIII, we have the series of church services now known as "The October Devotions." They consist of the recitation of five decades of the Beads, the Litany of the Blessed Virgin and a special prayer to St. Joseph, during the Exposition of the Blessed Sacrament, closing with Benediction.

We do not feel that there is any need to urge our people to honor our Lady during the month of the Holy Rosary. Ever since Pope Leo XIII consecrated October to this devotion, the Catholic faithful have embraced with an ardent love this new opportunity to honor our Heavenly Queen, and most abundant have been the blessings that the clients of the Rosary have won for their souls from the faithful practice of reciting the Beads every day in a serious and meditative manner. It is an instinct of our Catholic faith to love the Rosary, and to know how to say it with reference to the fifteen mysteries, and with proper reflection, in so far as one can do so, on the scenes which the mysteries depict and the lessons which they impart. Some members of each family should assist at these devotions. A plenary indulgence is granted, under the usual conditions, to all those who attend the exercises on at least ten evenings.

THE GUARDIAN ANGELS—OCTOBER 2

October is peculiar in being dedicated to two devotions, that of the Holy Angels and, for the past thirty-six years, that of the Holy Rosary. Happily these two devotions work most beautifully together. We should be indeed sorry to see the Angels lose the month so long known as theirs, but these blessed spirits willingly share it with the Queen of Angels, under her invocation "Queen of the Most Holy Rosary," for is not the Rosary in the main made up of the Angelical Salutation?

All of us should have a true devotion to our Guardian Angels, which may be shown by receiving Holy Communion in their honor on their feast, and especially by invoking their powerful aid in all dangers and temptations.

God extends His protection to us through many agents, chief among whom are the Guardian Angels, whose office it is to assist and save all human wayfarers from the perils that at every turn in the road threaten the life of both body and soul. This consoling truth is clearly taught in the Scriptures, which say: "For He hath given His Angels charge over thee, in all thy ways."

Beautiful and endearing mission, that of the Guardian Angels, one of whom is appointed by God for each one of us to lead his ward to Heaven. Especially intimate is their care for the young: for the headlong child that dashes on to some thing of joy, though chasms yawn between him and his bauble; that reaches out to touch the candle flame unmindful of its burning; that would close fingers on the shining blade, not reckoning on the injury sure to follow; that would pluck the flowers of beauty or pleasure, even though a serpent were to lie in the grass nearby to wound and poison unto death.

Not only the years of childhood, but youth in its prime, and manhood in its decay and old age come within the province of the ministering Angels. A simple faith in the power and protection of our celestial companion, who walks with us every step of our life, is one of the greatest needs of our materialistic and self-sufficient age. Surrounded as we are by the vast throng of malign and unfriendly spirits that menace the soul, and by physical dangers that jeopardize the very existence of the body, let us turn constantly to our Guardian Angels for that defense and protection, which they alone can give, and show these all-shielding spirits the honor and gratitude they deserve.

All through life our heavenly guardian attends us, and when we come to die, the Church prays that the Angels of God may meet our departing souls, receive them, present them before the Lord and conduct them to their place of rest. The Church, in blessing our graves, prays that God would assign them Holy Angels as their keepers.

BLESSED TERESA OF THE CHILD JESUS (THE LITTLE FLOWER) (October 3)

Few saints in our times have grown more popular than the "Little Flower." Her history abounds in wonders. Born on January 2, 1873, at Alencon, France, she entered the convent at the age of fifteen and died nine years afterwards, on September 30, 1897, at Lisieux. She predicted, before she died, that she would become the wonder-worker of our time, dropping roses in abundance from heaven on earth:—"I will spend my heaven doing good upon earth." The "Little Flower" was canonized only 28 years after her death and has become one of the most beloved of all saints the world over.

Promises of the Little Flower

"I count fully on not remaining idle in Heaven. My longing is to labor even there for the Church and souls. I ask it of God and I am certain He will hear my prayer. Even now I know it. All my hopes will be realized. Yea, our Lord will work wonders for me that will infinitely surpass my boundless desires."

"Nor is this impossible, since the very heart of the Beatific Vision the Angels keep watch over us. No, there can be no rest for me until the end of the world. But when the Angel shall have said, 'Time is no more!' then shall I rest, then I shall be able to rejoice because the number of the elect will be complete."

"God will do my will in Heaven, because I have never done my own on earth."

"After my death I will let fall a shower of Roses."

ST. FRANCIS OF ASSISI—OCTOBER 4

Among all the servants of God who have adorned the Church during her nineteen centuries of existence, there are few who have exerted so powerful an influence on the world as St. Francis of Assisi.

Born in the town of Assisi in Umbria, in the year 1182, he was early distinguished by his love for the poor and the unfortunate. Yet he was very worldly for a time, nor did a prison cell or a dangerous sickness open his eyes to his folly. It was his love of the poor that made a saint of him and brought him the beginning of those graces that soon transformed him into a seraph of divine love. In a remarkable vision God's seal was set upon him in the stigmata he bore on his hands and feet and over his heart. In the foundation of his wonderful Order of Friars Minor, many great servants of God were drawn to him to lend lustre to the work. Poverty was his favorite virtue, to which he joined a truly admirable meekness and contempt of the world.

ST. FRANCIS BORGIA—OCTOBER 10

Worldly honors and possessions, so often an impediment in the path of virtue, proved no obstacle to the sanctity of this Spanish nobleman. In the midst of the cares attendant upon the high offices he filled in the state he won the admiration of all by the austerity of his life and his practice of Christian virtue. It fell to his lot, as Viceroy of Catalonia, to escort the remains of the Empress Isabella to the city of Granada. When the coffin was opened, he was struck with horror at the sight of the ravages wrought by death in the once beautiful features and immediately registered a vow henceforth to serve no mortal monarch, but only the King of kings.

Upon the death of his wife, he entered the Society of Jesus, of which he had long been a friend and benefactor, hoping thus to remain more securely hidden and to cut off all possibility of being advanced to high honors in the Church. Five times he refused the Cardinal's hat, offered to him by several Popes, and when, in 1565, he was elected the third General of the Society of Jesus, he burst into a flood of tears. He died at Rome in 1572.

ST. MARGARET MARY—OCTOBER 17

Members of the League and all true lovers of the Sacred Heart will not allow the 17th of October to pass without some very special devotional preparation for the celebration of the feast of St. Margaret Mary, the humble Visitation Nun, whom our Divine Lord chose from among all the holy souls of the seventeenth and previous and subsequent centuries to be His instrument in spreading devotion to His Sacred Heart. St. Margaret Mary was canonized, that is, raised to the Altars of the Church.

October 17th ought to be a day of general Communion for all the lovers of the Sacred Heart; thus honoring her whom our Lord honored and showing our devotion to her by doing what she desires more than anything else as our Divine Lord taught her, namely, to receive Holy Communion in Reparation for the coldness and indifference shown our Lord's Sacred Heart and to intercede for poor sinners.

THE FEAST OF OUR LORD JESUS CHRIST, KING—OCTOBER 31

Our Holy Father, Pope Pius XI, is most anxious that Catholics all the world over should celebrate the Feast of our Lord, Jesus Christ, King, with all possible fervor.

The Feast of our Lord, Jesus Christ, King, ought to be celebrated not merely in the churches, but in every Catholic household of our Lord. What more appropriate ceremony could be suggested than the renewal by all the members of each family of their consecration to the Sacred Heart of Jesus? Before the family altar with its statue or picture of the Sacred Heart, father, mother and all the children should kneel to recite their pledge to be faithful to Him, so that He may ever reign over their lives. Our consecration to the Heart of Jesus should be no mere form of words, but a heartfelt dedication to the service of Jesus Christ.

Millions of families in the United States are thus consecrated. We have recommended it year after year. All these are invited to make the coming feast memorable by a renewal of their consecration. Families not yet consecrated should delay no longer to give the Heart of Jesus this consolation and to ensure for themselves the abundance of blessings promised to those who honor Him in this way.

Consecration of the Human Race to the Sacred Heart of Jesus

Most sweet Jesus, Redeemer of the human race, look down upon us humbly prostrate before Thy altar. We are Thine, and Thine we wish to be; but, to be more surely united with Thee, behold each one of us freely consecrates himself today to Thy Most Sacred Heart. Many indeed have never known Thee; many, too, despising Thy precepts, have rejected Thee. Have mercy on them all, most merciful Jesus, and draw them to Thy Sacred Heart. Be Thou King, O Lord, not only of the faithful who have never forsaken Thee, but also of the prodigal children who have abandoned Thee; grant that they may quickly return to their Father's house, lest they die of wretchedness and hunger. Be Thou King of those who are deceived by erroneous opinions, or whom discord keeps aloof, and call them back to the harbor of truth and unity of faith, so that soon there may be but one flock and one Shepherd. Be Thou King of all those who are still involved in the darkness of idolatry or of Islamism, and refuse not to draw them all into the light and Kingdom of God. Turn Thine eyes of mercy toward the children of that race, once Thy chosen people. Of old they called down upon themselves the Blood of the Savior; may it now descend upon them a laver of redemption and of life. Grant, O Lord, to Thy Church assurance of freedom and immunity from harm; give peace and order to all nations, and make the earth resound from pole to pole with one cry: Praise to the Divine Heart that wrought our salvation; to It be glory and honor forever. Amen.

Plenary Indulgences

On October 10th, feast of St. Francis Borgia, S.J., and October 30th, feast of St. Alphonsus Rodriguez, S.J., a plenary indulgence may be gained. To gain these two indulgences it is necessary, besides complying with the ordinary conditions of Confession and Communion, to visit this church and pray for the intentions of our Holy Father, the Pope.

The Lay Brother

On October 30 we celebrate the feast of St. Alphonsus Rodriguez, S.J., Confessor. This canonized saint of the Church was a Jesuit Lay Brother, who spent the last years of his life in the duties of a college porter.

There are many young men, and men who are no longer young, to whom this vocation might appeal if they knew more about it. A call on one of the Fathers in the rectory would be a means of obtaining further information.

In a recent letter from Washington by the N. C. W. C. News Service the following story is told of one of these good Brothers, Br. Blasius Welch, S.J.:

"There is in the bell tower of St. Aloysius' Church here a famous old clock, which to many in the National Capital is immensely more important than the amazingly accurate timepieces at the Naval Observatory.

"The clock, a huge affair, is said to have no counterpart in this country, or probably in the world. It is more than sixty years old, the work of a Jesuit Brother, and has played an intimate and faithful part in the daily lives of thousands of the city's residences. Once, it is said, it was used to check the arrival and departure of trains from Washington, and was the timepiece by which all the clocks in the Capitol were regulated.

Brother Blasius Welch, S.J., a native of Europe, made the famous "Gonzaga clock;" also clocks at Woodstock College, Md.; Loyola College, Baltimore; Fordham University, New York; Boston College and St. Andrew-on-Hudson, Poughkeepsie, N. Y. No two of these clocks are alike.

The Guardian Angels

God has created two orders of creatures endowed with immortal souls; one composed of body and soul, that is, man; the other of soul or spirit alone, namely, angels. We know of the existence of these spirits and that they have been given to man to watch over him, from many places in Holy Scripture, such as, "He hath given His angels charge over thee, to keep thee in all thy ways" (Psalm 90, 11).

We may learn something of the duties of our guardian angels from the little prayer which Catholics know so well:

"Angel of God, my guardian dear,
To whom His love commits me here;
Ever this day be at my side,
To light, to guard, to rule and guide."

The prayer names four offices that we ask our guardians to fill; to help our minds to differentiate between good and evil; to protect us from that evil; to govern the circumstances of our lives; and to watch over our every step until we stand on the threshold of heaven. To perform this task they must be at our side every minute of the day and as long as we live.

A true Christian may derive real consolation from remembering from time to time this simple doctrine of the Guardian Angel. The man who fails to consult his spiritual monitor when in difficulty is merely casting aside the counsel of a prudent and trusty friend.

A Rosary a Day Won Him Many Favors

A New York lawyer once told me that a rosary a day has won for him more cases than all the knowledge gleaned from his library of law. "I have a tiny Rosary," he said, "which fits snugly in my hand and it is my greatest help mid the hustle and bustle of the business world. Every morning on my way to the office or to court I say my Beads and among the thousands that brush elbows with me not one knows that I am talking to the Mother of God."

The words of this man certainly show us that success in life is not entirely resting on our own shoulders. If Marshal Foch, while holding in his hand the destiny of nations, whose every plan might mean the doom or deliverance of myriads of men, could find time to slip away to say a Rosary, certainly no business man of today can claim exemption from this holy practice. Life is a sham if our wallets are bulging with bills and our hearts void of virtue. How much we owe to our earthly mother! How much more to our heavenly mother.—Exchange.

Are These Catholics?

In our charity we must excuse certain criminals for declaring themselves "Catholics," because possibly their forebears professed this noble religion and they are unfamiliar with any other.

Such injury to Catholicism, however, is not limited to the criminal class. Recently I was delayed in a business office, and speaking to one of the girls in charge, our conversation was as follows:

"What is your name?"

"Grace Smith."

"English, I suppose?"

"No, Irish."

"Ah, then you are a little Catholic girl?

"Yes. Do you hold that against me?"

"Not exactly. Tell me, do you believe that the Pope cannot make a mistake?"

"Oh, that is all rubbish. I don't believe that, nor do I believe many of the other things the Catholic Church teaches."

"Do you go to church?"

"Sometimes, but not always."

"Did you receive the Sacraments last Easter time?"

"No, I didn't. Say, what is this? Are you a Catholic?"

"Yes, I am; and the next time any one asks you what your religion is, tell them, 'I used to be a Catholic'."

And it is possible that our unfortunate brethren still hold claim to their birthright, though having sold it for a mess of pottage.

To Our Parishioners:

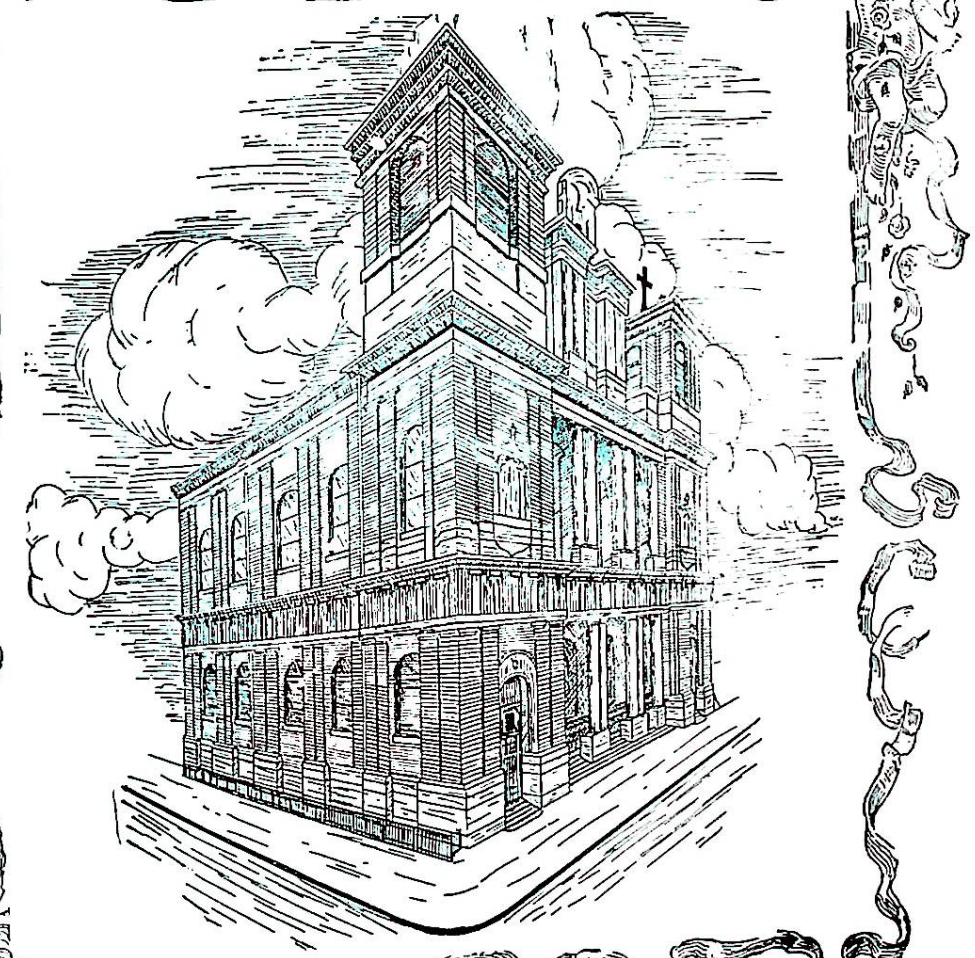

We cannot urge too strongly the necessity of patronizing the advertisers in the Gesu Parish Monthly Calendar, and of returning the same generous support they are giving to us. In other words, buy your goods from the firms that are using our pages to address you, and thus helping us.

These advertisers with us are live, energetic business men, thoroughly responsible, and know what it means to have their names placed prominently before this parish.

When I Am Dead

When I am dead and in life's plans no more shall play a part,
Give me a thought once in a while, some love keep in your heart;
If I have hurt or brought you pain, forgive me please, I pray,
If I have helped to make you sin, ask God to wipe my guilt away;
If I have brought you happiness, or changed your tears to smiles,
If I have helped to bear your cross, my life was then worth while;
If others fled when trouble came, and still you found me there,
When I have crossed beyond Life's Gate, please say for me a prayer;

We live our lives so hurriedly, we fail in busy hours
To see the thorns in others' lives that we might change to flowers;
So many hearts in Lonely Land, so many souls oppressed,
So many travellers on Life's Road who long for peace and rest;
If I have failed you when you longed to have a friend stand by,
If I have caused your faith in God or fellowmen to die;
Forgive the past, and for these things deep sorrow know I bear,
And when my soul is called by God, please say for me a prayer;

If I have scandalized in life, or shattered faith you knew,
Or caused ideals to which you held to seem unreal, untrue;
If I have hurt, through gossip's tongue, the name which you held high,
Or caused just one to trust you less, or faith in you to die;
Will you forgive, and when I pass into the Great Unknown,
Ask God to grant His Pardon and receive me as His Own;
When I am dead, please let your love reach out and find me there,
And let me know you think of me and for me say a prayer.

WILLIAM F. SHERIDAN.

Gesu Parish and Neighborhood Improvement Association

Due to the reopening of the classes of St. Joseph's School for Social Sciences, the Association has changed its regular meeting night from Wednesday to Thursday evening. The first meeting on Thursday will be held on October 21, and until further notice meetings will be held every other Thursday.

The work of the Association embraces many details of improvement, which it is our earnest desire that our parishioners recognize and understand. The first and foremost aim, when the organization started, was to prevent further deterioration in property values and to rehabilitate this section, which has had such a glorious past as a centre of home-life, education, hospitalization, and—most important of all—religion.

The flight of time marks many changes; some for the better, and some for the worse; and this section, like all others, has seen many such changes. One thing, however, remains unchanged. Staunch and sturdy—our beloved GESU is still the centre of religious activity unequalled elsewhere. Untiring are the Fathers in their efforts to promote religious zeal; unlimited are the means which they offer for the finest educational opportunities to all; and in spite of distance and inclement weather it is inspiring to see the hundreds who flock to the various parish buildings for the many activities which they embrace.

How unfortunate, therefore, that so many of our parish HOMES have been vacated and left to the ravages of destruction; in many cases to become a total loss to former owners, uncomfortable quarters to present occupants, or even in many cases objects of unsightly appearance and dangerous to the public.

The sight of so many unoccupied or poorly kept properties naturally affects the value of all properties in the vicinity. When property values drop, the natural reaction of those who own such properties is to "sell and get what we can." Thus the trend downward begins and like a stone rolling downhill once started it needs no outside force but proceeds on its own force. How different would the aspect be if—instead of those owners saying—"Let's sell and get what we can" they would say: "That property in its delapidated condition impairs the value of my property. I will see what I can do to influence the owner to improve its appearance." That is the attitude of the members of the Association. Instead of yielding to the impulse to sell for whatever they can get—which is always a small percentage of the property value—they have used the weight of UNITED OPINION and CO-OPERATION to persuade owners—particularly ABSENTEE OWNERS to realize the false reasoning of the "get what you can" attitude and persuade them that the attractions of this section still prevail—the sole objection is the false devaluation of property. AND—through education and realization of the AIMS AND PURPOSES OF THE ASSOCIATION to preserve this as a NEIGHBORHOOD OF HOMES—numerous owners have been induced to lend their seal of approval and their co-operation to the movement.

Thus, in our effort to improve the general standing of the condition in the NEIGHBORHOOD, many other complaints have been brought to our attention all of which have been given over to the proper authorities and today our ASSOCIATION is assured of active co-operation by the various branches of CITY AUTHORITY. The Bureau of Traffic Engineering has heeded our demands for improved traffic regulation—the P. R. T. and the Philadelphia Electric Company have co-operated with us to eliminate causes of complaint brought to their attention by us—the City has torn down several unsightly and dangerous buildings when these conditions have been proved a detriment to the preservation of health and property value.

The need for the work we are doing is recognized throughout the city. Various other associations are desirous of following our lead, many have signified their intention of co-operating with us. All are aware that IN UNITY THERE IS STRENGTH—therefore, we URGE HOMEOWNERS AND PROPERTY OWNERS in this vicinity and elsewhere to lend their shoulders to the wheel and assist in the work which is being carried on.

When a representative of the Association approaches YOU, as will be the case in the near future, DISCUSS YOUR PARTICULAR PROBLEM with him or her; or BETTER STILL, bring YOUR PROBLEM to the meeting and present it there. Experience teaches—and in this, as in all other ventures—experience has taught us many angles which were unknown a year ago. Your difficulty may seem to be one which cannot be overcome—but don't decide that until YOU HAVE TRIED TO OVERCOME IT! We are here to HELP YOU—we ask you to co-operate and HELP US.

Attend the meetings and learn of the work which is being accomplished. Most sections have maintained their standards during the past year. We hope to improve the standards during the coming year. WE SOLICIT YOUR AID three ways—by PRAYER FOR OUR SUCCESS—BY ACTIVE CO-OPERATION—BY FINANCIAL SUPPORT OF $1.00 per year. It is a small investment which will pay rich dividends.

The Scourge of War

With wounds unhealed, and scars so deep they reach the very soul,
With broken hearts and shattered homes, all paid as war's grim toll;
With bodies torn and mangled limbs, and eyes with vision fled,
And reasons gone and memories blank and hearts with hope now dead;
With poverty and hunger's pang, and unemployment's cross,
The world sunk in depression deep and each one bearing loss;
With mute reminders everywhere of grief the whole world bore,
There comes the ghastly rumblings of the dreaded spectre—WAR—
War which of men makes human beasts, and opens hell's gates wide,
To bring destruction, death and crime to souls for whom Christ died;

It takes the flower of our youth, the pride of heart and home,
And sends them forth to bleed and die on battlefields alone;
It tears the hearts of Mothers, Dads; of wives and children dear,
It breaks up homes and crushes souls, and to all eyes brings tears;
Men learn from it all things debased, to ravage, plunder, kill;
To gloat on human misery while hate their hearts doth fill;
What must the Good God think of all as He looks from above,
And sees His Children hate and kill, whom He didst wish should love;
Have men gone mad? The world still lies prostrated from war's curse,
The heart of all humanity has wounds which still are nursed;

What does it gain? They little think, these lords who bring us war,
To further selfishness and greed or square some old time score,
Of millions now and yet to come who pay its tragic cost,
With broken hearts and shattered homes and lives of loved ones lost;
When time has run, when Nations spend their wealth, their countless dead,
They meet and talk of ending war, they compromise instead;
Ah! yes, they settle then their scores as men of reason might,
When war has scourged the hearts of men and bled the nations white;
Before the flame shall burst again, and guns and cannons roar,
Give heed to cries from heroes dead: "For God's sake, Men, end war!"

Feasts of the Month

THE FEAST OF ALL SAINTS—NOVEMBER 1

Worship of the Saints is not now what it used to be in the days of old. There was a time in the history of our Church when every calling, from the humblest to the proudest, had its own patron saint, its ideal, its champion, its intercessor with God. The ploughman never went abroad to follow his horses without a mental picture of some servant of God, who compassed holiness in the same lowly occupation. The soldier never rode down to the fight unattended by an angel-guardian of courage in the person of some mail-clad knight, who raised warfare to heights it would otherwise never know by investing it with the halo of sanctity The boy on his way to school had a model heroic enough to tax his highest ambitions. The young girl growing towards womanhood learned almost instinctively the inward worth and outward beauty of modesty and prayerfulness from sisters, whose tender graces lit the desolate pages of forward history, when Christianity was struggling into the sunshine. Fathers and mothers kept ever before their eyes the glowing example of canonized parents, and praiseworthy emulation operated as a healthy incentive to lift up the whole family. Lawyers, doctors, officials; cardinals, bishops, priests; carpenters, blacksmiths, tailors; merchants, clerks, mechanics; all had their patron saints, and frequent thought of them necessarily exercised a wide influence for good in every individual calling. Labor lost half of its drudgery, the cares of office proved no heavy burden, poverty was honorable in these surroundings, and God's comforting presence in the garb of virtue made itself felt in every nook and corner of everyday life. Today saint lore is forgotten lore, and we are heavy losers. Much of the old-time poetry is gone out of life; and a morbid discontent, a restless activity are poisoning and blighting earnest hearts that in another environment would bloom and blossom as the rose. Suicide is one of civilization's ugliest growths. Content is its supremest antidote, and when familiarity with the lives of the saints flourished, content with one's lot in life was the only logical and possible attitude. Men had yet to learn that any given sum of evils weighs in the balance against opportunity to reach heaven; that escape from pain is desirable, even if an eternal hell be the only avenue open; and Almighty God. self-murderer violates no sacred rights vested in society and Almighty God. Organized devotion to God and the saints is a power for good, too much neglected by men of modern times. Hero worship is native to the human heart. It is an instrument for good, when God is mixed up with it as in olden times. It is no insult to human nature, it is no denial of man's equality with man, when saints are its object; because God usurps a large share of the emotion, and apotheosis robs the homage of all suspicion of creature worship. We are less men than our ancestors. They rallied together under the standard of a martyr, a confessor, a virgin. They kept a patron's feast with music and song and prayer. But all the while God had a part in the proceedings. The rugged soldier of Diocletian's legions, who threw down his belt rather than burn incense before the fallen gods of the empire, was honored by our fathers in the faith; not altogether because of his high attribute of courage, but because that courage was displayed in the cause of God, because God poured into his limbs the strength of purpose needed to laugh at death and torments. The tender maiden of thirteen, who said her heart nay and flouted baser instincts, was held by them worthy of immortal memory not altogether because of her immaculate whiteness, not altogether because of modesty's inherent loveliness; but because her triumph was God's triumph, because the omnipotence of God's grace made a delicate and fond girl superior to human affection and the cruelty of disappointed passion. The monk of the Thebard, who escaped the embraces of fame and society, and honorable luxury, to bury himself in solitude and fatten his spirit at the expense of his body, was deemed by our ancestors a fit subject for praise, not because they were a race of unfeeling stoics, with disordered tastes; but because this brother consecrated himself to the service of a common Father, and lit the way to

ALL SOULS' DAY—NOVEMBER 2

Purgatory is a middle place of suffering, where the souls of the saved are detained a while on account of their sins, and common sense as well as faith demands the existence of such a place. The word itself means a place of cleansing, and at once suggests the scriptural saying, "Nothing defiled can enter heaven" Wis 7, 25; Ps. 14, 2. The soul knows only one kind of defilement or stain, and that is sin. Sin is any offense against God, and it admits of degrees. Some sins are grievous offenses against God, crimes of great magnitude, deeds of revolting wickedness, like wilful murder, atheism, contempt of God, huge thefts, public scandal, open contumacy, denial of the known truth, perseverance in heresy against one's better knowledge. These sins we call mortal, because they not only defile or stain the soul, they kill it, they reduce it in the eyes of God to the low level of a corpse, fit only to be buried forever in hell. Other sins are lighter offenses against God, like small lies, a hasty remark, a hurried word of unkindness, the theft of a penny or a dime, distractions at prayer, lateness at Mass. These lesser sins we call venial, or easy of pardon, because they stain or defile the soul without killing it, the blemish they impress on the soul is easily washed clean, and the wrath they stir in God's mind is readily appeased. And in this whole matter we are taking only a common-sense view of God. We are ascribing to God conduct we ascribe to reasonable men, and saving His sense of justice and fair play from shame. Reasonable men make a difference between offenses done them and God would be less wise, less just, less fair than reasonable men if He visited all sins, mortal and venial alike, with the same degree of punishment.

Death finds every man a friend or an enemy to God. Every soul at its departure from this life finds itself in one of these three conditions. It is either in a state of grace and wholly free from all guilt of sin and from all temporal punishment due to past transgressions; or it is in a state of mortal sin, stripped of all inclination and all ability to love God; or in a state of grace, but not quite free from venial sin or from the temporal

SAINTS OF THE SOCIETY OF JESUS—NOVEMBER 6

The feast of ALL the SAINTS of the Society of Jesus will be celebrated this year November the 6th.

The saints who are especially honored on November 6 are Ignatius Loyola, Francis Xavier, Francis Borgia, Francis Jerome, John Francis Regis, Aloysius Gonzaga, Stanislaus Kostka, John Berchmans, Peter Claver, Alphonsus Rodriguez, Peter Canisius, Robert Bellarmin, Paul, John and James, Japanese Martyrs, John Brebeuf, Isaac Jogues and Companions, North American Martyrs.

These saints shed lustre on every grade of the Society, priest, scholastic and lay-brother. They were from different countries, from Spain, Italy, France, Portugal, Germany, Poland, Japan; and each in his sphere and in his holiness and characteristics distiguishing him from the others.

On the commemoration of all the deceased Jesuits we ought to be mindful of all the Jesuits who have labored here in our midst and elsewhere and offer up a loving tribute of prayer, Communion or Mass that their rewards may be eternal with God.

A special Plenary Indulgence may be gained on this day. All of the faithful who fulfill the usual conditions may gain this Plenary Indulgence by a visit to a Jesuit Church. The usual conditions are, of course, the reception of the Sacraments of Penance and the Holy Eucharist.

SAINT STANISLAUS—NOVEMBER 13

St. Stanislaus, whose feast the Church keeps this month, was a Jesuit saint, only eighteen years old when he died. His tender age makes him the patron of youth, and boys and girls ought to feel encouraged by the example of his holy life to do their utmost to please God. The present period of your young lives is a season of grace, a time when you can gather strength to meet and overcome the difficulties that will later on surely cross your paths. If now, when the practice of virtue is easy, you fail to equip yourselves with good habits; if now you fall into sin as readily as your elders, you will find yourselves, when a few years older, to weak to fight temptation and sin; you will find yourselves, where so many Catholic men and women find themselves, after a childhood of crime, nearly outside of the Church, on the very edge of hell. You cannot, while young, afford to let slip any opportunity to practice virtue. Every single effort you now make in this direction will be afterwards abundantly rewarded with assistance from heaven. You must store your little minds with principles of action, with motives of conduct, that will never abandon you when old, that will keep you forever in the straight and narrow path. You must fill your little hearts with a love for God and His Blessed Mother that no love of later years will be quite able to shake from your bosoms. And the way to accomplish this blessed purpose is to think frequently of how St. Stanislaus behaved himself, of how he thought, of where he put his affections.

It is told of him that he often repeated, when alone with himself, these touching and truthful words: "I was not born to enjoy the things I see and touch; I was born to enjoy after death the good things of heaven, things that are now hidden from my eyes and beyond the reach of my hands." A very worthy sentiment, my children; a thought that, if always acted upon, could make us saints. We have not here a lasting city; but look for another. You may find it hard to believe the statement, you may think the statement exceeding strange; but ask them that ought to know, and they will tell you that nothing on earth can satisfy the heart. Money cannot do it. Pleasure cannot do it. Learning cannot do it. Ask them that know, and they will tell you that the men and women who spend their evenings at the theatre, where music, and song, and voice, and gesture conspire to rest their weary minds. at the swellest receptions in our large cities, where beauty, and wine, and company beguile the tedious hours of the night, and pleasantly lead in the dull gray mists of morning, and they will tell you that these men and women are far less happy than the good old woman who trudges to early Mass, works hard all day, and falls asleep at night with her beads in her hands. And why? Because theatre-goers and society people forget that truth, which nestled so close to the heart of St. Stanislaus. They forget that we are born for joys far different from the joys this earth affords. They forget that our hearts are too large to be filled by anything but God. They expect to derive complete and full satisfaction from present pleasures, and they fool themselves. They expect to arise in the morning happy and content; and they arise, instead, with a heavy head and a heart torn by a multitude of longings. Of course, God meant boys and girls to enjoy themselves a little; yea, much. He meant them to take part in sports and pastimes, common to this gayest season of their lives. Recreation is not a faulty employment. The body needs it, the soul needs it; and it would be wrong to deny the body and soul their needs. But God wants you to play without letting sin into the game. He wants you to take recreation in such a way that you would not be ashamed to have Him watching you. He wants you above all ever and always to keep your two eyes on the heaven for which He made you, and on that other world towards which young and old are slowly but surely marching.

Obedience was another virtue much cherished by St. Stanislaus, and obedience is the royal road to heaven for the young. Boys and girls can follow no safer path than the path marked out for them by parents and teachers. Your father, your mother, your teacher are the best friends you have. They are too fond of you to command anything liable to hurt your best interests. They are too old and too experienced to make a mistake, when putting you on your guard against danger. Keep close to their directions, do their bidding, and you will save yourselves a world of trouble in the years to come. I know men, and I know women, who every morning weep. because they once stayed longer on the street at night than a father or mother told them to stay. I know men, and I know women, who every morning curse the hour when they first said "I won't" to a father or mother, who tearfully remember as the cause of all their sorrow and all their woe an act of disobedience at school. And I know that there are souls in hell today, who would not be there, had their owners, when boys and girls, listened to the advice of a father, a mother, a teacher.

St. Stanislaus, from the very moment when he first began to think, chose the Blessed Virgin Mary for his Mother. He delighted in calling her by that sweetest of names, and he never in all his life did a single thing to grieve the Blessed Virgin's heart. Imitate him! Recollect that Jesus Christ when dying on Calvary left her to you and to me for Mother. Never, as long as you live, be guilty of a thought, a word, or an action, that would bring the blush of shame to her cheek. She weeps when her sons and her daughters commit grievous sins. Dry her tears by being good children. The number of sinners is large enough. There are enough, and more than enough, men, women and children today adding to her sorrow by repeated and horrible crimes. Be not of the number. Make it possible for her to look down every day of the year on this parish of boys and girls without a tear in her eye, without a single pang in her heart.

ST. JOHN BERCHMANS—NOVEMBER 26
THE SAINT OF THE COMMONPLACE

We are living in an age of so-called progress; an age of science and invention; an age that concerns itself with things that are purely of here and now. Judging by the standards of this age, a man is successful only insofar as he has amassed a great fortune or achieved great renown. He is considered to have attained the highest pinnacle of fame when he can wear upon his brow the laurel wreath of fortune and of social prestige. These are the men the world gives us as ideals, after whom we are to shape our destinies. This age has no time for the commonplace, no sympathy with the man who leads a humdrum existence. In the eyes of the world, such men are dismal failures, outcasts of a cultured and intellectual age. He who will be crowned with worldly success must be up and doing, ever seeking, ever toiling, ever progressing toward the coveted goal of fame and prosperity.

But is this true progress? Is this the final end of man, this mad quest of fame and fortune? Alas, we live our lives in vain, if such be our aspirations. We know the final end of men is God, and God can be found at the end of the highway of every man's earthly journey, whether he be poet or peasant, prince or pauper, provided only this highway leads upward along the thorny path to the rugged peaks of Christian perfection. Hence it is that the commonplace and the hidden life play a great part in the drama of our existence. Most of us play our part behind stage and not before a crowded audience. As a manifestation of God's love for the commonplace life, He has frequently raised to sainthood those who found their sanctity in such a state. St. John Berchmans, the humble Jesuit scholastic, whose feast we celebrate on the 26th of November, is a prototype of the hidden life.

John Berchmans, born at the beginning of the seventeenth century, lived like ourselves in an eventful era. Men like Henry VIII, Bacon, Spenser and Shakespeare had sought and found success in war, in literature, in science, and in politics. But none of these was to be the path which Berchmans chose. Not for him the glory of the court, the martial air of soldiers, the reputation of the statesman, nor the renown of the literateur. His was a path of sanctity strewn with the little details of common life, the life of a simple Jesuit scholastic. His field of activity never reached beyond the limit of his immediate associates; yet he found in the daily routine sufficient opportunities for his personal sanctification. His motto was: "It is not what I do, but how well I can do it." His frequent saying was: "My greatest mortification is in the common life."

Devotion to an ideal, for him the ideal of the commonplace, has placed St. John Berchmans on the pinnacle of sanctity from which today he preaches to the world by the eloquence of his example. In this youthful hero, we have a model, not only for those who find their lives running in channels parallel to his, or whose ideals are coincident with his own, but for all whose lives are an unending sequence of noble aims and standards. Berchmans became a saint by sanctifying the common life; so can we.—John J. Divine.

How to Help the Holy Souls

The Church teaches that we can help the souls in purgatory by the Sacrifice of the Mass, by indulgences, by prayer and almsgiving, and by other exercises of piety. Therefore—

1. If possible, have the Holy Sacrifice offered for your dead. Hear Mass devoutly every day with the intention of aiding them.

2. Fix upon some definite prayers to be said for the Holy Souls, e. g., the Beads, the En ego after Holy Communion, the Way of the Cross at least occasionally.

3. Try to gain some of the indulgences offered so freely by the Church. The indulgences attached to the Beads and the Way of the Cross are almost incalculable. Many short prayers carry rich indulgences.

4. Give alms to some needy persons, to some deserving charity. Give generous support to your pastor and to the Parochial School.

5. Receive Holy Communion frequently; if possible, every day. Daily Communion may be counted (next to the Holy Sacrifice) as the best means at our disposal to aid the suffering Holy Souls.

Plenary Indulgences for November

An indulgence—a plenary one—may be gained by all who, having confessed and received Holy Communion, visit any church and there offer prayer, according to the intentions of the Sovereign Pontiff, for the suffering souls in purgatory. This indulgence may be gained as often during the day, as distinct visits are made. It is applicable only to the souls in purgatory. A person may begin on November 1st, 12 o'clock noon, and continue till 12 o'clock midnight of November 2nd. These visits may be made before or after the fulfilling of the other conditions. No special prayers are prescribed. The person must pray for the intentions of the Pope, and it is generally said that five "Our Fathers" and "Hail Marys" suffice.

Another indulgence which we can use to good purposes during November was granted by Pope Pius X on July 11, 1914. If we say the ejaculatory prayer, "Praised be the Most Sacred Heart of Jesus in the Most Holy Sacrament," we gain 100 days indulgence every time and can apply it to the Holy Souls.

A Thought for November

Picture the poor souls, of friends or relatives very dear to us, watching eagerly as the angel of relief enters that prison house of purification. Who is to be the lucky soul? To which of the eager sufferers will the angel go and with beckoning hand speak the welcome words of release? How wistfully your dear one is watching, even after the angel has passed by, for she counts on you and feels sure that the angel must soon bring the freedom hastened by your prayers.

What wonder if the sufferer is puzzled a little! She cannot understand your silence. She cannot imagine how her dear ones on earth, for whom she gladly sacrificed everything, can be so indifferent to her present distress, especially as aid can be so quickly, so easily, so effectively rendered.

Meanwhile, what have you been doing? What are you doing? What are you going to do? Indulgence prayers suggest a practical answer.

What We Ought to Know of Purgatory

Catholics believe, in accordance with a decree of the Council of Trent, that "there is a purgatory, and that souls there detained are assisted by the suffrages of the faithful, but especially by the most acceptable Sacrifice of the Altar." It is a matter of faith, therefore, that (1) there is a purgatory, (2) that souls suffer there after death for their sins, (3) that we can help to relieve them. In addition to these points to be held under pain of heresy, Catholics believe (1) that the Holy Souls are saved, also in a state of grace and friendship with God; (2) that they are confirmed in grace and cannot ever lose it; (3) that the one certain punishment they suffer is the pain of loss—the keenest of all suffering, as described by Newman in his "Dream of Gerontius"; (4) that, as St. Thomas teaches, the pain of purgatory is greater than the greatest pain in this life; (5) that the punishment of purgatory will be proportionate to the measure of sin or the punishment due; (6) that only those souls go to purgatory who have not fully paid the debt of temporal punishment due to sins of which the guilt has been forgiven.

Implicit belief in a doctrine which is explicitly denounced by the churches to which they belong is manifested by many non-Catholics, who satisfy an instinctive craving of their hearts by praying for their departed loved ones; and believing that such praying will aid them.

A Stern Fact

"I can't agree with confession," someone wrote to the editor of "Stella Maris," and received the following answer: "You have not grasped the question. It isn't for you to agree with anything. If you go to a doctor, and he tells you you must have an operation for appendicitis, would you say you didn't agree? It's a question of forgiveness of your sins on God's condition. If you don't accept the conditions, you must face the consequences. Nobody likes confession. It is laid down by our Lord that you have to go to confession if you sin mortally, and so there's the end of it. A convert, before being received into the Church, has to be convinced that the Church is God's infallible teacher and that the teaching of the Church is God's truth. You can't be a Catholic if you don't believe that. Protestantism, like every heresy, just picks out what it likes and rejects what it dislikes. It isn't a question of opinion, but of fact. The sinner, if he has the opportunity, must go to confession or he will go elsewhere."

Remember the Holy Souls

During November, the month of the Holy Souls, it might be good for us all to ponder on the words the Church uses in the Preface of the Mass for the Dead.

PREFACE

It is truly becoming and just, fair and helpful that unto Thee, Holy Lord, the Father Almighty, Eternal God, we should keep rendering thanks ever and everywhere, through Christ, our Lord. In Him the hope for us of a blessed resurrection has shone forth, such, indeed, that the promise of a future immortality brings good cheer to those very ones whom the unfailing condition of death doth make sad. For, O Lord, the life of your faithful ones is not destroyed; it is only changed; and when the home of their earthly dwelling is broken up, a home in heaven is gained. And so with angels and archangels, with thrones and dominations and with the whole host of the heavenly army, we chant a hymn to Thy glory, saying without ceasing, Holy, Holy, Holy.

Lord God of Hosts, the heavens and the earth are full of Thy glory. Hosanna in the highest. Blessed is He who comes in the name of the Lord Hosanna in the highest.

Thanksgiving Day

Frequently throughout the day, in her official prayers, the Church returns thanks to Almighty God for His loving kindness. Particularly in the majestic Preface of the Mass does she call upon all her children to acknowledge the infinite goodness of God to all His creatures, and to praise, bless and thank Him. In the Church every day is Thanksgiving Day.

The admirable custom of setting aside by Presidential Proclamation one day of the year as a national Thanksgiving Day has now taken deep root among our people. We have received so many favors as a nation that, in the words of the Address at Gettysburg, "it is altogether fitting and proper that we should do this." The President, as chief executive of the Nation, and the Governors of the respective States, acting in their official capacity, have invited us to return thanks to Almighty God on Thanksgiving Day, either in our homes or in our churches. May we not take this occasion to search our consciences and ask whether we are doing our part to make our country in some degree worthy of the benefits which have been conferred upon her?

Patriotism is not a duty that can be performed by flag-waving. He is a true lover of his country who aids to the extent of his ability whatever is calculated to promote the common welfare. The man who is a good father and husband, whose first and dearest human interest is his home and family; who is sober, kindly, industrious; who is faithful to every duty of the state of life in which God has placed him, is the good citizen by whose life the welfare of the country is made secure. Only a few can promote the general good in public office. But every man can and should promote it by the example of an upright life. The worth of such a contribution to the common welfare cannot be overestimated.

For Catholics, the proper observance of Thanksgiving Day is assistance at the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass and the reception of Holy Communion. There is not one of us to whom God has not shown in the year that is drawing to a close unnumbered mercies and blessings beyond count. It is meet and proper that we should thank Him for what He has done for us and for our beloved country, and beg Him that in future we may be found in some degree less unworthy of His goodness.

The Manly Type of Catholic

A story may impress our readers as it has impressed the writer of these reflections.

"Father," said a convert, "do you know that I and my family are Catholic because once I met a manly Catholic? I was going to one of our medical conventions. My companion was a young Catholic doctor. There was a banquet on Saturday night and we had planned to take the 8 o'clock train on Sunday morning. It was midnight when we reached the hotel, and I was requesting the clerks to have us called at 7 o'clock, when my Catholic friend quietly instructed the clerk to call him at five-thirty, so that he could hear Mass at 6 and be back in time to meet me. I protested that it was nearly 1 o'clock and that he needed sleep.

He smiled at me good-naturedly, and that was all. I heard him slip quietly off to Mass, and instead of enjoying an hour and a half of extra sleep, I lay there thinking that the man's religion must mean something to him. That started me in my study of the Catholic religion.

Father, had that man been a moral coward and stayed in bed, my family and I should not now be in the one true Church of Christ. That man brought me to the Church, and I hope to imitate him. That is why I condemn the apologetic type of Catholic."

To Our Parishioners:

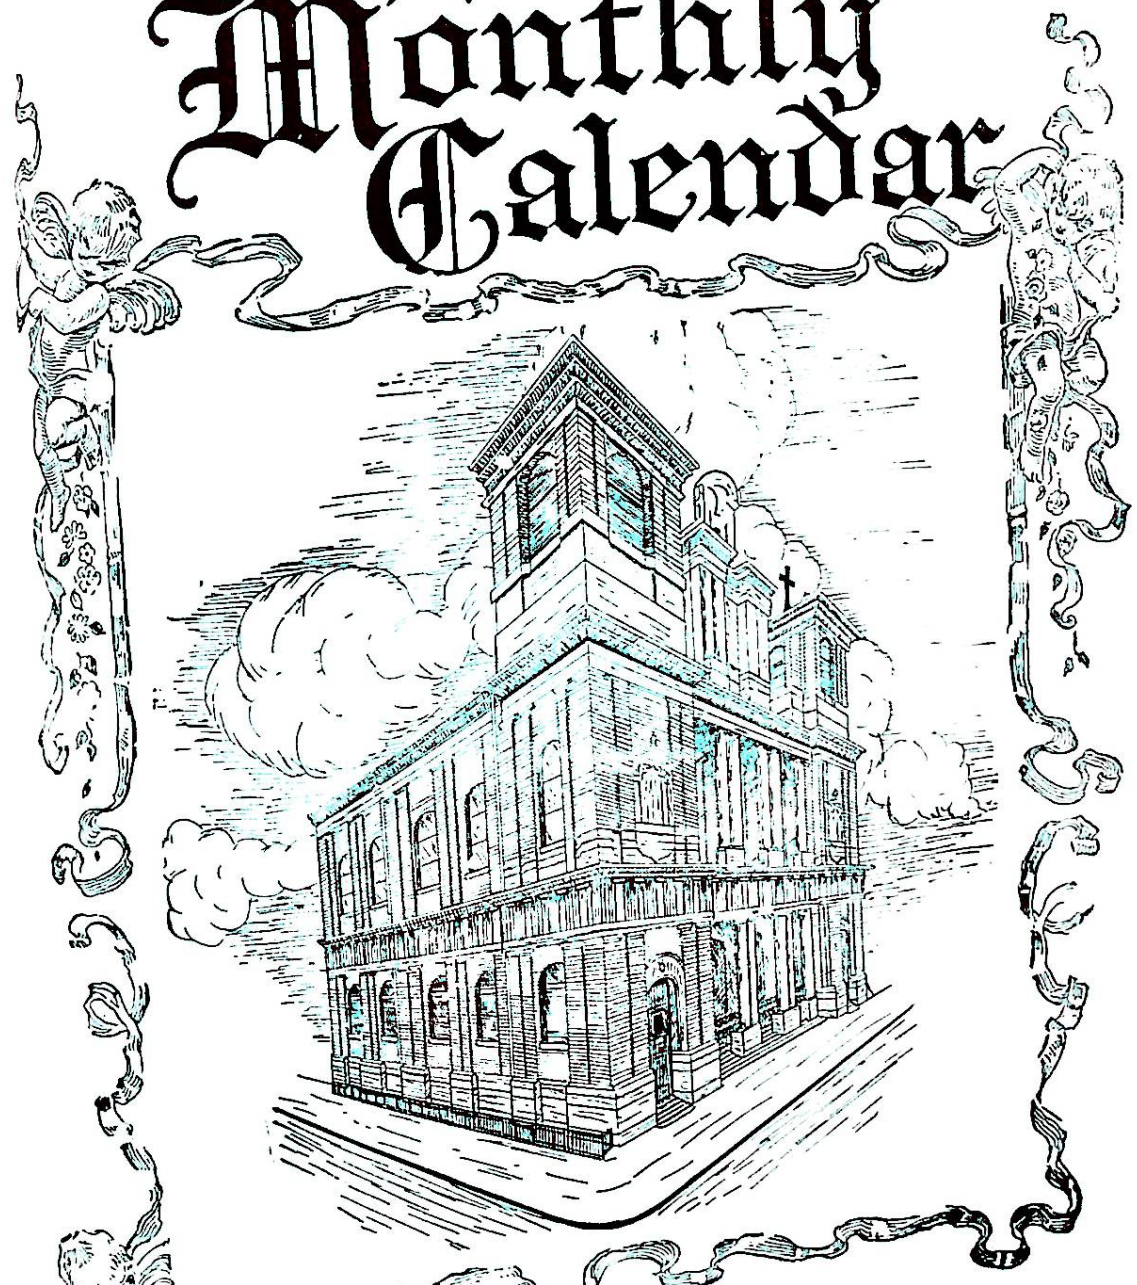

We cannot urge too strongly the necessity of patronizing the advertisers in the Gesu Parish Monthly Calendar, and of returning the same generous support they are giving to us. In other words, buy your goods from the firms that are using our pages to address you, and thus helping us.

These advertisers with us are live, energetic business men, thoroughly responsible, and know what it means to have their names placed prominently before this parish.

Peace on Earth to Men

"Glory to God in the Highest, and Peace to Men on Earth,"
Were tidings glad the Angels brought the Night of Jesus' birth;
He came to save the world from sin, He came to bring men peace,
And hatred drive from human hearts and have His love increase;
He found no place that night to rest, no shelter would they give,
He comes again this Christmas Morn and begs with us to live;
But, as of old, there is no room for Him in hearts of men,
The piercing cold of Bethlehem He suffers once again;

He finds the world He made for love, now ruled by hatreds deep,
And men He hoped would brothers be, in others' blood now steeped;
Instead of Peace, He sees grim wars, with all their ghastly toll,
His Heart is grieved to see men's souls miss their eternal goal;
The Nations that once kept the faith—His Gift of Gifts to men—
He sees now spurn Him and deny and crucify again;
His Cross, the Symbol of His Love, of Hope, of Sacrifice—
He sees reviled, dethroned and cursed; men mock the dying Christ.

He see His churches stripped and burned, His Priests and Sisters dead,
Some crucified, as He was too, for God their blood is shed;
His Ten Commandments—what of them?—crushed by unholy hands,
Whose lust for sin, for blood, for crime, laughs back at God's Commands;
He finds not Peace which Angels brought the night that He was born,
But sees the world with red and hate of Communism torn;
O, Infant Jesus, once again a sinful world now save,
Bring sinners to Thy Crib to find the Peace men's hearts now crave.

The Girl Scout Troops of the Gesu

The Gesu Girl Scouts Have Resumed Their Weekly Meetings

Our friends will be glad to know that Mary Connolly is the second girl scout who has entered Notre Dame Academy as a student; six girls have entered Hallahan High School, two graduates of which school are in our ranks—Miss Anna Faith and Miss Harriet Mangan.

The annual cookie week was conducted the first week in November. Our girls expressed an excellent scout spirit in this week. One of our girls, Kathleen Walsh, brought a small express wagon to distribute cookies to her friends. In going through the neighborhood, a small boy noticed that Kathleen was having difficulty with her express wagon loaded with cookies and offered his assistance. As a reward, she presented him with a box of cookies which he promptly shared with some little friends of his. Just then the Inquirer reporter appeared on the scene, took the name of the polite little boy and the next day, his name appeared in the Good Deed Column of the Philadelphia Inquirer and the little boy was awarded $10.00 for his courtesy.

On Friday, October 29, the Scouts held their annual Hallowe'en Party. The scout room was decorated with orange and black paper. Father Duross, Brother Stengel and a number of guests were present.

The Girl Scout Banquet was held on November 13, at 311 South Juniper Street. Our troop was represented by twelve members. Gloria Petruska, one of our scouts, tap danced and sang "Working our way through College."

The Almanac of the Sacred Heart is on sale in the back of the Church for ten cents per copy. This very useful little book is issued in conjunction with the Messenger of the Sacred Heart and it contains much valuable information.

Every Catholic home should have a subscription to the Messenger of the Sacred Heart. During the Christmas season, it would be well to keep in mind what a very useful gift a subscription to the Messenger of the Sacred Heart would be for your friends. Another thought is to send the Almanac of the Sacred Heart instead of a Christmas card.

Remember the promises made to St. Margaret Mary for the spread of devotion to the Sacred Heart.

OUR CHRISTMAS GREETING

We wish a Happy and a Holy Christmas to all our people and beg of Almighty God the most abundant blessings for every family and individual of our congregation. May you carry home with you on Christmas Day the peace promised to men of good-will, and may the loving heart of our Infant Saviour so fill your soul with that peace that it may abide with you throughout all the days and hours of the coming year.

COVENANTS—WHAT ARE THEY?

The Standard Dictionary states they are "written agreements between parties—under seal." The qualification "under seal" is important to us if we are to understand fully the purpose of the Covenants which we, as property owners are asked to sign as a means of preventing further property devaluation in our NEIGHBORHOOD.

The work of completing the Covenants is hampered in many instances by the fact that one or two owners on a block refuse to sign a Covenant because of the fact they do not wish to bind themselves or, more often, because they do not wish to bind their heirs in the disposal of their property.

The fact we wish to emphasize is this: Signing the Covenant when it is presented to you is merely signifying YOUR WILLINGNESS to co-operate with your NEIGHBORS to preserve the standing of YOUR NEIGHBORHOOD. We find many owners who express their willingness to sign provided some certain other neighbors will do so. And that certain neighbor withholds his signature until the others have signed. The result is neither signs the Covenant and the work of the committee and the Association is at a standstill until they can persuade one or the other to be the first signer.

If the signers of the Declaration of Independence had withheld their signatures, each waiting for someone else to take the first step, where would we be today? Still under the yoke of a foreign power instead of being the youngest and the greatest country in the world.

The question which confronts us today is a question of Independence! Are we going to stand by helpless and see the investment of our life savings go to naught? Are we going to permit undesirable conditions to create in we going to sign our Declaration of Independence in the form of a Covenant and assert our RIGHTS to preserve our HOMES AND OUR NEIGHBORHOOD from deterioration?

What are the forces of deterioration? They are any person, place or thing which creates an atmosphere undesirable to GOOD NEIGHBORS. Business places which are noisy and permit all kinds of disturbances through the day or night—PROPERTIES which have been neglected by their owners and permitted to present an unsightly appearance which detracts from the appearance of surrounding properties—PERSONS, whether owners or tenants, who by their living conditions are DETRIMENTAL to the peace of the NEIGHBORHOOD—THINGS which cause a state of unhealthy and unsanitary condition detrimental to the health and well-being of the immediate NEIGHBORHOOD.

These are the FORCES which we are fighting and against which we sign our Declaration of Independence. And we want to bring home the fact that your signature will not bind yourself or your heirs unless and until all your NEIGHBORS have signed and your agreement has been placed "under seal." Therefore, we urge you do not hamper the work of the Association by withholding YOUR SIGNATURE. UNITED ACTION cannot fail to accomplish our purpose. But until we are UNITED we can do nothing. And until your NEIGHBORS have joined with you in signing, YOUR SIGNATURE will not be binding on your heirs or yourself. When your NEIGHBORS do join you in signing—the VALUE OF YOUR PROPERTY TO YOURSELF AND YOUR HEIRS IS PROTECTED.

What has the ASSOCIATION accomplished so far? It has instilled courage into owners to remain in the NEIGHBORHOOD—it has renewed the spirit of preservation of property evidenced by the amount of work being done on properties in the NEIGHBORHOOD—it has persuaded agents to be selective in their choice of tenants for vacant properties—it has obtained the co-operation of the Bureau of Traffic to install many additional aids to the safety of our NEIGHBORHOOD—it has been instrumental in persuading agents and owners to make necessary property repairs to insure the comfort of tenants and it has become an influence and an inspiration in the city to OTHERS to undertake similar activities in their own NEIGHBORHOODS.

It remains only to COMPLETE THE SIGNING AND SEALING OF COVENANTS to make our NEIGHBORHOOD once more the choice neighborhood of the City, surrounded by convenient traffic facilities, protected by available hospital service, rich in educational and recreational sources and outstanding in the opportunities for spiritual development offered by our beloved Gesu.

Support the Association by your Prayers, your membership and your co-operation.

A Thought for Christmas

Before the end of this month we shall again bid welcome to the Infant Lord. We will again listen to the Angels' song of Glory to God in the Highest and Peace on Earth to Men of Good Will." In that song we have the meaning of His coming—the two-fold motive of His every sacrifice. As we see Him on His bed of straw, on Christmas morning, if we ask, why are You suffering the pain of the poor; why do You, the King of Heaven and Earth, the Creator of all things. You who hold in Your Baby Hand the universe itself; why do You undergo the cold, the hunger, the trials of humiliation and poverty, the answer comes back in the harmony that God's angels sang upon the first Christmas morning, God's glory and

A Thought for Christmas

Before the end of this month we shall again bid welcome to the Infant Lord. We will again listen to the Angels' song of Glory to God in the Highest and Peace on Earth to Men of Good Will." In that song we have the meaning of His coming—the two-fold motive of His every sacrifice. As we see Him on His bed of straw, on Christmas morning, if we ask, why are You suffering the pain of the poor; why do You, the King of Heaven and Earth, the Creator of all things. You who hold in Your Baby Hand the universe itself; why do You undergo the cold, the hunger, the trials of humiliation and poverty, the answer comes back in the harmony that God's angels sang upon the first Christmas morning, God's glory and peace for men. It was for this that the Second Person of the Blessed Trinity became man. It was for this that He gave up the joys of Heaven in order that He might undergo all that a world that would reject Him could cause Him to suffer. In other words, it was His thought for others that moved Him to come to a world that would refuse to receive Him. This is the lesson that He would have us learn. First, of course, that our lives might be a glory to God and then that we might buy the peace that He alone can give by our thought of others at this Christmas season.

There are so many of whom we might be mindful this Christmas. Disguise it as they may, times are adverse. The prosperity of which there is so much said is mostly of words. There is much suffering and much poverty about us. As the winter advances, and with it the season's cold, we must expect even greater suffering among the poor. Are there none of these of whom we might take thought? There are two classes from whom the want of cheer at Christmas time takes special toll; these are the lonely old and the helpless young. Of the first, they furnish one of the saddest of sights when Christmas comes with its special joys. To be alone with only the memory of the days that were once bright with the faces of those who were their own, what a background for Christmas Day! Are there none of this class to whom we might bring a word of cheer, to show that they were not forgotten? The child whom circumstances has robbed of a chance to know the joys of Christmas must make an appeal to any man or woman who is worthy of the name. Are there none of this latter class to whom we might bring an hour of joy? Of course, it will mean some sacrifice, some forgetfulness of self. But will it not be the certain fulfilling of the lesson of the Christ Child Himself—sacrifice and the forgetting of self. Will it be worth this sacrifice and the forgetting of self? Surely it will, for it will bring what Christmas means: Glory to God and peace to men—yes! to ourselves.

Feasts of the Month

ADVENT

In Church chronology Advent opens the year. It is a season of prayer and penance meant to commemorate the four thousand years of waiting for the Messiah. Everything in the Advent liturgy points forward to Christmas. To wean our hearts from the short-lived pleasures of sense and sin, to make them ready for the Saviour's coming, the gospel read at Mass on the opening Sunday of Advent reminds us of the world's end, the morning's Epistle exhorts us to shake off the easy ways of slumber and buckle on the habiliments of war. Advent, therefore, is commemorative of the ages of preparation preceding the birth of Christ. And all the prophets, with Isaiah at their head stood midway in the centuries between a promise and its fulfillment. The promise is written at the head of the Book. Its fulfillment had place four thousand years after its first utterance; and these prophets, looking before and behind, saw God in Eden with remorseful Adam and Eve, saw a Babe in the manger and the dawn of a new era, destined to stretch from that first Christmas night to the end of time. All prophecy is based on the words of Genesis, "She shall Crush thy head." Gen, 3:15.

Small need to run through these long and dreary ages of preparation. God's hand is everywhere visible in the miraculous safeguarding of a people, He had mercifully constituted the depositary and guardian of His Message. Noah saved from the deluge; Abraham, from the burning cities of the plain; Isaac, Jacob and Joseph, from their enemies; Moses, from Pharaoh, and the slavery of Egypt; David, Solomon and the other kings from hostile and formidable neighbors. And, when at last Pompey of Imperial Rome subdued God's chosen people to his sway, the whole wide world through contact with their traditions was made aware of a wonder on the eve of accomplishment. Rome, therefore, and with Rome the world was ready to receive the long expected of nations. His palace awaited its august occupant; and men's minds were greedy to welcome Him with loud acclaim, "Lift up your gates, O ye princes, and the King of glory shall enter in." Ps. 23:7. The ages of preparation were accomplished. The serpent's head is under the feet of Mary, to meet his long deferred doom in Mary's Son, Jesus.

In dispositions like these we must enter the sacred season of Advent. We must make our hearts ready. When the Lord Christ comes, let Him find us watching. We must not be of those, who, when He came unto His own, received Him not. We must be wise virgins, with oil in our lamps, and we must prepare betimes. We are the patriarchs and prophets of old, the coming four weeks are the ages of preparation. We must lament our sins. We must, in prayer and meditation, feel all the weight of our bondage, and sigh for the deliverer. Like Daniel, we must be men of desire, and shorten the period of expectancy by the fervor of our longing Our Babe of Bethlehem is a jealous lover, and likes to be missed when absent. The prayer of the humble and contrite is a loud cry in His ears, and He hastens His steps in its direction. He is no proof against conspicuous and childlike fondness. He is a willing captive to the first heart capable of tender emotions. To secure His everlasting favor, is the one good gift able to round out our lives. Christmas knows no richer token. And the treasure lies hid in the field of our activity. We have but to dig and delve, we have but to turn these hearts of ours inside out, and give God's grace a chance to renew them, make them sound and whole in confession, "As many as received Him, He gave them power to be made the sons of God." St. John 1:12.

ST. FRANCIS XAVIER—DECEMBER 3

St. Francis Xavier was very specially dedicated to the missions. His life offers the "high romance" of an apostleship unequalled since the days of St. Paul. His world vision of mission empire had all the daring and intensity of the Latin imagination. He charted out a continent as the field of his enterprise, and his achievements were continental in their immensity.

The saint was born in the castle of Xavier in Navarre, Spain, April 7, 1506, and as his biographer tells us had early surprised his relatives by preferring the pursuit of letters to that of war. There is little documental material of the details of his early life; "but," says Father Coleridge, "we are left to infer his sweetness of disposition, his high and quick wit, his generosity and courage, as a boy or as a youth, from the evidence of these qualities which meet us in after years. In common with most of the world's geniuses he must have been inspired by the example of a tender mother, whom in after years he was to pass by unvisited on his way to the Indies, not only, perhaps, that he might fulfill the injunction of our Lord, 'salute no one on the way,' but also because it might have cost him too much to expose her and himself to the sorrow of a parting interview."

At the age of nineteen the saint enrolled among the students of the University of Paris at the College of St. Barbara. It was while in Paris that the meeting with St. Ignatius, the founder of the Jesuits, took place. Ignatius saw the possibilities of furthering God's glory in the idealism, the intelligence, the spiritual sensitiveness of a character like that of Xavier and finally induced him to become a member of the infant Society of Jesus.

Now began the career that has made the name of Xavier famous even among the saints of God. In 1541 he embarked for India and began the daring pioneering in the limitless Orient that carried the name of Christ to the far island of Ceylon and, as the Bull of canonization states, even to the Philippine Islands. In the new westernized Japan he spent two and a half years, when leaving that vast field in the charge of subordinates, he turned his attention towards China. But his days were numbered. His restless spirit could no longer beat down the protests of an exhausted body, and he died of fever on the island of Sancian, off the coast of China, on December 1, 1552, almost within sight of the Promised Land. He was canonized together with St. Ignatius in 1622; in 1904 he was made patron of the Society for the Propagation of the Faith.

It is significant that the saint should have sought for souls within the present possessions of the United States, and that he should have anticipated by 400 years present missionary efforts to christianize the Orient and destroy the eastern paganism, which again looms large and menacing in world affairs.

THE IMMACULATE CONCEPTION—DECEMBER 8

The eighth day of December is signalized by the commemoration of one of the most glorious triumphs of redemption—the Immaculate Conception of the Blessed Virgin Mary. To Catholics the world over the festival is a source of joy and inspiration, but to none should it mean more than to the faithful living in this country. For by a decree of the First Council of Baltimore confirmed by the Holy See the Church in the United States was placed under the special patronage of Mary Immaculate. This, then, is our patronal feast day and for that reason has a particular claim upon our devotion.

Few points of Catholic doctrine have been as persistently misrepresented as the dogma of the Immaculate Conception. The calumny has been widely and industriously propagated that we ignore our duties to the Creator of all things and transfer to the Blessed Virgin the honor and prerogatives that belong to God alone. Nothing of course is farther from the truth. We do indeed honor the Blessed Virgin. But we do not pay divine worship to her. That is in the very nature of things, reserved entirely for the Lord and Master of the Universe. To bestow it elsewhere is to be guilty of idolatry—one of the grossest and most irrational of all sins.

Now, as always, the Church holds that the Blessed Virgin is only a creature, born of human parents in a perfectly human way, and possessed of a human nature like unto our own. She is as far removed from being a divine person as the finite is from the infinite. But, while only a creature, she is the noblest, the fairest, the purest, the most perfect of all mere creatures that ever came from the hands of God. Accordingly we render to her the highest veneration that may be paid to any mere creature. Indeed why should we hesitate to honor her whom God Himself has so conspicuously honored.

The Immaculate Conception means that the Blessed Virgin from the very first moment of her existence was preserved free from every stain of original sin. This unique privilege was granted her not because of her own merits but rather through the anticipated merits of the Saviour and by reason of the fact that she was chosen to be the Mother of God. She was not merely presanctified before birth as was St. John the Baptist. Never for a single instant was she under the sway of original sin. From the very first moment of her conception, she was adorned with sanctifying grace, and, therefore, was entirely free from the blemish inherited from our first parents. Like all the daughters of Eve, Mary also needed Redemption. And, as already stated, it was only in view of the merits of her Divine Son that she enjoyed the extraordinary privilege of sinlessness.

The dignity that was to be hers as Mother of God called for this special favor. Her office was the most sublime that could be granted to any human being. Was it not altogether seemly and natural that the Almighty should enrich her with every possible spiritual perfection? Is it reasonable to suppose that He would deny her that gift which is the most precious in His sight—the gift of untarnished innocence? This is hardly conceivable. A sense of the fitness of things leads us to conclude that He would choose a mother as holy as pure, as worthy of Himself as possible.

If only for one instant she were infected with the stain of sin, she had been at that instant the object of God's just indignation—a thought repugnant to the exalted dignity of her who was destined to be the mother of the infinitely holy God. Little wonder that St. Augustine exclaims: "Out of reverence, and for the honor that is due her Son, I will have no question put concerning her, when we speak of sin."

The Immaculate Conception, moreover, testifies to the completeness of Christ's triumph over the powers of darkness. It was fitting that the perfection of our Redemption be clearly evidenced. It was no less fitting that the consummate victory over sin be exemplified in the person of the Blessed Virgin who was co-redemptrix with our Lord in the great work of salvation. Mary in her Immaculate Conception is veritably the masterpiece of Christ's redeeming sacrifice.

THE NATIVITY—DECEMBER 25

For a Child is born to us and a Son is given to us . . . the Prince of Peace.—Isaias Ch. IX, V. 6.

Behold I bring you tidings of great joy! This day is born to you a Saviour. This morning on the manger of the altar the Babe of Bethlehem was born anew. This morning He comes to the caves of our hearts in Holy Communion. Will He find them cold and indifferent and unfriendly as He did the inn-keeper at Bethlehem? Or will He find them pondering with Mary the great things that have come to pass? For today is Christmas Day, the anniversary of the birth of Christ, when Incarnate God, robed in humble swaddling clothes and enthroned on a manger, came to redeem the world. "But He came unto His Own and His Own received Him not."

Christmas Day. What a time for quiet thought and holy contemplation. We recall the journey of Joseph and Mary to Bethlehem, the refusal of the people of Bethlehem to grant them shelter because they were poor. And no doubt in the nobility of our hearts we have often wished that we had lived in Bethlehem and Joseph came knocking at our door. How willingly we would have received him. How honored we should have felt that the Mother of God should deign to visit us. How awed and reverent we we have been as we knelt before our new-born Saviour, so humble as to dwell with us. But are all these yearnings vain dreams? No, Indeed. For by the light of faith we know that the Babe of Bethlehem still dwells on our altars often, indeed, as lonely and neglected as in His cave of long ago. Behold the Babe of Bethlehem stands at the door of our hearts today and knocks. Will we welcome Him? To everyone of us He will come this morning in the Holy Eucharist. That will be His Christmas present to us. He will give us Himself, because that is the best gift He can bestow upon us. If there were any more precious gift it would be ours, for our Infant Christ will not be outdone in generosity.

Now what are we going to give our new-born King in return? What will be our Christmas present for our lonely Lover? First of all, we can give Him our love, child-like, simple and sincere. For He has told us that unless we become as little children we cannot enter into the Kingdom of Heaven. And surely we should not find it hard to tell our love to the smiling Babe in Mary's arms. But we can do more. A gift does not mean much unless it is stamped with sacrifice. All of us can make some little sacrifice for our Incarnate God, Who so sacrificed Himself that He gave His last drop of Blood for us ungrateful sinners. Is there some little cross which we find hard to bear? Tell our Infant King that we will carry it from now on more willingly because such resignation will be more pleasing to Him. Does some great sorrow cloud our lives? We will look up today at the Eternal Son, made Man for us, and promise to bear our sorrow out of love for Him. For what is sweeter than sorrow when sorrow is love? But no matter what sacrifice Mary's Babe asks of us today we will give it to Him as our Christmas present to comfort His lonely Heart.

And He will not be outdone by us. The Prince of Peace has come with us to dwell, to be the Companion of our Way, to bring peace on earth to men of good will. Surely then today He will whisper sweet secrets to our hearts; surely if we are generous with Him He will give to us a joy which no man can take from us.

CHRISTMAS—DECEMBER 25

And now that the angels are gone we can hasten with the shepherds to Bethlehem to see the word that is come to pass. Mary is on her knees in an ecstasy of wonder and admiration. Joseph, our man of faith, reverently stands by, conscious of his responsibility as guardian of these two precious treasures. We can avail ourselves of the invitation accorded the three shepherds and steal in at their side to feast with delight on the sublime spectacle. The Messiah Christ is central figure in the scene, Mary and Joseph are the new-born's next of kin, the shepherds and we are favored servants admitted to audience denied the rest of the world. St. Bonaventura would have us first adore the Child Christ, salute Mary and Joseph, and then busy ourselves setting their rude belongings in order. Mary's face is radiant with mother-joy. If other mothers rejoice when a new son is born into the world, what must have been Mary's gladness on this occasion? Other mothers are checked in their exultation by ugly shadows of a possible hideous future. This man may live only to sadden his mother's heart, and drag her gray hairs down to the grave of disgrace. The coming years may be scattered thick with hours of fevered sickness, and the heat that maddens a boy's brain tears the mother's heart with agony. She may be disappointed in her fondest hopes. The story of Monica is fresh in her memory, and she is haunted by the fear that her Augustine's manhood and age may be of a kind with his youth. But Mary was halted in her transports by no such unlovely images. All the miracles surrounding her Child's conception and birth proclaimed Him God. Tasting them by anticipation, she could experience sweetness in the sorrows ahead, because they ministered to men's woes and purchased redemption for earth.

Joseph's silence is eloquent. It is a persuasive sermon on the loveliness of faith. Scripture writes the epitaph of this illustrious saint in one sentence, "He was a just man," and in God's own appreciation justice is everything. It is holiness crystallized; it is in God's dictionary the one word that says every other word. In the poor language at our disposal we call justice that habitual phase of mind and heart eternally ready to render to everyone his due. It comprehends within its wide scope every conceivable virtue; it excludes every conceivable sin. It is a disposition from which no virtue is absent, in which no vice or sin has part. We have duties towards God, towards self and the neighbor; and the discharge of these duties constitutes justice or sanctity. And, first of all, I notice that in his dealings with God St. Joseph is a man of sublime faith. His faith was of no common order. It was of the kind that moves mountains and draws angels down from heaven. It was a faith well tried in the fires of tribulation, welded round and strong by all the crushing weight of heavy misfortune. It saw God's Providence in the cold and poverty of Bethlehem's stable, and was content. It adored God's wisdom in the flight into Egypt, and was silent. It wondered, no doubt, at an omnipotent God in full retreat from a weak enemy; it experienced a shock at the apparently senseless haste enjoined by the angel; it was puzzled at the years seemingly wasted in the abscurity of a strange land by the Messiah of Israel; but it never for an instant wavered, it never raised a dissenting or complaining voice; it went down to Egypt, not knowing how or why, but cheerful with that trust never yet disappointed. And this faith is the crying need of our lives. With this one lesson learned, we could close the book and dream of Heaven till burial. Could we once make as complete and honest a surrender of ourselves to faith as St. Joseph's, we could straightway count eternal blessedness our own, and our hope should never be shaken. This spirit of faith is the secret of sanctity. "My just man liveth of faith," is the formula adopted by St. Paul. Faith is incompatible with sin. Where faith is what it ought to be, virtue is the one logical line of conduct. The trouble is that we are dishonest with ourselves or terribly inconsistent. We profess loyalty to faith, without realizing that we are disloyal to it every hour of the day. Take these few instances. It is of faith, and we sincerely believe that a single venial sin is a worse evil than disease, or death, or a world's collapse. And yet we complacently go on from early morning till late at night multiplying our venial sins. It is of faith, and we sincerely believe that our merit here is the measure of our future glory in Heaven; and yet we go on year after year totally indifferent to the number of good works we perform, and intent only on avoiding mortal sin. Were we wide awake to the whispers of faith, thoroughly possessed of its instincts, we should begin to be saints tomorrow. We fail, and we fail lamentably to realize in practical every-day life the faith we profess, and as a consequence we pitch our endeavors no higher than bare escape from hell, when we ought to be planning for higher and higher seats in Heaven.

Catholic Christmas Joy

The natural, spontaneous language of Catholics during the Christmas season is that of song which, as psychologists tell us, is the natural expression of joy. When it is abundant and full, joy cannot be silent but seeks to overflow and express its jubilation. Little wonder, then, that we Catholics sing at Christmastide; for the predominant note of the time is deep and abundant joy. Who of us has not felt his heart throb and his blood tingle with the happines of Christmas morning? So great is this exhilaration, so genuine, so effusive, that for this one day at least, we follow in the footsteps of our Saviour and go about, like bountiful kings, doing good.

Such is the spirit of our Holy Mother the Church. As Advent draws to a close and the Spouse of Christ looks forward to the day of the arrival of her Beloved, in very joy she lays aside the purple and solemnity of preparation, for the rose vestments and the happy vibrant psalms of Gaudete Sunday: "Rejoice in the Lord always; again, I say, rejoice." On the Saturday before Christmas she chants the Benedictus of Daniel and on the last Sunday of Advent her joy rings out in the "Alleluia, Alleluia" of the Graduale of the Mass. Finally, on the Vigil of Christmas her voice rises in jubilant expectation: "Lift up your gates, O ye princes, and be ye lifted up, O eternal gates: and the King of Glory shall enter in."

And then—Christmas Day! Late in the night the Spouse of Christ hears the welcome voice of her Beloved; she hears Him knocking at the door of Time and asking to dwell among us: "Open to me, my sister, my love, my dove, my undefiled: for my head is full of dew, and my locks of the drops of the night." Before the Morning Star has faded from the sky, she summons her children and sings her joyful acclamation to her Betrothed in the first Mass of Christmas morning. One Mass of welcome is not sufficient; a second and a third follow And then in the joy of her heart she opens wide the treasury of her liturgy; she sets forth the most costly candlesticks and purest tapers; she pours out her choicest music and inspiring canticles; she robes her priests in richest vestments, and to all she adds her own sweet voice of joyful prayer to welcome the long awaited Bridegroom.

And what type of joy have we, her children? Certainly we have cause for deeper and more lasting joy than that of mere "feeling"— a fleeting physical reaction to the exhilaration of the festival season which disappears the morning after New Year's Day. Our joy should be spiritual and based on rational motives. We should be happy to realize that God chose to dwell among us and to save us from sin and damnation. Let our happiness be such, and we will find that it will not only permeate our spirit on Christmas Day, but will remain to warm and gladden our hearts throughout the year; that it will take effect in words and deeds of zeal and kindness toward the strayed sheep of our Saviour's flock; that it will not only be joy of holidays but deep interior happiness flooding an entire year sanctified in the service of our heavenly Master.

A Christmas Suggestion

Decorations of green and red in our city stores, tinsel and toys in windows, pictures of Old Santa and holly in our magazines and newspapers are signs that Christmas is again here. A spirit of gladness comes over us all. In our glad charity we think of father and mother, sisters and brothers, relatives and friends. We spend hours, pleasant hours, in planning a surprise for others. We dream about it in our pleasant moments and we ask others about it, for to us this is not a trifling matter. This surprise, this Christmas gift, must be the best ever: so we say. Surely it will be, for God will bless such thoughtfulness and such sincere and simple charity.

Merry Christmas! Happy Christmas! This is the tone and sentiment of our greetings which are indeed sincere and from a warm heart. Thus we send cards of greetings and we enclose such expressions of our sentiments with gifts to friends, and in the generosity of our American way of keeping Christmas. But do we not forget One of our friends, a friend that should really be very close to us at Christmas? That Friend is Christ, Whose Name spells the greatest part of Christmas. Take Christ out of Christmas, and very little remains.

The first Christmas was kept with Christ, very, very close to Christ. Mary and Joseph kept Christmas close to the Christ Child, the shepherds kept Christmas with Christ, Christmas angels kept their Christmas with Christ, and the Magi kept their Christmas with Christ. But where did these happy souls find their Christ? In the poverty of the cattle-shed. That first Christmas, a thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven years ago, was kept in an abandoned stable, in poverty and in sacrifice. Look at that stable, its thatched roof, its moss-covered walls; dark, cold, lonely, abandoned. The spirit of that first and great Christmas was one of sacrifice. The Second Person of the Blessed Trinity becomes man, "and the Word was made Flesh and dwelt amongst us;" Mary and Joseph were poor and no room could be found in the inn for these folk; the shepherds were poor, earning their livelihood by watching their flocks at night; the Magi suffered severe hardships of a journey, left wealth, and comfort and perhaps honor and a good name to follow the mysterious star. And why all this sacrifice? To keep Christmas with Christ.

The spirit of sacrifice has identified itself with keeping Christmas. The two cannot be separated. It is sacrifice that is the key to a Merry Christmas. If Christmas is ushered into our lives accompanied by this spirit of sacrifice, this Christmas will be a Merry Christmas indeed. Such a spirit and such a noble disposition of heart may manifest itself in greater generosity to the poor, to the sick in our hospitals, to the orphan asylums and to the missions. These are excellent, and surely pleasing to God, but our generosity can also take another form. How close should we not be to Christ in the Crib; how much like that first Christmas should not this one be for us, and how happy and merry our Christmas, if together with such acts of generosity we added just this one? It is a personal one, a sacrifice that will affect us individually and very intimately. It is this: Even at great personal inconvenience to make a NOVENA of HOLY COMMUNIONS before the beautiful feast, before the FEAST OF CHRISTMAS!

Christmas is a time when no sacrifice is too much and too great. But you say, "I have never done that in my life, I am not used to frequent Holy Communion, I could not do that. Anything else; but not that." Well, my dear friend, then try it now, just try to make the novena, begin it at least, and with God's grace you will see how easy it is and you will have the best Christmas of your life! Just try it! Begin the novena, and we shall see! Far from discouraging us and deterring us from the kindly charity we have had in past years, a novena like this will be a new incentive and a healthy stimulant to even greater devotion and charity towards others.

Give a Christmas Offering to Christ's Poor

So many of us need help ourselves that the appeal to help others may seem out of place. But it is the poor who always help the poor. Only those who have been hungry know what it is to go hungry. It is true that some of our well-to-do people are generous to the needy, and give a good response to an appeal for charity. But it is the small offerings of people that maintain our charities, for the most part. We are hard pressed now. The present unemployment situation all around us makes it more imperative for us to do what we can.

What you give, give as to Christ, Who will reward you. Almsgiving is not only a charity but when done in the Catholic spirit is an act of religion. It is one of the ways of doing penance for our sins. By doing without something in religion's name in order to help the needy poor we are denying ourselves for Christ's sake, which is an act of virtue that will stand out to our credit for eternity.

As you enter Church you will find a box marked: Help the Poor. Please contribute something to this noble work. Love is proved by sacrifice, even the smallest. Remember, God will not be outdone in generosity.

If you can assist further in this work, the St. Vincent dePaul Society will tell you where you may find a needy family or they will be only too happy to use your donation to bring the joy of the Feast day to someone in need.

There is no happiness that is as great as the happiness that comes from sacrifices and there is no sacrifice that brings such joy to your heart as the sacrifice made in the name of the Babe of Bethlehem.

The Mass in "Christmas"

I sometimes wonder what passes through the mind of the average Protestant when he sees the word Christmas, or when his family remind him (not perhaps disinterestedly) that Christmas will soon be here, or when he sees the store windows being freshly loaded with what are described as "Xmas Gifts."

Perhaps the general use of the word "Xmas" supplies the answer, the X representing the unknown quantity. I think the average American Protestant has but the haziest idea of the significance of the feast, and no idea at all as to the meaning of the word used to indicate it.

Certain customs cluster around recurring holidays and there is always a danger that the customs will cling and their origin be forgotten. Thanksgiving has become a home day. The percentage of Americans who actually dedicate the day to a raising up of the mind in thanksgiving for the year's graces is possibly very small.

It is very important that a Christian nation should keep in mind the meaning of Christmas, more especially when that feast is the only Christian feast which occurs in that nation's calendar.

Commercializing Christmas

Unfortunately, Christmas has been very largely captured by commerce, which, having no soul, has turned the feast into a commercial opportunity, just as it popularized "Mother's Day" as a commercial opportunity. And on the whole, I think there is more sentiment and feeling behind Mother's Day in Protestant America than there is behind the celebration of Christmas, because Mother's Day is something that a non-religious mind can understand, whereas Christmas Day calls for an act of faith which many Protestants are unable to make.

Just as an excuse for a holiday, many Protestants regard Christmas. My Jewish friends send me Christmas cards nowadays, though I never care to hurt their feelings by returning the compliment. It is true, there is no Christian sentiment on the card, but there is hardly ever any Christian sentiment on the modern Christmas card—which is additional evidence of the decay of the real Christmas spirit.

To Protestants the word Christmas must be nearly meaningless.

If you were to try the interesting experiment of asking a few non-Catholics the meaning of the word Christmas you might expect some curious answers. The two syllables are pronounced differently when they are placed together; they are glossed over, just as the feast itself is largely glossed over.

Analyzing the Word

It must be a little embarrassing to the Protestant to analyze the word, because it brings him up against the great fact of the Mass, which his teachers may have taught him to regard as a superstitious practice.

At odd times there have been attempts to take the Mass out of Christmas. There was the famous occasion in the British House of Commons, when a Thomas Massey argued that the word had too Popish a flavor. Let it be called Christtide, he said. His eloquence won his proposal a certain amount of support, but at the end of his pleading one of those old Irish national stalwarts rose and suggested humorously that as a beginning Thomas Massey might alter his own name to Thotide Tidey.

Though the centuries-old name persists, there is very little evidence outside the Catholic Church of the observance of Christmas as the feast of Christ, much less as the Mass of Christ.

The day is preceded by an orgy of shopping. There is feasting and fun, often in hotels nowadays. But no sort of reference to the enormous historical event, which changed the face of the earth and which occasioned these perverted celebrations.

Paganism in United States

Catholics in the United States live in the midst of this spirit of religious indifference and forgetfulness in the minority of about one to five. They are few enough to be carried away by the pagan tide. But they are large enough to react against it.

It is part of the pagan plot to leave the Mass out of Christmas and it should be part of the Catholic counterpart to keep it in.

The strange and pathetic thing about the modern forgetfulness of the significance of Christmas is the fact that so many old and symbolic forms have been preserved while their meanings have been forgotten.

Babbitt will tell you, "Christmas is the Kiddies' Day." Thanksgiving is as much a home day in America as is Christmas. But it is at Christmas that the children hold the reins of the world and have us all at their mercy. Dickens got close to the heart of it. "It is good to be children sometimes," he says in "A Christmas Carol," "and never better than at Christmas, when its mighty Founder was a Child Himself."

The custom of making presents was inspired by the gifts of the Wise Men. In some places it is still the custom for children to take toys and lay them at the feet of the Infant Jesus in the Crib. They are given to the poorer children, who have no toys to bring.

No Room

No room in the inn! Yes, that was the excuse. The Gospel does not say or imply that it was but a poor excuse. No, we may take it that it was almost if not absolutely literally true. Every place was full and overflowing —such crowds! It was a day of ages in this quiet little spot. Yet we cannot help thinking that if Joseph had been a richer man, had been able to offer something worth while, those innkeepers of Bethlehem, would have found a means to make room? If they had only known!

We sometimes delight to think how we should have acted had we had the good fortune to possess a house and a home that evening in Bethlehem. There is certainly nothing amiss in such reflections and He knows how to reward our genuine desires even though fulfillment be impossible. But it is surely more practical and more profitable to remember rather that which is quite well within our reach. Would we visit Him like the Shepherds, offer Him gifts as the Magi, take Him in our arms as Holy Simeon, minister unto Him like Martha or the holy women of Galilee? Would we give Him to drink like the Samaritan or carry His cross like Simeon the Cyrenian, or wipe His bleeding face, or clothe Him with rich linen, or anoint Him with precious ointments? It cannot be. But there is His representative, His chosen one. "As often as you did it to the least of these My little ones, you did it to Me." Do we owe Him anything for all He has done for us—for Bethlehem, for Nazareth, for Galilee, for Calvary? Repay it to His accredited representative, His poor—you did it unto Me. In this sense, this very real sense, the Stable, the Manger, Nazareth and Calvary are with us still and with us every day. In this sense, this very tangible and practical sense, you can "make room" for the Christ Child in a cold and indifferent world this very Christmas time. Will you gladly answer the appeal, in spite of good excuses to take no notice? Will you "make time" when you could have said "no time"? When you could well have pleaded "no room," will you gladly open your doors and "make room"? "You did it unto Me."

The Dying Year

The Hands of Time move swiftly on; an Old Year soon will die,
But ere we welcome in the New, let's bid the Old good-bye;
It had its faults, its blessings too; it saw our joy and strife,
It gave us God's most cherished gift—another year of life;
A year to work for God and Home—to plan, to build, to play,
To give some brother courage new because we passed his way;
And now, Old Year, you're passing on, as we shall some day do,
In memory through the years we'll keep a kindly thought for you;

We saw you in your Springtime dress, with budding trees and flowers,
We heard the happy song of birds in Maytime's lovely hours;
Your heat and sunshine, warming earth, lands forthwith gave their treasures,
In leisure, when our tasks were done, you furnished Summer's pleasures;
Then Autumn, with its magic touch, brought to us beauties new,
When God, the Artist, painted earth as only He can do;
In Winter's frost and snow we said: "The Year is growing old;"
We watched your days grow shorter then, your warm sun turn to cold;

Some time a New Year's Day shall dawn, for us 'twill be the last,
Before the year has run its course, our work here shall be past;
For Mother Earth will claim again the dust from which we're made,
When silently upon each brow the hand of death is laid;
But death need hold for us no fears; it means just going Home,
Life and its hardships then all past, God waiting for His Own;
We bid good-bye to you, Old Year, as to a friend grown dear,
We know you wish us fervently: "A Happy, Holy Year."

WILLIAM F. SHERIDAN.

To date, we have received in our block Collection $5411.17. This is a slight increase over last year's collection. In my own name and in the name of the Fathers who made the Parish Visitation, I sincerely thank all our good people for their very generous co-operation. Every courtesy was shown to the Fathers when they visited the homes in our Parish, and the evidence of good will so often manifested is a source of no small consolation to our Fathers.

May this family spirit grow from day to day for the upbuilding of our Parish, both spiritual and material.

To Our Parishioners:

We cannot urge too strongly the necessity of patronizing the advertisers in the Gesu Parish Monthly Calendar, and of returning the same generous support they are giving to us. In other words, buy your goods from the firms that are using our pages to address you, and thus helping us.

These advertisers with us are live, energetic business men, thoroughly responsible, and know what it means to have their names placed prominently before this parish.

REV. THOMAS J. HIGGINS, S. J., Rector.
